

Marx to Mao
Were Worst-Enemies of Exploited and Oppressed
People of the World

By

Dr. B. K. Wasnik (Ph.D)

<https://www.bahujanmarch.org>

ANTI-COPYRIGHT

This Research e-book can be freely copied, printed and sold without any profit intention for Education of the Exploited and Oppressed masses.

(September 2018)

Preface

The basic source books for this Research-book are following books :- 1. Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri lina, 2. The Architects of Deception by Juri lina, 3. Mullins' New History of the Jews by Eustace Mullins 4. All Wars Are Bankers' Wars! by Michael Rivero, 5. Michael Bakunin Selected Writings, , Edited and Introduced by Arthur Lehning.

Apart from above books important information is collected from many other books, documents and web pages available on internet. On communist take-over of China following web pages are important :-

1) <http://www.theeuropeangreens.eu/> Are China, Russia and the rest of the world dismantling the Jewish allergy within their nations, or is this another game of Divide and Conquer - THE EUROPEAN GREENS (Eng).htm

2) <https://www.thenewamerican.com/> China Betrayed Into Communism.htm China Betrayed Into Communism Written by James Perloff

It is recommended that one should go through above mentioned books and web pages for information in detail. Books are available on internet in PDF format.

The present Copyright-free Research-book attempts to present a complete picture of world exploitation system in a compact form, as emerged logically from the information obtained from the above sources. This book being copyright-free, you can copy, distribute or (without altering and without any profit intention) print and sell this Research-book for a wider circulation on nominal price.

Dr. B. K. Wasnik (Ph.D.)

Address :- 14, Thaware Colony (old),

Nagpur - 440014 (India)

Website : <https://www.bahujanmarch.org>

Contents

- 1. Basis of Exploitation ..... 05
Psychological Basis of Exploitation System (05), Usury the Socio-political Basis of Exploitation System (5)
- 2. How Jews became Rulers of the World ..... 07
Jews Consider themselves Chosen by god to Rule the World (7), The Jews were Successful Because of their Organization (7), Survival Techniques of the Jews (9), Jews are considered Bandits and Parasites (10), Rulers of the Gentile states Protected Jews (11), Expulsion of Jews (11), Why Jews managed to come back to the countries they were expelled from ? (13), Jews invited invaders to conquer the host Nations (14)
- 3. How Jewish Bankers became real World Rulers ..... 16
Beginning of Paper Currency (fiat Currency) (17), System of Fractional Reserve Banking (17), Control over Economy (17), Formation of Bank of England (18), Central Banks Bankrupt People (19), The Rothschilds (20), Formation of Private Banks of America (21), The American Civil War (22), Jews do not like disobedience (24), The Federal Reserve of America (24), America is Colony of Jews (26), Private Central Banking creates world wars (26), Through Ist World War Bankers Enslave Germany (26), Rise of Adolf Hitler and Second World War (27)
- 4. Marx and Engels ..... 28
Marx-Engels Belonged to Wealthy families (28), Teachers of Karl Marx (29), Character of Marx and Engels (31), Marx-Engels were less known entities (34), Marx-Engels were shameless plagiarists (36), Marx-Engel's Contradictory Behavior (37), Marx was a Satanist (39)
- 5. The Marxism ..... 40
Theory of Marx in a nutshell (40), Primitive Communism (41), The State (43), Origin of State (43), Function of the State (44), Liberal Democratic States (45), Is Marxist State Different ? (46), Alternative of the State (48), Historical Materialism of Marx (50), Theory of Historical Materialism is Counter-Revolutionary (51), The Family (53), Class, and Class-Characteristics (54), Theory of Surplus Value (55), Internationalism (55), The Proletariat Class and Revolution (56)
- 6. Marx Engels were agents of Jewish Bankers ! ..... 57
Marx Worked as a Spy (57), Marx was an Agent of Bankers (58), Marx's mission was to Misguide and disrupt Labor Movement (59), Rothschilds and Marx both hated Russia (60), Marx sabotaged Labor movements (60), 1st May was not "Workers Martyr Day" (63), Marxism was Hyped by Bankerto establish Talmudic world order ! (63)

7. Communist Revolution in Russia .....	64
Revolution In 1905 (64), Revolution in 1917 (65), Bankers and Bolsheviks got Immense Wealth by Enslaving Russia (67), Jewish bureaucracy lived in luxury (69), People defeat Bolsheviks in Elections (71), Bankers Saved Communist Rule in Russia (72), Blockade and so called Intervention by West (72), Allied Forces helped Bolsheviks (72), The Holodomor (75), Communist Russia a Terrorist State (76), Slave Labor System in Communist Russia (77), Foreigners were also made Slave-Laborers (77), Mass Killings in Communist Russia (78), The New Economic Policy (NEP) (79), Fake-Show before foreign Delegates (80), Human Rights meant only Jewish Rights (81)
8. Shaping the Global Government .....	82
Formation of BIS, WB and IMF (82), Dollar as International Currency (83), Formation of United Nations (83), America Becomes a Jewish Colony ? (84)
9. Communist Revolution in China .....	85
Jewish Population in China (85), Wide Jewish Social Network in China (87), Jewish Opium Business Network in China (88), Jewish Business Empire in China (88), Criminal Mafia in China (90), Brief History of Foreign Banks in China (91), Formation of Communist Party in China (92), Kuomintang the Chinese Nationalist Party (93), Mao Zedong (Mao Tse Tung) - (94), Pro-Communist Lobby in US Government (95), Stalin's Policy against Nationalists of China (96), Covert American Support for Communist Takeover (97), Handlers of Chinese Communist Government (100), Brutal Repression (101), The Great Leap Forward (102), The Result of Great Leap (104), Hundred Flower Campaign (104), Cultural Revolution (105)
10. Jewish New World Order .....	107
Kennedy was Killed Like Abraham Lincoln (107), Real Meaning of Globalization (108), The Dollar Crisis (109), Petrodollar (109), The European Union (110), Clash of Civilization : World War III Agenda (111), Formation of BRICS (112), China as an Agent of Jewish New World Order (112)
11. Communist Parties of India and of Other Countries .....	115
12. Is There Any Escape ? .....	119
Organizations for Social Justice (119)
13. References .....	121- 124

Chapter I

Basis of Exploitation

Psychological Basis of Exploitation System

The psychological foundation of every exploitation system is Zionism and Brahmanism. Zionism and Brahminism is an ideology that believes in divine right of privileged section to rule over the toiling masses and exploit and oppress the toiling masses in the manner they like.

Anybody who believes in this ideology is a Zionist-Brahminist irrespective of his community, caste or race. One who works for promoting the cause of Zionism-Brahminism for the sake of some material gain is an agent of Zionism-Brahminism and one who is compelled to do this is a slave of Zionism-Brahminism. Satanism is based on Zionism and Brahminism.

Zionism-Brahminism and Satanism are names of the same phenomena developed out of man's laziness, greed, jealousy and envy and hate.

According to Zionism-Brahminism-Satanism(ZBS) the strongest has right to rule, enslave and even destroy the weak. ZBS approves laziness, greed, jealousy and enmity and preaches betrayal, treachery, falsehood, every means to become powerful. This is what they call the law of nature. Believers in ZBS boasts that they are helping the process of natural selection by eliminating weak and thus creating a society of stronger and smart people. Therefore ZBS is psychological foundation of every form of exploitation system.

If you throw one ruler or a particular form of government several thousand times, every time lazy and selfish persons full of greed, jealousy, envy and hate replace the earlier. Therefore, unless the falsehood of ZBS, laziness, greed, jealousy, envy and hate is not fully realized, and universal morality based on social justice is developed, there is no escape from the exploitation system.

Usury the Socio-political Basis of Exploitation System

Following story explains how a system based on usury or interest creates an exploitation system :-

On a remote island natives used to exchange their goods with each other. Since agriculture produce was seasonal the farmer may not have his produce ready to be exchanged with other's produce at the time of barter. Same was the case with many others. They were desperate to find a solution.

One day a boat arrived to their island with a huge box. He told dwellers that he has plastic coins which represent gold in the box. They can easily buy goods from each other with the help of his plastic coins. He offered each of them to loan certain number of plastic coins on interest. The residents mortgaged their property for the coins they received.

After some months the residents observed that after payment of each loan installments they are having shortage of coins. There were only two ways to have more coins such as :-1. Get additional loan from the coin lender. 2. By unfair trade practices extract more coins from other natives.

They opted the first alternative.

The debt is always greater than the loan received. Even if all of them pay all their coins to the usurer they will not be able to get rid off their loan. Therefore, after few more months their condition become more miserable.

The usurer had a foresight. Fearing violent revolt, he appointed strongly built and easy to be corrupted residents as his militants. With their help the usurer became a despot of the island and soon brought the residents into his debt-slavery. The best kept secret of the usurer was that the box did not contain any gold but household things.

Because of interest, living standard deteriorates. Consequently hike in prices and salary becomes inevitable. To meet the price and salary hike more currency is printed by the governments leading to more price and salary hike. In this process poor become poorer and rich become richer.

Chapter II

How Jews became Rulers of the World

The real exploiters who give rise to an exploitation system are usurers and the bankers. The Jews who is a tiny minority is able to become world rulers through usury, banking and their internationally well connected organization. They use every measure to gain power.

Jews Consider themselves Chosen by God to Rule the World

According to their religious book Talmud non-Jews are not human and rank below the animals. God has sent gentiles (non-Jews) in human form to serve the Jews. Therefore, gentiles have no human rights and have no right to possess property. Therefore, Talmud justifies grabbing property of a gentile by the Jews applying any measure. Because gentiles are considered below animals, Jews despise laws, religion and social traditions of non-Jews. Jews have immense inbuilt hate for gentile as a result of teachings of Talmud. Genocide of gentiles by Jews has religious permission. Therefore, genocides of non-Jews were committed by Jews throughout the world history.

Jews mock the Virgin Mary as a prostitute or to spit as they walk by crosses. Whether a Zionist or an "anti-Zionist" all ultimately want the Jewish destruction of Palestine. All Judaic trends believe that the Jews are chosen by God and hence they have "right" to dominate and treat with cruelty their non-Jewish neighbors. This is the fundamental basis of Judaism. Judaism seldom accepts converts and prohibits Jews from inter religious marriages.

For purposes of collective security and to conceal their evil customs such as ritual murder and blood drinking, from the gentiles, the Jews pack themselves into residential areas called ghettos. Jews themselves insist on living in such separate area.

The Jews were Successful Because of their Organization

The Jews elites maintained an iron discipline over their own people. Throughout history, the Jews have ruled themselves as a separate community, no matter under what form of government they found themselves.

The Sanhedrin is the assembly of the representatives of Jews. The institution dates from the most ancient times. At the time of Christ, the Kahal had become "The center of Jewish life". In spite of dispersion of Jews the Kahal did not lose either its authority or influence. The Kahal is the regulator of Jewish life. Its role is to take up the defense of the community. Kahal has following tools to control Jewish community.

1. The Beth-din is the Talmudic court of justice, which exists in every Jewish community under the high protection of the Kahal. Their Manual of Discipline forbids them to recognize the courts of the gentile "beasts". Under the jurisdiction of Kahal are placed all transgressions and litigations arising between private Jews, or between such and the Kahal. It pretends to be simply a court of amicable arbitration, and is tolerated, but not officially recognized, by the respective governments.

2. The Kherem, or great excommunication, is the last resort and most terrible weapon which the Kahal and Beth-din always keep in reserve to quell incipient rebellion or to punish actual disobedience. After cursing the person, the kahal continues: "Therefore, we have laid the kherem on him. Proclaim publicly that his bread is the bread of a Gentile; that his wine is the wine of idolatry; that his vegetables are impure .... Ye shall not eat with him, nor drink with him; ye shall not perform the rite of circumcision on his son, and ye shall not teach his children, nor bury his dead, nor receive him into any corporations; and in every respect ye shall treat him as a Gentile."

Jews are forbidden to go to law before a Gentile court of justice, or Gentile institution of any sort. He who violates this prohibition is a villain. Such an act is considered equal to blasphemy and rebellion against the entire Mosaic law. The offender of course incurs the kherem (excommunication). It is lawful to proclaim in the synagogue that the rebel has eaten impure food or infringed a fast, etc, to confirm the accusation by false testimony, and to have him punished as if he had done this thing.

When litigation is to be decided by the Beth-din, it is customary, in order to secure the submission of the parties to the suit, to make them both sign blank bills before the case is tried. Then, should the losing party be dissatisfied with the decision and refer the case to the government court, which is his right under the state laws, the Beth-din fills the blank at its pleasure, and directs the nominal holder to present this perfectly legal document for payment through the local authorities. This is one of the most common proceedings to punish disobedience or disrespect. If offenders return to the path of duty within a certain time, the claim is withdrawn.

Kahal also collects taxes from the Jews on animals and birds to be slaughtered for Kosher meat. Without paying Kahal they can not be slaughtered or such meat would be declared impure and Kherem would be invoked. Kahal with its power and wealth manages to use the local Gentile authorities as its tools.

The Kahal illegally by its social power sells high bidder Jew the rights to exploit any Gentile (non-Jew). For example, when Kahal sells house of a gentile to a Jew then no other Jews will dare to become competitors of this Jew in his attempts to acquire that Gentile's house by any fraudulent means. According to Kahal, there must not be more fishers (usurer Jews) than the lake (Village) can support, nor must it be fished out all at once. (Russian Jews and Gentiles FROM A RUSSIAN POINT OF VIEW By Mme Z Ragozin).

In 1869, seventy-three per cent of all the immovable property of the western provinces had passed into the hands of the Jews. In the western provinces of Russia, in Poland, Galicia, Romania; whole departments of France were found to be mortgaged to the Jews in 1806, although Jews formed only an insignificant minority in the empires.

The Jewish code is principally concerned with protecting wrongdoers from punishment and allowing them to continue their criminal pursuits. In order to carry out such a program, the rights of the individual must be destroyed. Consequently, the member of the Jewish community, like the member of the Mafia, has no personal rights or freedoms. He can only do as he is told by Kahal. Even on suspicion of betrayal he is killed at once. This is the only manner in which the parasitic community can avoid destruction. Jewish theocracy was the rule by the Elders of Zion, the iron dictatorship exercised by the Sanhedrin. As a result, the Jewish religion is the only one in the world which is famed for its secrecy. Its aims and purposes, as well as its traditions, are shrouded in mystery.

Survival Techniques of the Jews

In 1492, Chemor, chief Rabbi of Spain, wrote to the Grand Sanhedrin, which had its seat in Constantinople, for advice, when a Spanish law threatened expulsion. The advice of the Grand Satraps and Rabbis is the following :

1. As for what you say that the King of Spain 3 obliges you to become Christians: do it, since you cannot do otherwise.
2. As for what you say about the command to despoil you of your property: make your sons merchants so that they may despoil, little by little, the Christians of theirs.
3. As for what you say about making attempts on your lives: make your sons doctors and apothecaries, that they may take away Christians' lives.

4. As for what you say of their destroying your synagogues: make your sons canons and clerics in order that they may destroy their churches.

5. As for the many other vexations you complain of: arrange that your sons become advocates and lawyers, and see that they always mix in affairs of State, that by putting Christians under your yoke you may dominate the world and be avenged on them.

6. Do not swerve from this order that we give you, because you will find by experience that, humiliated as you are, you will reach the actuality of power. (Signed) PRINCE OF THE JEWS OF CONSTANTINOPLE. (L. Fry, Waters Flowing Eastward: The War Against the Kingship of Christ. TBR Books, Washington, D. C., (2000), pp. 51-52) Any Jew no matter he had changed his religion under pressure or diplomatically, had remained secretly a Jew under the strict discipline of Sanhedrin / Kahal.

The Jewish Bankers and Kahal are financially very strong, connected internationally with each other and work in unison.

Jews Were considered Bandits and Parasites

According to Eustace Mullins, in the first period of history of the Jews the Jews were nomadic bandits who harassed the early civilizations. They were known and feared as cutthroats wandering for their prey.

In the Old Testament, the Jews try to justify their homeless state by saying that God was displeased with them, and sent them out to wander because of their own wickedness. Thus it is blasphemy for the Jews to claim to be people chosen by god to rule non-Jews (Gentiles).

Civilizations sent military expeditions against bandit Jews, killing them and brought captured Jews to their city. The first thing Jews then did was to establish good relations with the rulers by luring them with women and bribe. They proposed to act as their agents in collecting tax from people, act as their spies and so on.

Their various underworld activities were trans borders. They were the fences for stolen goods in every city in the world. They were cruel and cunning money lenders. They deceived gentiles and captured their property. They corrupted the country with immoral and criminal practices and acquired important positions in the court. As they hated gentiles, they started oppressing the gentiles and were responsible for poverty and sufferings of gentile masses.

According to Eustace Mullins Jews were known as destroyers in the ancient world. They produced no art, founded no dynasties, built no great cities, had no talent for finer things of civilized life. Being parasite, they have compulsion to spread over the civilized world where they settle down and prosper at the expense of gentiles.

They also became physicians. During the Dark Ages, if a Jewish physician was called, he opened the gentile patient's veins and drew out a large quantity of blood, which he took back to the synagogue to be used by the rabbi in their black magic and rituals. In the year 833, the Mohammedans forbade the Jews to adopt the profession of medicine, and in 1335, the Holy Synod of Salamanca declared that Jews became physicians solely to kill Christians.

Rulers of the Gentile states Protected Jews

According to Eustace Mullins, the gentile ruler found the Jews useful to him in many ways. He used them for arranging loans, for spying in foreign countries, for making deals with other nations, and most important of all, for tax-collecting. Because of his avarice, his ruthlessness, and his lack of all human compassion, the Jew made the ideal tax-collector. The aristocrats and the Jews have always had the same purpose, to brutally oppress and exploit the working people. The alliance of Jews and aristocrats held Europe in bondage have been termed as the Dark Ages by historians.

In every case, it was not the ruler who protested against the Jewish oppressors; it was the working people. The people would be on the brink of revolution as the Jews oppressed them and murdered their children, and finally the ruler would have reluctantly to agree to Jewish expulsion.

Expulsion of Jews

Jews were excommunicated from following 109 locations since AD 250. :- 250 Carthage, 415 Alexandria, 554 Diocèse of Clermont (France), 561 Diocèse of Uzès (France), 612 Visigoth Spain, 642 Visigoth Empire, 855 Italy, 876 Sens, 1012 Mainz, 1182 France, 1182 Germany, 1276 Upper Bavaria, 1290 England, 1306 France, 1322 France (again), 1348 Switzerland, 1349 Hielbronn (Germany), 1349 Saxony, 1349 Hungary, 1360 Hungary, 1370 Belgium,

1380 Slovakia, 1388 Strasbourg, 1394 Germany, 1394 France, 1420 Lyons, 1421 Austria, 1424 Fribourg, 1424 Zurich, 1424 Cologne, 1432 Savoy, 1438 Mainz, 1439 Augsburg, 1442 Netherlands, 1444 Netherlands, 1446 Bavaria, 1453 France, 1453 Breslau, 1454 Wurzburg, 1462 Mainz, 1483 Mainz, 1484 Warsaw, 1485 Vincenza (Italy), 1492 Spain, 1492 Italy, 1495 Lithuania, 1496 Naples, 1496 Portugal, 1498 Nuremberg, 1498 Navarre, 1510 Brandenburg, 1510 Prussia, 1514 Strasbourg, 1515 Genoa, 1519 Regensburg, 1533 Naples, 1541 Naples, 1542 Prague & Bohemia, 1550 Genoa, 1551 Bavaria, 1555 Pesaro, 1557 Prague, 1559 Austria, 1561 Prague, 1567 Wurzburg, 1569 Papal States, 1571 Brandenburg, 1582 Netherlands, 1582 Hungary, 1593 Brandenburg, Austria, 1597 Cremona, Pavia & Lodi, 1614 Frankfurt, 1615 Worms, 1619 Kiev, 1648 Ukraine, 1648 Poland, 1649 Hamburg, 1654 Little Russia (Beylorus), 1656 Lithuania, 1669 Oran (North Africa), 1669 Vienna, 1670 Vienna, 1712 Sandomir, 1727 Russia, 1738 Wurttemberg, 1740 Little Russia (Beylorus), 1744 Prague, Bohemia, 1744 Slovakia, 1744 Livonia, 1745 Moravia, 1753 Kovad (Lithuania), 1761 Bordeaux, 1772 Deported to the Pale of Settlement (Poland/Russia), 1775 Warsaw, 1789 Alsace, 1804 Villages in Russia, 1808 Villages & Countrysides (Russia), 1815 Lbeck & Bremen, 1815 Franconia, Swabia & Bavaria, 1820 Bremen, 1843 Russian Border Austria & Prussia, 1862 Areas in the U.S. under General Grant's Jurisdiction[1], 1866 Galatz, Romania, 1880s Russia, 1891 Moscow, 1919 Bavaria (foreign born Jews), 1938-45 Nazi Controlled Areas, 1948 Arab Countries. (<http://www.biblebelievers.org.au/>)

According to Bernard Lazare since the people who expelled the Jews belonged to the most diverse races, since they lived in countries very distant from each other, since they were ruled by very different laws, governed by opposite principles, since they had neither the same morals, nor the same customs, since they were animated by unlike dispositions which did not permit them to judge of anything in the same way, it must be therefore that the general cause of Antisemitism always resided in Jews themselves and not in those who have fought against the Jews.

The Jews everywhere and always have been strangers and parasites. They were not to be assimilated because they are exclusive and intolerant. They believe that they are chosen by God as the trustee of his wishes and desires. Other men are below the animals. (The Secret Powers Behind Revolution FREEMASONRY AND JUDAISM, By Vicompte Leon De Poncix)

During the Middle Ages they were regarded as responsible for the death of Christ. To live for two thousand years in a state of permanent rebellion against all the surrounding gentile populations, to insult their customs, their language and their religion by an uncompromising separatism, is a monstrosity. (The Secret Powers Behind Revolution FREEMASONRY AND JUDAISM, By Vicompte Leon De Poncix)

Why Jews managed to come back to the countries they were expelled from ?

Knowing that sooner or later, they would be expelled, on entering a country Jews make allies among the gentiles, through gifts and bribery, and later on, through blackmail. Thus the Jews always had gentile supporters in countries that would expel them later. As soon as the Jews were expelled, they contacted the ruler's agents and made fantastic promises. Then Jews begin to stealthily undermine and destroy the natural leaders of the gentile community who had led the Jewish expulsion. These leaders suddenly find that their fortunes are disappearing. Papers are discovered which prove that their property belongs to someone else. Their daughters are debauched and wander off to other cities. Their reputations are ruined, and the gentile community turns against them.

Now some new leaders emerge among the gentiles having good fortune. Their good fortune can be traced to the Jews. Anyone who dares to oppose the new leaders shares the fate of the ruined ones. Their property is confiscated, their families are broken up, the community is persuaded that they are evil and dangerous men, and they are driven out. Thus the host people, deprived of its loyal native leaders, now finds itself under the iron control of men who in turn must answer to the Jews. The new leaders then allow Jews to come back.

The history of the Jews demonstrates two things; first, that there has never been a reconciliation between them and their hosts; second, that no nation has ever succeeded in barring them permanently. In every case where the Jews were expelled from a nation, often under conditions of great suffering, within a few years, the Jews have again returned !

It has happened in nation after nation, throughout the centuries. Today no American is allowed to rise to a position of political leadership unless he has some financial scandal, some record, in his background which the Jews can use to bring him to heel at any time.

In October, 1290, sixteen thousand expelled Jews boarded vessels, leaving England to live with their fellows in France, Flanders, Germany and Spain. Jews were kept out of England for three hundred years, and during this period, England became the greatest nation in the world.

The Jews finally succeeded in returning, by financing a revolution for Oliver Cromwell. With unlimited funds at his disposal, Cromwell hired troops and seized the country. So cruel was the oppression of the Christians by Cromwell and his Jewish group that the English people rebelled and restored King Charles II to the throne. The first thing they demanded was that he expel the Jews, whom Cromwell had brought back to the country. Charles II was a dissolute profligate who cared only for the company of prostitutes. He needed money for his sex orgies, and he needed the Jews to help him raise the money. Therefore, he refused to expel the Jews. Jews stayed in England and consolidated their power, even though they were hated and feared by Englishmen.

Jews invited invaders to conquer the host Nations

1. Egypt : With their techniques Jews soon rose to high positions in Egypt and the Egyptian empire began to disintegrate. Gangs of bandits in the outposts of the empire grew bolder; they seemed to know just when to strike, and which of the towns were poorly guarded. Corruption and immorality increased. Its leadership became apathetic, and the morale of the people was undermined.

The Jews paved the way for the conquerors such as the Hyksos, or Shepherd Kings, who won Egypt without a battle and maintained an iron dictatorship over the people for 511 years. Some scholars believe that the Hyksos were the Jews, because the Jews, who had opened the gates of the land to the conquerors, became a favored minority during their rule. During this 511 year period, the Jews were princes in Egypt, taking what they wanted from the enslaved Egyptians, and incurring their enmity by their vicious arrogance over the betrayed population.

At last, the native leaders of the Egyptians led a successful revolt, and expelled the Hyksos forever. After the Hyksos were driven out, the Egyptians punished the Jews for their treachery, and enslaved them for life at hard labor.

This brings us to the period of Moses, when the Jews were complaining about their hard lot in Egypt. Before that they had enjoyed every freedom in Egypt, and when they had betrayed the nation to the Hyksos, it was only natural that they should be punished for their treason.

Jews used every device to obtain their freedom, bringing plagues upon the Egyptian people through the use of poisons and contaminating the water. They were finally allowed to depart from Egypt.

2. Babylon :- At that time, Cyrus, leader of the Persians, wished to attack Babylon and seize its riches, but he knew that his army was not strong enough. Jews were willing to open the gates for him. Therefore, conquest of Babylon was achieved without difficulty; the city fell without a fight. That is exactly how the Egypt felled to the Hyksos invaders. There was no battle.

Under the protection of Cyrus, the Jews were allowed to despoil the natives of Babylon, and what riches Cyrus did not carry off to Persia became the property of the Jews. Consequently, the Jews formed a wealthy and powerful ruling class in Babylon, and wrote the Babylonian Talmud.

Not only did the Jews take over the Babylonian Empire, many of them went with Cyrus and formed large colonies in Persia. Ahasuerus was King of Persia, and his prime minister was a gentile named Haman. Haman had been troubled about the growing power and insolence of the Persian Jews. King authorized Haman to solve the Jewish problem. The king's favorite wife, Esther, was a secret Jew named Hadassah. She was the niece of a Jewish leader named Mordecai who had her smuggled into the palace to charm the King. Mordecai told Esther of the coming peril of the Jews. Esther boldly went to the King, said that she was a Jewess, and dared him to kill her. The King was unable to resist her charms, and he agreed to do anything she asked. Esther asked Haman be hung to death. The King agreed. King granted the Jews which were :- in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, to slay, and to cause to perish, all the power of the people and province that would assault them, both little ones and women, and to take the spoil of them for a prey.

At Esther's request, King Ahasuerus now hung all of Hainan's ten sons and his house and goods were given to Esther's relatives. The massacres of the gentiles were carried out throughout the Persian Empire, and the bloodletting of the native leaders so weakened that the empire was easily conquered by Alexander the Great. The civilizations of Egypt, Babylon and Persia had now fallen because of Jewish subversion.

3. Romans :- Romans had conquered the world but had no defense against the Jews residing in the heart of Rome. The Romans tried again and again to get rid of them. Each time, the Jews came back.

The Roman historian Marcus says that Emperor Trajan greeted a Jewish delegation in Rome most cordially, "having already been won over to their side by the Empress Poltina". The story of Esther recur over and over again throughout five thousand years of recorded Jewish history. Roman named Hermaiscus is tried for treason, because, like Haman in the Persian Empire, he protested against the growing power of the Jews. Hermaiscus said to the Emperor Trajan, "It distresses me to see your cabinet and your privy council filled with Jews." He was executed for his daring statement.

Julius Caesar recognized the power of the Jews. Rome was made up of many opposing political groups and sects. In order to win, the politician needed the support of one group which would stick by him, and thus influence other groups to support him. This group was the Jews. They would guarantee their support to any politician who in turn would do what they asked. The Jews supported Caesar and he issued verdicts in their favor.

His decrees were recorded by Josephus. Caesar exempted Jews from compulsory military service, allowed them to send shipments of gold to the Temple in Jerusalem, and recognized the authority of the special Jewish courts. Caesar made the Jews a privileged group who were above the laws of Rome. The traffic, in gold between nations was the cornerstone of Jewish international power two thousand years ago, just as it is today.

Alarmed by his increasing subservience to the Jews, a group of loyal Senators, led by Brutus, resolved to assassinate him.

Chapter III

How Jewish Bankers became World Rulers

Old testaments have enough examples how Jews have bankrupted nations with usury. Jew money changers did not spare even their fellow Jews. In 30 A.D. the Jews believed that a pure silver coin not bearing pagan symbols was only acceptable to their God. Unfortunately these coins were not plentiful.

The money changers had monopoly on them. Seating in temples with their coins, they raised the price of these coins to whatever the market could bear, forcing the Jew people to pay exorbitant price.

Jesus Christ in the last year of his life used physical force to throw the money changers out of the temple as their monopoly on these coins totally violated the sanctity of God's house. Jesus Christ preached against the money changers. As a result, Jewish elders forced the ruler to crucify Jesus Christ.

Beginning of Paper Currency (fiat Currency)

In 1024 the money changers were generally known as goldsmiths and had control of Medieval England's money supply. They issued a receipt after to person depositing gold in their safe rooms or vaults. This paper started being traded as it was far more convenient than carrying round a lot of heavy gold and silver coins since this receipt could be exchanged with gold at money changers' office at destination town. Over time, the receipts were made bearer, making it readily transferable without the need for a signature.

System of Fractional Reserve Banking

Goldsmiths recognized that only a fraction of depositors ever came to demand their gold at any one time because the bearer receipts always kept on circulating among the traders. Therefore, goldsmiths started issuing more receipts than the actual gold deposit. As they gradually got more confident they would loan out up to 10 times the amount of gold they had in their deposits.

Goldsmith may pay 6% interest on gold one has deposited with them. He issues 10 times more receipts than the gold deposits and even if he charge 6% interest on them he gives away 6% interest while earns 60% interest (10 times more interest). This is called creating money out of thin air.

Control over Economy

The goldsmiths may make money easy to borrow and therefore increase the amount of money in circulation causing inflation (price hike). Then at proper time, suddenly they would make loans more difficult to get or stop offering them. As a result a certain percentage of borrowers already suffered with inflation, being unable to repay their previous loans, and not having the facility to take new ones, went bankrupt and were forced to forfeit or sell their assets to the goldsmiths for literally pennies on the dollar.

Thus by controlling money supply of a country the bankers can make borrowers bankrupt and people poorer.

Therefore, in 1225 St. Thomas Aquinas, the leading theologian of the Catholic Church argued that the charging of interest is wrong and contrary to reason and justice. Therefore, Church law in Middle Ages Europe forbade the charging of interest on loans and even made it a crime called, “usury.”

Price hike also depends upon available quantity of goods. Therefore, bankers also control production by manipulating capital available to an industrialist and controlling labor peace or unrest in factories through their puppet trade union leaders. Banks first, ascertain exact financial position of the various capitalists, then to control them by restricting or enlarging, facilitating or hindering credits, finally entirely determine their fate. Quite often industrial and commercial circles complain of the “terrorism” of banks.

Formation of Bank of England

In the year 1694, William of Orange, the King of England, needed money to pay his troops. He feared an attempt by the Stuarts to regain the throne, and he had to maintain a large standing army. Jews lent William money on condition that he allows them to issue bank notes against the debt. It was named as the, “Bank of England,” to pose it as government bank. Jews had usurped the authority of the English Crown to issue currency. Soon the gentiles were enslaved by interest-bearing bank notes issued by the Jews.

The Bank of England would loan government as much of the new currency as they wanted, as long as they secured the debt by direct taxation of the British people.

Jews also moved their headquarter from Amsterdam to England because the English fleet controlled world trade. With the monetary power at their disposal, the Jews soon gained control of the British Empire. They compelled British empire to accomplish Jewish interests in European nations. Thus, Jewish power and finance grew by leaps and bounds. A Jew, D'Israeli (meaning, of Israel), became Prime Minister of England.

The Bank of England amounted to nothing less than the legal counterfeiting of a national currency for private gain, since they create money out of nothing or thin air. A country that allows such a private bank is nothing more than a plutocracy.

If a nation can issue a pond bond, it can issue a pound bill. The element that makes the bond good, makes the bill good, also...It is absurd to say that country can issue 30 million pounds in bonds and not 30 million pounds in currency. Both are promises to pay, but one promise fattens the usurers and the other helps the people.

In 1934 in its 20th June issue, New Britain magazine of London published a statement made by former British Prime Minister David Lloyd George that, Britain is the slave of an international financial bloc. In 1941 Sir Josiah Stamp, director of the Bank of England during the years 1928-1941, said The modern banking system manufactures money out of nothing. ... and the Bankers own the Earth.

In 1946 The Bank of England was nationalized. The state treasury did acquire all the shares in the Bank of England. Since the government had no money to pay for the shares, the shareholders were issued government stocks. The state now received the operating profits of the bank, but the government now had to pay interest on the new stocks it had issued to pay for the shares. So, although the Bank of England is now state-owned, the fact is that the British money supply is once again almost entirely in private hands with 97% of it being in the form of interest bearing bonds.

Same is the situation with other central banks of the other countries. It is claimed that all countries except Iran, Cuba and North Korea have central banks controlled by international Jewish Banking Cartel.

Central Banks Bankrupt People

In 1698 the Bank of England had flooded the country with so much money that the Government debt to the Bank had grown from the initial £1,250,000, to £16,000,000, in only four years. That's an increase of 1,280%. This also caused inflation which is the reduction in worth of paper money (fiat money). As the common person's money is devalued, he has to go to the bank to get a loan to run his business or meet his needs.

When the Central Bank is satisfied that there are enough people with debt out there, the bank will tighten the supply of money by not offering loans. This is stage two of the plan. Stage three, is sitting back and waiting for the debtors to go bankrupt, allowing the bank to then seize from them real wealth, businesses and property etc, for pennies on the dollar. Inflation never effects a central bank in fact they are the only group who can benefit from it.

To bring more and more people caught into their debt net banks issue credit cards, They are lured to buy luxury items by offering discounts on purchase. Most of the Americans are under debt slavery of banks as they have already spent their income of forthcoming decades borrowing through credit cards. Thousands of debt ridden Americans unable to pay bank interests have committed suicide.

Following his inauguration, President Garfield stated, “Whosoever controls the volume of money in any country is absolute master of all industry and commerce...And when you realize that the entire system is very easily controlled, one way or another, by a few powerful men at the top, you will not have to be told how periods of inflation and depression originate.” Strangely enough within a few weeks of making that statement, President Garfield was assassinated on 2nd July.

Thomas Jefferson had made the following statement, “If the American people ever allow private banks to control the issue of their currency, first by inflation, then by deflation, the banks and the corporations which grow up around them will deprive the people of all property until their children wake up homeless ....”

Bankers know in advance when to create panics to their advantage. They also know when to stop panic. Inflation and deflation work equally well for them when they control finance.

Since the gold is backed for issued currency, those who control gold can manipulate the volume of credit, thus control the price-level in different countries. And this power can be used to acquire mortgages not only over entire industries but over whole countries. Therefore, bankers try to accumulate as much gold as they can with them.

The Rothschilds

In 1760 Mayer Amschel Bauer changed his name to Mayer Amschel Rothschild. He set up the House Of Rothschild, and soon learned that lending out huge loans to Governments and Royalty is far more profitable than loaning to individuals. Such loan is backed by their nations' taxes. He trained his five sons in the art of money creation. Mayer Amschel Rothschild had made the following statement from his bank in Frankfurt, Germany, "Let me issue and control a nation's money and I care not who writes the laws."

Nathan Rothschild had set up a bank in London in 1809. His four brothers also had banks - in Frankfurt, Paris, Vienna and Naples. He used the family's network of couriers to supply Wellington's armies with money in the war against Napoleon. Napoleon was unshakable in his determination that the Jews should obey the laws of his Empire. The other European nations were governed by aristocrats who were indebted to the Jews. When Napoleon made his triumphant return from Elba, the Rothschilds immediately guaranteed huge loans to every European country which would send an army against him. As a result, Napoleon faced a vast coalition at Waterloo. Therefore, Napoleon had been crushed. It was the first instance of the Jewish technique of enlisting "Allied" nations to fight their enemies for them.

Nathan Rothschild knew well in advance that Napoleon lost the battle of Waterloo. He started selling all his government stocks, so that everyone else would think Napoleon must have won and sell their shares too. As they did, the price of the shares fell, Nathan bought them up cheap, and made a very large fortune. By 1832 he was speaking for the City of London : "This country is the Bank for the world... All transactions in India, in China, in Germany, in the whole world are guided here and settled through this country". Rothschilds played a big part in the California Gold Rush (1849), in the British Government gaining control of the Suez Canal (1879), and in financing railways around the world.

Rothschild ordered the European rulers to meet in Vienna and draft a plan which would make it impossible for another Napoleon to rise to power. They developed the "balance of power" plan, whereby, if any European nation began to get too powerful, the other nations would rally and attack it. In effect, it meant that any future enemy of the Jews would have to face the armies of the other nations, as later occurred against Hitler. The Congress of Vienna swept away the last restrictions upon the Jews. It guaranteed them "equal rights" in every European country.

Formation of Private Banks of America

The United States fought the American Revolution primarily over King George III's Currency act, which forced the colonies to only use bank notes borrowed from the Bank of England at interest. After the revolution, the new United States government issued its own value-based money, so that private banks like the Bank of England were not siphoning off the wealth of the people through interest-bearing bank notes.

Corrupting national leaders bankers succeeded in setting up a new Private Central Bank called as the First Bank of the United States. This Bank had almost ruined the nation's economy and enriched the bankers. Therefore, Congress refused to renew the charter and wanted to issue value based currency on which the people paid no interest to any banker.

Nathan Mayer Rothschild threatened the US Government, "Either the application for renewal of the charter is granted, or the United States will find itself involved in a most disastrous war." Congress refused to renew the charter and Nathan Mayer Rothschild railed, "Teach those impudent Americans a lesson ! Bring them back to colonial status !"

The British Prime Minister Spencer Perceval refused to war with the United States because England's military was occupied in the ongoing wars with Napoleon. Spencer Perceval believed that Britain might not win American war. Therefore, Spencer Perceval was assassinated and was replaced by Robert Banks Jenkinson. Financed by the Rothschild controlled Bank of England, Britain provoked the war of 1812 to accept a new private central bank. Though the War of 1812 was won by the United States, Congress was forced to grant a new charter for yet another private bank issuing the public currency as loans at interest, the Second Bank of the United States. Once again, private bankers were in control of the nation's money supply.

In 1832 Andrew Jackson successfully campaigned for his second term as President under the slogan, "Jackson And No Bank!" Jackson succeeded in blocking the renewal of the charter saying "You are a den of thieves vipers, and I intend to rout you out, and by the Eternal God, I will rout you out." In 1838 on January 8th President Jackson paid off the final installment of the national debt. He was the only President to ever pay off the debt. When asked what his most important accomplishment had been in life, President Jackson stated without hesitation, "I killed the Bank !"

The American Civil War

In 1861 the American Civil War started after South Carolina left the Union. The real reason for the war is that the Southern States were in a dire economic situation because the Northern State industrialists had used trade tariffs to prevent the Southern States from buying cheaper European goods. Therefore, Europe stopped cotton imports from the South. Thus the South were being forced to pay more for goods whilst having their income slashed.

Slavery was not the cause of war because President Lincoln himself had stated, "I have no purpose directly or indirectly to interfere with the institution of slavery in the state where it now exists. I believe I have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so...My paramount objective is to save the Union and it is not either to save or destroy slavery. If I could save the Union without freeing any slave, I would do it."

The bankers saw the opportunity to divide and conquer America by plunging it into Civil War. President Lincoln needed fund for America's defense. The money changers offered loans at 24% to 36% interest. President Lincoln declined. In 1862 President Lincoln began the printing of $450,000,000 worth of new bills. These bills were printed in green ink on the reverse side, in order to distinguish them from other bills in circulation, and were called, "Greenbacks."

The Times of London published that the North American Republic will pay off debts and be without a debt. It will have all the money necessary to carry on its commerce. It will become prosperous beyond precedence. The brains and the wealth of all countries will go to North America. That government must be destroyed or it will destroy every monarchy on the globe. Therefore, the Bankers were determined to crush America through European armies.

But Czar Alexander II of Russia gave President Lincoln an unexpected help. The Czar issued orders that if either England or France actively intervened in the American Civil War, and help the South, Russia would consider such action a declaration of war. Czar Alexander II sent part of his Pacific Fleet to port in San Francisco and foiled the aggression of Britain and France.

This wasn't because the Czar was benevolent towards America, instead he was very clever. He had already refused to let them set up a Central Bank in Russia. He understood if America was to come under the control of Britain or France, then America would be under the control of Central Bankers and such an expansion of the bankers' empire, would mean threat to Russia.

In 1864 President Lincoln is re-elected on November 8th. In 1865 on April 14th, 41 days after his second inauguration, President Lincoln is shot at Ford's Theater and later died of his injuries. Allegations were made that international bankers were responsible for President Lincoln's assassination. Canadian Attorney, Gerald G. McGeer also stated that the International Bankers wanted to re-establish a central bank and also wanted to put America on a Gold Standard. This was in direct opposition to Lincoln's policy of issuing Greenbacks, based solely on the good faith and credit of the United States.

Paper money issued by government can serve the country. But when it comes to business with other nations, paper money must be backed by something valuable such as gold or silver without which international business becomes barter i.e. exchange of goods of mutual needs.

Bankers wanted gold standards to be imposed on every country of the world because the bankers have been stock piling gold with them, with intention to make every country dependent on them for gold.

In 1872 Ernest Seyd is sent to America on a mission from the Rothschild owned Bank of England. He is given $100,000 to bribe as many Congressmen as necessary, for the purposes of getting silver demonetized, as it had been found in huge quantities in the American West. Ernest succeeded and by 1873 and within 8 years after Lincoln's assassination, silver was demonetized and the Gold Standard system set up in the United States.

Jews do not like disobedience

The Russian government regarded the activities of the Jews as exploiting the rural population. Consequently, the Czar issued a decree that the Jews should not go beyond the Pale. Jewish bankers in the United States immediately demanded that the President declare war against Russia and force the Czar to rescind the decree. President Taft refused. Jews split the Republican Party in his next campaign, and elected their preferred candidate, the Democrat, Woodrow Wilson. The advantage of the parliamentary system is that the Jews have a large number of gentiles to act as their stooges.

The Federal Reserve of America

In 1907, the Bankers wanted to set up another private Central Bank for America. Rothschild man Jacob Schiff, in a speech to the New York Chamber of Commerce, threatened, “Unless we have a Central Bank with adequate control of credit resources, this country is going to undergo the most severe and far reaching money panic in its history.”

J. P. Morgan and his cohorts secretly crashed the stock market. Thousands of small banks with very low reserves felt severe effect. American Congress under the pressure of Rothschilds let him do it ! So, Morgan manufactured $200,000,000 completely reserve-less private money. Thus the banking power was further consolidated into the hands of a few large banks.

In a conference room in the Jekyll Island Club Hotel, Warburg wanted to call the legislation, the, “National Reserve Bill,” or the, “Federal Reserve Bill.” The only way to guarantee the payment of interest on this debt was to directly tax the people, as they had done with the Bank Of England. American congress passed the Federal Reserve Act over Christmas holiday 1913, while members of Congress opposed to the bill were at home. President Woodrow Wilson signed it as he promised the bankers he would in exchange for generous campaign contributions.

The Following banks own the Federal Reserve : Rothschild Bank of London, Warburg Bank of Hamburg, Rothschild Bank of Berlin, Lehman Brothers of New York, Lazard Brothers of Paris, Kuhn Loeb Bank of New York, Israel Moses Seif Banks of Italy, Goldman, Sachs of New York, Warburg Bank of Amsterdam, Chase Manhattan Bank of New York.

Some argue that the Federal Reserve is a quasi-governmental agency, yet the President appoints only 2 of the 7 members of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, every four years, and he appoints them to 14 year terms. These are the very people hand picked by the bankers who finance their campaigns, ensuring loyalty to them, not the people.

A crash was devised by the bankers. In only a few weeks from the day of the crash, 3 billion dollars of wealth just ended up in fewer and fewer hands, as was planned. Top bankers and their friends got out of the stock market and had purchased gold just before the crash. They shipped this gold over to London to the headquarter of Jewish bankers.

In 1974 a New York periodical published an article claiming that the Rockefeller family were manipulating the Federal Reserve for the purpose of selling off Fort Knox gold at basement prices to anonymous European speculators. 3 days after the publication of this story, its anonymous source, secretary to Nelson Rockefeller, Louise Auchincloss Boyer, mysteriously fell from the window of her ten storey apartment block in New York and died. The United States government did not undertake an audit of the gold in Fort Knox to quell this speculation. In 1982 President Reagan's, "Gold Commission," reported to Congress that "The U. S. Treasury owned no gold at all. All the gold that was left in Fort Knox was now owned by the Federal Reserve, a group of private bankers, as collateral against the National Debt."

Private Central Banking created world wars

Steps from private central bank to a world war are:- step 1 : Enslave the nation into debt trap. Step 2 : When the people no longer borrow, have the government borrow on their behalf to keep the pyramid system working. Step 3 :- When both the people and government no longer borrow, start a world war to conquer other nations' wealth to balance the deficit.

Crash of 1907 was followed by world war I. Crash of 1929 was followed by world war II. Crash of 2008 was followed by world war III which being continued today.

Through 1st World War, Bankers Enslave Germany

Prewar Germany had a private central bank, but it was heavily restricted and inflation kept to reasonable levels. Under government control, investment was guaranteed to internal economic development, and Germany was seen as a major power. So, bankers hated Germany and wanted to destroy it.

In 1914 World War I had started. In this war, the German Rothschilds loaned money to the Germans. British Rothschilds loaned money to the British. French Rothschilds loaned money to the French. In 1915 J. P. Morgan had become sales agent for the, "War Materials Board," to both the British and the French engaged in World War I. President Woodrow Wilson appointed banker, Bernard Baruch, to head the, "War Industries Board." According to historian, James Perloff, both Bernard Baruch and the Rockefellers profited by approximately 200 million dollars during World War I.

Bankers financed both sides in a war. A nation will borrow any amount for victory. The ultimate loser is loaned just enough money to hold out a vain hope of victory and the ultimate winner is given enough to ensure that he does win. Such loans are given on the guarantee that the victor will honor the debts of the vanquished. Thousands of troops that give their lives in the name of nation is actually for the profits of bankers.

Thus, in world war I they not just fraudulently defeated Germany, but also flattened its industrial bases. Following the Treaty of Versailles, Germany was ordered to pay the war costs of all the participating nations, even though Germany had not actually started the war. This amounted to three times the value of all of Germany itself.

Rise of Adolf Hitler and Second World War

Humiliation of Germany led the National Socialists to take power. Their first financial move was to issue their own state currency. Freed from having to pay interest on the money in circulation, Germany blossomed and quickly began to rebuild its industry. The media called it "The German Miracle". Time magazine even named Hitler Time Magazine's Man Of The Year in 1938. Hitler was enormously popular because he had rescued Germany from the throes of a worldwide depression. He did it through a plan of public works paid for with currency generated by the government itself.

Projects were first earmarked for funding, including flood control, repair of public buildings and private residences, construction of new buildings, roads, bridges, canals, and port facilities. Millions of people were put to work on these projects, and the workers were paid with the Treasury Certificates. The workers then spent the certificates on goods and services, creating more jobs for more people. These certificates were issued as bonds, and the government paid interest on them to the bearers. But the certificates circulated as money and were renewable indefinitely, making them a de facto currency.

The Treasury Certificates did not trade on foreign currency markets, so they were beyond the reach of the currency speculators. They could not be sold short because there was no one to sell them to, so they retained their value.

Within two years, Germany's unemployment problem had been solved and the country was back on its feet. It had a solid, stable currency, and no inflation. Germany even managed to restore foreign trade, although it was denied foreign credit and was faced with an economic boycott abroad. It did this by using a barter system : equipment and commodities were exchanged directly with other countries, circumventing the international banks. This system of direct exchange occurred without debt and without trade deficits. Once Adolf Hitler said goodbye to the syndicate of bankers, Germany prospered. At that time millions of people in the United States and other Western countries were still out of work and living on welfare.

Once again, Germany's industrial output became a threat to Great Britain. Germany's state-issued value based currency was also a direct threat to the private central banks, and as early as 1933 they started to organize a global boycott against Germany ! Like World War One, they crafted an excuse to go to war with Germany.

Chapter IV

Marx and Engels

Marx-Engels Belonged to Wealthy families

Karl Marx was born in 1818 on 5th of May in the town of Trier which was then a part of today's Germany then called Prussia. He was given the Mosaic name as Moses Mordecai Levi Marx. His father Hirschel ha-Levi Marx, was Justice of the Supreme Court. Hirschel's father was a famous Chief Rabbi in Cologne. His father-in-law was also a rabbi.

Marx's father has accepted Christianity simply to continue his career in law as Jews were not allowed to enter into that profession. Karl Marx was not born into a Christian family, as his parents had secretly kept their Jewish faith. He was only baptized in 1824, at six years of age, and given the Christian name Karl Heinrich. Young Marx went to a Jesuit school and also went to a Talmudic school, where he learned that the Jews must rule the world.

Marx belonged to a well-to-do family. His father had married a Jewish woman. She was connected to a family of very wealthy bankers and industrialists. She was from a family of millionaires. Marx's mom was from a family of millionaires. Marx's uncle Benjamin Philips was a super-wealthy banker and industrialist. Karl Marx's grandmother Nanette Barent-Cohen was the first cousin of Henriette Barent-Cohen, who had married Nathan Mayer Rothschild. Nathan Rothschild financed Marx. This was revealed by Mikhail Bakunin who broke away from Marx, because "they had one foot in the bank and the other foot in the socialist movement".

Marx, in the company of small capitalists speculated mainly in English shares and lost heavily (p.138, RED JENNY A Life with Karl Marx). Marx had a great craving for the finest foods and French wine. He imported French wine for his family's meals. His family had expensive habits. The English biographer of Marx, Robert Payne, assumes that somewhere in an old London chest there must still be a copy of the official, gold-rimmed invitation to a ball that Jenny sent to fifty friends and acquaintances. A dance band was hired and servants offered choice food and wine. (p.140- RED JENNY A Life with Karl Marx)

Jenny Von Westphalen, an educated baroness of the Prussian ruling class had earlier engaged formally with a young aristocrat as she had gladly accepted his marriage proposal earlier in a dance party. Later, her father broke off her engagement to be with Marx. No one ever asks how Marx managed to meet and wed an educated baroness of the Prussian ruling class. If Marx was that poor as posed, we would expect her family to do everything possible to prevent such a union. This is glossed over by telling us Jenny and Karl were childhood friends. A 16-year-old girl would be interested in a 20-year-old boy, not a 12-year-old Karl Marx. This marriage looks arranged for political purposes.

Jenny was a baroness whose grandfather had been chief of staff to Duke Ferdinand of Brunswick. And yet the historians tell us Marx was living hand-to-mouth at several points. Jenny always had connections to the aristocracy through her family. Yet they tell us that Karl and Jenny relied on loans from the family; and that after his father died, Marx's family had a "diminished income." And that Karl and Jenny lived communally in Paris with the Ruges. Millionaires and baronesses don't live communally in one-room flop houses. The fact is they were trust-fund kids, always just one letter or phone call away from a bag of cash. Marx was from money and married money, so I he died as a millionaire.

Marx's uncle was a banker and industrialist. It is admitted that Marx's uncle Benjamin Philips did bankroll Marx while he was in London. But he was bankrolling him also before that. Marx wasn't working in Paris as he was a trust-fund boy all along. (http://www.mileswmathis.com/Reading the Signs, by Miles Mathis First published November 23, 2014)

Teachers of Karl Marx

Moses Hess son of a wealthy Jewish industrialist, was mentor of Karl Marx. In 1841, Hess founded the newspaper Rheinische Zeitung and one year later he made Marx its editor. Hess converted Marx to Freemasonry. He intensively guided Marx in his work. Moses Hess introduced Engels to Marx. Hess believed that internationalism served the interests of Judaism. He also declared : Nationalism does not apply to Jews ! Whoever denies Jewish nationalism is not only an apostate, a renegade in the religious sense, but also a traitor to his people and to his family. (Moses Hess, "Selected Works", Cologne, 1962.) Therefore, internationalism of Marx and Marxists was simply a ruse to serve Judaism.

Another of Marx's guides, Levi Baruch, emphasised to him that the revolutionary elite of Jews were not to reject Judaism and that they should be called traitors to their own people if they did so. Baruch propagated that they were to hide their Judaism behind socialist phrases.

When one of Baruch's letters to Marx was published, its contents caused a big scandal. This letter explained that it would be easy for Jewry to get into power with the help of the proletariat. The new governments were to be led by Jews who would forbid all private property so that the Jews as administrators of the fortunes and estates would divert all these riches into Jewish hands. In this way prophecy of Talmud that all the riches of the world would come into the hands of the Jews, would be fulfilled. Baruch also made it clear that the goals of Judaism were power over the whole world, a mingling of the races, abolition of national frontiers, elimination of the royal families and finally the founding of the Zionist world state. (Salluste, "Les origines secretes du bolchevisme", Paris, 1930, pp. 33-34.)

To maintain the illusion that Mosaic religion posed an ideological threat to Communism, Jewish Communist leaders such as Marx, Pierre Joseph Proudhon, Francois Marie Charles Fournier made critical statements about Jews. In 1844 Marx wrote in his article "On the Jewish Question", that the Jews more or less controlled Europe, that their worldly god was money and their most important business was to swindle money from people by means of extortionate interest rates. This is the deepest foundation of the Jewish religion. Behind every tyrant there is always a Jew. Like Marx, other Communist leaders have also made sure that they were accused of antisemitism to divert suspicions from the Talmudic aspect of Communism. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina) These Jew communists had not revealed anything new.

Character of Marx and Engels

Marx did not like interference from anyone. 'He was a terrible tyrant. Karl Marx's nights were filled with riotous partying, drunken revelry and dueling in the traditional style of a German freshman student. Karl Marx had become a member of the Men of Trier Society and in a fight with a fellow-student had cut his left eye. He had also been arrested and spent a night in jail for rowdiness and drunkenness and was accused of carrying prohibited weapons in Cologne (probably a pistol). All these extra-curricular activities, which he carried on in the company of his fellow collegian, cost him more money.

Engels characterized Marx as a monster who was livid with hatred "as if ten thousand devils had caught him by the hair". Marx's uncontrolled drinking and his wild, expensive orgies only increased his fury at his environment. All the meetings in Paris had to be held behind closed doors and windows, so that Marx's roaring was not heard out in the street. Riazanov, director of the Marx-Engels Institute in Moscow, admits in his book that Marx drank heavily.

Prussian ex-lieutenant von Techow quoted in Vogt's pamphlet. In August 1850 he had visited the leader of the Communist League, Karl Marx, in London and had spent an evening in a pub with him, Engels and a few other members of the League. First we drank port, then claret, i.e. red Bordeaux, then champagne. Marx was completely drunk after the red wine. ... I regret, for the sake of our common goal, that this man does not have a noble heart. I am convinced that the most dangerous personal ambition has eaten up everything good in him. Marx was stung by such a portrait of himself by a hopeful disciple of his party. (p.125- RED JENNY A Life with Karl Marx, by H.F. Peters)

Giuseppe Mazzini, who had known Marx well, wrote this about him: "His heart bursts rather with hatred than with love towards men." Karl Marx was "a destructive spirit". (Fritz Joachim Raddatz, "Karl Marx: Eine Politische Biographie", Hamburg, 1975.) Marx was an unreliable egoist and a lying intriguer who only wished to exploit others, according to his assistant, Karl Heinzen. (Karl Heinzen, "Erlebtes", Boston, 1864.) Heinzen also thought that Marx had small, nasty eyes "which spat flames of evil fire". He had a habit of warning: "I will annihilate you!" Marx was not interested in democracy. The editorial staff of Neue Rheinische Zeitung was, according to Engels, organized so that Marx became its dictator. He could not take criticism. He always became infuriated if anyone tried to criticize him. In 1874, when Dr Ludwig Kugelmann merely hinted that if Marx would organize his life a little better he might finish "Das Kapital", Marx slandered him ruthlessly.

Marx wrote to Engels, Yesterday we learned of the death of my wife's 90-year-old uncle. Jenny would inherit £100 or more 'unless the old dog leaves part of his fortune to his housekeeper. (p.112- RED JENNY A Life with Karl Marx, by H.F. Peters) This shows how he talks about his dead relatives.

Because of his dictatorial domination of Communist group Marx was condemned to death {Enault, Paris brute par la Commune p. 23; Beaumont Vassy La Commune de Paris, p. 9). However, he succeeded in escaping to London where he settled down to a life of laborious idleness and studious leisure. (KARL MARX DEBUNKED by Leon Hamilton, Social Justice)

Marx fought all those he could not subdue. Marx condemned exploitation. But he himself exploited everyone near him. Marx never done any physical work in his life. Neither did he show any consideration for the work of others. Many craftsmen he hired had to wait a long time for their pay. His housekeeper, Helen Demuth (aka Lenchen), worked like a slave in his household for 40 years without any cash pay whatsoever.

Marx enjoyed his bourgeois life-style. Lenchen (aka Helen Demuth) was 25 years old, six years younger than Marx's wife Jenny, blonde and slim. She had many suitors and could have made a good match more than once, but she stayed with Jenny and Karl. Lenchen conceived a child by Marx. (p.101) Lenchen gave no answer when asked who the father of her child was. In desperation Jenny turned to her husband. Karl hinted that the Engels probably was the man. He convinced Engels that it was in the interest of the party for Engels to acknowledge the paternity of Lenchen's child. Engels agreed but declared that he personally did not want to have anything to do with the child. For Jenny the matter was not settled. She urged Lenchen to be honest. But she remained silent. The best solution was to give up the child to an English family for adoption. We can only guess at Lenchen's feelings about this proposal, which was carried out. She was very fond of children. Her will proves that she loved her son. The suspicion and then the certainty that Karl was the father of Lenchen's child was a hard blow for Jenny. During the time of Lenchen's approaching confinement, Marx fled into the solitude of the reading room of the British Museum. Every morning about 9 o'clock he left the flat in Dean Street and returned home only in the evening, sometimes after midnight. (p.104-06 - RED JENNY A Life with Karl Marx, by H.F. Peters)

The relationship between Marx and his wife was very poor. She abandoned him twice but returned each time. When she died, Marx did not even attend her funeral. (Marx and Satan By Richard Wurmbrand)

Marx hated the Germans: "Beating is the only means of resurrecting the Germans." He spoke about "the stupid German people ... the disgusting national narrowness of the Germans. He called the Russians "cabbage-eaters." The Slavic peoples were "ethnic trash." Marx wrote in his new year's roundup of 1848 about "the Slavic riffraff," which included Russians, Czechs, and Croats. These "retrograde" races had nothing left for them by fate except "the immediate task of perishing in the revolutionary world storm." "The coming world war will cause not only reactionary classes and dynasties, but entire reactionary peoples, to disappear from the face of the earth. And that will be progress." "Their very name will vanish." Engels wrote in the same vein : The next world war will make whole reactionary peoples disappear from the face of the earth. This, too, is progress. Marx who posed as a fighter for the proletariat, called this class of people "stupid boys, rogues, asses. Marx identified black people with "idiots" and used the offensive term "nigger" in private correspondence. Marx even championed slavery in North America. For this, he quarreled with Proudhon, who had advocated the emancipation of slaves in the U.S. Marx wrote in response, Without slavery, North America, the most progressive of countries, would be transformed into a patriarchal country. Wipe North America from the map of the world and you will have anarchy-the complete decay of modern commerce and civilization. Abolish slavery and you will have wiped America off the map of nations. (Marx and Satan By Richard Wurmbrand)

The Russians were a totally inferior people according to him. He called all the Slavic peoples an "ethnic sewer". (New York Times, 25th of June 1963.)

He rejected everyone who was unwilling to participate in his "revolutionary" struggle against God. He called the workers, for whom he had created his ideology, idiots and asses. He called the peasants cave-men.

Another reason why Bakunin distanced himself from Marx was that Marx's thinking was a further development of Judaism. In his book "God and the State", Bakunin declared : "Of all the good gods who have ever been worshiped by men, Yahweh is the most jealous, the most vain, the cruelest, the most unjust, the blood-thirstiest, the most despotic and the one who is most hostile against human dignity and liberty..." .

Talmud tells : "Even the best of the goyim must be killed." Bible describes the massacres that were committed by the Jews. In Esther 9:16, we find the story of how the Jews, with Mordocai at their head, murdered 75,000 Persians and members of other nations. The Judaists celebrate this genocide every year in February or March as the feast of Purim. Marx's Talmudic beliefs explain his extreme contempt for other races.

Marx in the wake of the 1848 Slav congress in Prague published in Neue Rheinische Zeitung a libelous article claiming that Bakunin was a Tsarist agent. He was forced to retract this later. In spite of such politicking, Bakunin' was gaining overwhelming supporters. Marx's resentment of Bakunin's success in organization was obstacle to his determination to wield power in the International. Therefore he led international to die. (Bakunin and Marx: An Unbridgeable Chasm ? by Paul McLaughlin, University of Tartu)

Neither did Marx care about cleanliness. This had a bad effect on both his health and his contacts with other revolutionaries. He suffered from boils for 25 years. In 1873 these boils caused him a nervous breakdown leading to tremors and violent fits of rage. He never ate fruit or vegetables. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina)

Engel's large family fortune was made out of the exploitation of workers in the textile mills of Lancashire and Manchester. The family of Engels was associated with the Rothschilds in building up the famous textile trust of England. According to the Socialist Guillaume, Secretary of the Internationale, Engels was a rich manufacturer accustomed to regard workmen as machine fodder and cannon fodder. Engels lived in the lap of luxury supported by the red gold extorted from the blood, tears and sweat of the exploited workers in Engel's textile factories. Marx and Engels never did a bit of manual labor in their entire life. Yet these men hypocritically discussed the problems of the workers and doled out Judas-like advice to them. (KARL MARX DEBUNKED by Leon Hamilton, Social Justice)

After indulging in various sexual escapades and having a variety of mistresses in the 1840s, Engels settled down in the 1850s into a durable relationship with Mary Burns, whom he never married. After her death, he formed a stable liaison with her sister, Lizzy Burns, whom he only married on her death-bed in 1878. (MARX, ENGELS, AND THE ABOLITION OF THE FAMILY by RICHARD WEIKART, History of European Ideas, Vol. 18, No. 5, pp. 657-672, 1994 0191-6599 (93) E0194-6 _ . Copyright c 1994 Elsevier Science Ltd Printed in Great Britain)

Marx-Engels were less known entities

Karl Marx was not well known in his life-time and his writings remained practically unknown to the greater part of his contemporaries. The great socialists of his age were Ferdinand Lassalle a rich German Jew and Philosopher, Friedrich Albert Lang. Lassalle's agitations lasted only a year because he was killed in duel as a result of a private affair. People neither approved, nor criticized, ideas of Marx. When Marx died in 1883, a few newspapers reported in a couple of lines that Karl Marx, the author of various books, had died. (Marxism Unmasked: From Delusion to Destruction By LUDWIG VON MISES)

In September 1867, when the first volume of Das Kapital appeared, it met with a complete lack of comprehension. There were only a few notices in the German press, even counting the extensive reviews Marx and Engels wrote themselves and submitted anonymously. Marx's request for numerous review copies of his book was rejected by his publisher. Jenny, too, tried to promote her husband's book. Only two hundred copies of Das Kapital were sold during the first year of its publication. (p.147-48) Marx himself was much more grateful to Kugelmann for getting some of Engels' reviews of Das Kapital, written under various pseudonyms, placed in German newspapers. (p. 152-RED JENNY A Life with Karl Marx, by H.F. Peters,)

The "DAS KAPITAL" is unintelligible to the working man and inexplicable even to the Marxists including Marx's son-in-law, who admitted that the book was unintelligible to him although he was associated intimately with Marx for some eighteen years. (KARL MARX DEBUNKED by Leon Hamilton, Social Justice) By no recognized standard may Karl Marx be considered a great writer, nor even a great thinker. His Das Kapital is so dull and so boring that it is almost impossible to read. Despite the fact that it has been highly touted by the Jewish propaganda networks and tremendously promoted by international Jewry, this book is still, today, very seldom read by anybody. (Death of communism part 2 by <http://www.deathofcommunism.josru.com>)

When Marx died in March 14, 1883, only six people attended his funeral. (http://antinewworldorder.blogspot.in/Silence is Betrayal Who was Karl Marx.html)When he died there was no communist organization as such to speak of.

Several years after his death Marx's teachings have been fervently promoted by the Jewish propaganda network. It was spread and disseminated and perpetrated solely by the force of the Jewish worldwide organized conspiracy with thousands of speakers in union halls, on radio, on television like the Sermons all in the service of the Jewish race. (Death of communism part 2 by

Marx-Engels were shameless plagiarists

The original Communist Manifesto written by Marx and Engels was full of mistakes and drawbacks. It was revised several times.

Marx borrowed most of his socialist theories from Condorcet, Saint-Simon, Auguste Comte and others. The theory of Thesis, Antithesis and Synthesis, which he calls Dialectical Materialism, was lifted from the works of Hegel. Communist Manifesto is copy of Victor Considerant's Manifesto of Democracy. The Manifesto of Democracy by Victor Considerant, preceded the publication of Marx and Engels' pamphlet by five years. We can find the origins of the doctrine of surplus value in the writings of Proudhon.

Marx was a philosophical panhandler, a scientific beggar and a literary plagiarist. "His" theory of "wage slavery" was current during the first French Revolution and was later popularized by Vidal and Pecquer who first advocated the state ownership and control of mines, communications and transportation. Marx's Communism was the Socialism of Babeuf, Blanc, Cabet and Marat. "His" ideal of internationalism was first propounded by Weishaupt and Cloutz. "His" economic doctrine that "labor was the source of all wealth" was propounded first by the English philosophical economists and sociologists—Locke, Petty, Adam Smith and Owen. Even "his" theory of surplus value was enunciated first by Owen and developed by the Chartists in a work published seven years before Marx began to write (1835).

The doctrines of the abolition of inheritance, marriage and the family, the destruction of patriotism, the annihilation of religion, the institution of the community of women and the communal education of children—these doctrines were not originally Communistic; they were the doctrines of Illuminati. Thus, Marx was an impostor from the very beginning.

Marx "borrowed" all of his slogans. It was Jean-Paul Marat who formulated the phrases "Workers have no fatherland !" and "The proletariat have nothing to lose but their chains!" He took the slogan "Religion is the opium of the people !" from the Jewish writer Heinrich Heine. Karl Schapper originally came up with "Workers of the world, unite!" Neither was the "dictatorship of the proletariat" one of Marx's ideas - Louis Blanqui was author of it. In 1841, Clinton Roosevelt published his book "The Science of Government, Founded on Natural Law", based on Weishaupt's teachings. Six years later, Marx used Roosevelt's principles to write his Communist Manifesto.

"Das Kapital" shows not only that the author was a careless and incompetent theorist, but also that he was a downright liar. Paul Johnson demonstrates this in his book "The Intellectuals". Marx wrote about the situation of the weavers in Silesia without having spoken to any of them. He wrote about industry without having visited a single factory in his life. Marx refused Engels' offer to visit a cotton factory. Only the first part of "Das Kapital" was written by Marx. Engels wrote the rest. Only the eighth chapter of part one, "The Working Day", deals with the situation of the workers.

"Das Kapital" is in no way a scientific analysis, since Marx selectively picked facts, that supported his theories. The material was not only a biased selection, it had also been falsified and distorted to suit Marx's opinions. He used only one single source to claim his theory, Engels' "Die Lage der arbeitenden Klassen in England" / "The Condition of the Working Class in England", published in Leipzig in 1845. Engels knew only about the German textile industry and nothing about this industry in other countries. His knowledge of the situation of miners and agricultural laborers was negligible, yet he wrote about the mining and agricultural proletariat.

There were also falsifications and misquotations amounting to a total of 23 pages (over 5 per cent of the book's 354 pages). Marx was fully aware of the falsifications, since the German economist Bruno Hildebrand had already revealed most of them, and Marx had been informed of the criticism. Marx used misquotations himself. He misquoted William Gladstone and the economist Adam Smith. He even misquoted official reports. The two researchers from Cambridge showed in their examination "Comments on the Use of the Blue Books by Karl Marx in Chapter XV of "Das Kapital" (1985), that Marx had not only been careless but had intentionally falsified. For example, Marx claimed that railway accidents had become more frequent whereas the case was exactly the opposite. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina)

Marx-Engel's Contradictory Behavior

It is not true that the Internationale was the creation of Karl Marx. He remained completely outside the preparatory work that took place from 1862 to 1864. He joined the Internationale at the moment when the initiative of the English and French workmen had just created it. In the same manner in India

Arya-Brahminist leaders who are hyped by exploiter classes as big agitators etc come and grab the leadership of movements run by displaced indigenous people obviously to mislead them.

Marx met some workers for the first time in 1845 in London at the German Workers' Educational Association. They were cultivated, self-taught workers and craftsmen who disliked Marx's violent opinions. Marx felt contempt for them. Marx did all in his power to keep socialist workers out of influential positions in the International. For the sake of appearances only, a few were allowed to remain on various committees. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina) Marx's plan from the first day was to make the great working men's organization the instrument of his personal views." When Marx seized control of the Internationale it became the organization of the middle class theorists who were unsympathetic and hostile to the cause of the working men.

In 1865, Karl Marx read at the meeting of the International Committee, a paper, Value, Price, and Profit. He objected that the unions wanted to improve the fate of the workers within the framework of the capitalist system—this is hopeless and useless. The best the union could achieve in this way would be some short-term success. They must work for the coming of socialism.

Thus the proletarian unions and Marx disagreed as to what was in the “interest” of the proletarians. Marx who did not belong to this proletarian class at all, a writer and a lawyer who tells the unions that they were wrong. Here the whole idea of the class breaks down, the idea that an individual may sometimes err but that a class as a whole can never err.

Karl Marx, in the second part of his career, expected the breakdown of capitalism and the substitution of socialism to come from the full maturity of capitalism, he was in favor of letting capitalism develop. Marx believed that interventionist measures were unfavorable because they delayed the coming of socialism. Labor unions recommended interventions and, therefore, Marx was opposed to them. Thus Marx himself was in contradiction to what he earlier had preached workers.

Marx and Engels tried to force the organizations of the old International to go in for parliamentary activity. The shameful congress at The Hague in 1872 crowned the labors undertaken by Marx and Engels by turning the International into an electoral machine, including a clause to the effect of obliging the various sections to fight for the seizure of political power.

In The Revolted Man, Albert Camus stated that thirty volumes of Marx and Engels have never been published and expressed. Marx Institute in Moscow, the vice director, Professor M. Mchedlov wrote that of a total of one hundred volumes, only thirteen have appeared. He said that World War II forestalled the printing of the other volumes. The letter was written in 1980, thirty-five years after the end of the war. And the State Publishing House of the Soviet Union surely had sufficient funds. From this letter it is clear that though the Soviet Communists had all the manuscripts for one hundred volumes, they chose to publish only thirteen. This indicates that most of Marx's ideas were deliberately kept secret because they opposed theories promoted by international Jewish banking cartel.

Marx was a Satanist

Karl Marx in his poem "Der Spiel-mann" ("The Fiddler"), he admitted :-

That art God neither wants nor wists,
It leaps to the brain from Hell's black mists.
Till heart's bewitched, till senses reel:
With Satan I have struck my deal.

Marx believed in Satan and hated God. In another poem, Marx promised to lure mankind with him into hell in the company of Satan. These words are reminiscent of Jakob Frank's expressions. Karl Marx's father had come into contact with Frankism and had also instructed his children in this ideology. This is how young Marx got to know of Frankism, as was mirrored in his poetry. His family's conversion to Christianity was just a social manoeuvre. Jakob Frank himself had done the same, when he became a "Catholic". In his poetry, he dreamed of a pact with Satan. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina)

Marx joined the Satanist Church run by Joana Southcott. His early writings mentioned the name "Oulanem," which was a ritualistic name for Satan. (<http://antnewworldorder.blogspot.in/Silence is Betrayal Who was Karl Marx.html>) Another possible hint is contained in a letter written to Marx by his son Edgar on March 31, 1854. It begins with the startling words, "My dear devil." Who has ever known of a son addressing his father like this ? But that is how a Satanist writes to his beloved one. Could the son have been initiated as well ?

Marx's wife addresses him in a letter of August 1844, as follows - Your last pastoral letter, high priest and bishop of souls, has again given quiet rest and peace to your poor sheep. Marx had expressed, in The Communist Manifesto, his desire to abolish all religion. Yet his wife calls him as high priest and bishop. Of what religion ? The only European religion with high priests is the Satanism. Marx's favorite daughter, Eleanor, with her father's approval, married Edward Epling. He lectured on such subjects as "The Wickedness of God." The following stanza from his long poem on Satan is sufficient to describes the attitudes of his movement toward Satanism:

To thee my verses, unbridled and daring,
Shall mount, O Satan, king of the banquet.
Away with thy sprinkling, O priest, and thy droning.
For never shall Satan, O priest, stand behind thee.

An American, Commander Sergius Riis, had been a disciple of Marx. Grieved by the news of his death, he went to London to visit Marx's house. The family had moved. The only one whom he could find to interview was Marx's former housemaid Helen Demuth. She said ... When very sick, he prayed alone in his room before a row of lighted candles, tying a sort of tape measure around his forehead. Jews, saying their prayers with phylacteries on their foreheads, don't usually have a row of candles before them. Could this have been some kind of magic practice ? We also know that Marx, a presumed atheist, had a bust of Zeus in his study. In Greek mythology Zeus, a cruel heathen deity, transformed himself into a beast and took Europe captive.

Chapter V

The Marxism

Theory of Marx in a nutshell

1. The economic interpretation of history: all human history has been determined by economic factors mainly who controls the means of production and distribution. Predicted society development is : Primitive Communism > Slavery > Feudalism > Capitalism > Socialism > Communism.

2. The class struggle : Ongoing class struggle between the exploiters and the exploited.

3. Theory of Surplus Value : the true value of a product was labor and, since the worker received a small portion of his just labor price, the difference was surplus value, “stolen” from him by the capitalist.

4. Socialism was inevitable : Capitalism contained the seeds of its own destruction i.e. overproduction, unemployment, etc.

5 Violent revolution : The increasing gap between proletariat and bourgeoisie will cause the working classes to rise up in revolution and overthrow the elite bourgeoisie and will create a “dictatorship of the proletariat.” (In later part of his life he advocated peaceful transition from capitalism into socialism in mature capitalist countries such as England).

6. Internationalism : Working Men of All Countries, Unite !”

7. “From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs,” i.e. from socialism to communism will take place.

Primitive Communism

A primary inspiration for both Marx and Engels were Lewis Henry Morgan's descriptions of 'communism as practiced by the Iroquois Nation of North America. Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels argued that hunter-gatherer societies were traditionally based on egalitarian social relations and common ownership hence had primitive communism.

In a primitive communist society, all able bodied persons engage in obtaining food, and everyone share. There would be no private property because primitive society produced no surplus; what was produced was quickly consumed. The few things that existed for any length of time tools, housing were held communally. There would have been no state. (https://en.wikipedia.org/Primitive communism - Wikipedia.html)

The egalitarianism of hunter-gatherer societies should not be overemphasized or idealized. Men ranked above and dominated women. Children ranked below adults. Moreover, hierarchies existed among both male and the female members of society, down from the reigning alpha-male and female to the lowliest member of society. Status fights occurred, and whoever did not accept the established rank-order faced severe punishment or expulsion.

It has been estimated that one square mile of territory was needed to comfortably sustain one to two persons, and in less fertile regions even larger territories were necessary. As the population size increased encounters became ever more frequent. Threat grew still more if neighboring tribes, due to their own internal population growth, increased their territorial incursions. To avoid conflicts many hunter and gatherer clans opted for migration to unknown places. Such migration may not be easy as they may come in conflict with native tribes.

Private property certainly existed such as personal clothing, tools, implements, and ornaments which were produced by particular, identifiable individuals or acquired from their original makers through either gift or exchange. Goods that were the results of joint effort were considered collective goods. Such as the berries gathered and the game hunted collectively.

Primitive men could not fail to notice, at least eventually, that even under a regime of free love the chances of sexual gratification and reproductive success were by no means equal. Some stronger and more attractive alpha males had much better chances than others. Just one male is sufficient to keep all females constantly impregnated. Thus the father of most of the children were few alpha males. (A short History of man Progress and Decline by Hans-Hermann Hoppe)

There were also some primitive groups based on egalitarian principles for which psychological factors are more important than the economical :- According to Peter Gray Ph.D. The people lived in small bands, of about 20 to 50 persons (including children) per band. The hunter-gatherer version of equality meant that each person was equally entitled to food, regardless of his or her ability to find or capture it. Group decisions had to be made by consensus; hence no boss, "big man," or chief.

1. Hunter-gatherers practiced a system of "reverse dominance" that prevented anyone from assuming power over others. If a man--attempted to act better than others or failed to show proper humility in daily life, the elders, would make fun of that person until proper humility was shown. Someone who boasts, or fails to share, or in any way seems to think that he or she, is better than others is put in his place through teasing, which stops once the person stops the offensive behavior. If teasing doesn't work, the next step is shunning. The band acts as if the offending person doesn't exist. That almost always works. The person either comes around, or he moves away and joins another band, where he'd better shape up or the same thing will happen again.

2. Hunter-gathers maintained equality by nurturing the playful side of their human nature, and play promotes equality. For example, when two young monkeys of different size and strength engage in a play fight, the stronger one deliberately self-handicaps, avoids actions that would frighten or hurt the playmate. That is what makes the activity a play fight instead of a real fight. The drive to play, therefore, requires suppression of the drive to dominate. Hunter-gatherers suppressed the tendency to dominate and promoted egalitarian sharing and cooperation by deliberately fostering a playful attitude in essentially all of their social activities. By infusing essentially all of their activities with play, hunter-gatherers kept themselves in the kind of mood that most strongly counters the drive to dominate others.

3. Hunter-gatherers maintained their ethos of equality through their childrearing practices, which engendered feelings of trust and acceptance in each new generation. They trusted infants' and children's instincts, and so they allowed infants to decide, for example, when to nurse or not nurse and allowed children to educate themselves through their own self-directed play and exploration. They did not physically punish children and rarely criticized them. Moral character of hunter-gatherers comes from their kindly child-raising methods. Children very rarely cried, probably because they had little to cry about. No child was ever yelled at or slapped or physically punished, and few were even scolded. Most never heard a discouraging word until they were approaching adolescence, and even then the reprimand, if it really was a reprimand, was delivered in a soft voice. The kindly, trustful parenting of hunter-gatherers promotes development of people who treat one another kindly and who eschew aggression. Infants and children who are themselves trusted and treated well from the beginning would grow up to trust others and treat them well and would feel little or no need to dominate others in order to get their needs met. Hunter-gatherers allowed their children, including teenagers, to play essentially from dawn to dusk. The children grew up believing that life is play and then went on to conduct essentially all of their adult tasks in a playful mood--the mood that counters the drive to dominate.(https://www.psychologytoday.com/How Hunter-Gatherers Maintained Their Egalitarian Ways \_ Psychology Today) Thus psychological factors were more important than the economic factors in determining equality and fraternity in these hunter gatherer societies. During famine very few person resort to cannibalism. Others prefer to die hungry. Such is the strength of moral training.

The State

Origin of State

According to Marx-Engels in primitive society the State originally arose to “safeguard the common interests of tribal societies against external enemies and later to protect the economic and political position of the ruling class”.

This is false. The State, in its origin, was not an economic, but a military institution formed by conquest and plunder. The primitive State was simply a band of warriors under a military leader. As the band of warriors settled down as lords and rulers of their fiefs, the State began to assume in varied forms the character of an institution, a piece of machinery which maintains a perpetual existence, despite the death of kings and barons.

In Latin America the Spanish and Portuguese ‘conquistadors’ seized the land of the natives, plundered the urban communities, not by changes in the mode of production but by brute force, imposed feudal regimes. To give land to its soldiers and officials, the invaders changed the social structure of the conquered territories. In Turkish Serbia there is only one class in control of the government — the bureaucracy. The one and only function of the State, therefore, is to exploit the Serbian people in order to provide the bureaucrats with all the comforts of life.

The true creators of the State were the militarists and the politicians, not only in Spain and France, but also in Flanders [Belgium], Germany, Russia and other northern European countries, and in Italy.

Function of the State

According to the Communist Manifesto, “the executive of the modern State is but a committee for managing the common affairs of the whole bourgeoisie.” This too is wrong. The State is not merely an agent of the dominant economic class, but State also constitutes a class in itself and is the most powerful of all by virtue of its monopoly of armed force and its sovereignty over all other social institutions. The State is not only the product but also the creator and perpetrator of economic, political and social inequality.

The state is an antisocial machine which controls society for the benefit of an oppressing class or elite. It is essentially an institution based upon violence and is concerned with its maintenance of inequality through political repression. In addition the state relies upon a permanent bureaucracy to help carry out its aims. All states, have internal tendencies toward self-perpetuation.

Liberal Democratic States

It might be argued that liberal democratic states are interested in social welfare. In fact, such aspects are only a disguise.

The welfare phase is temporary. For example, Rulers of India had nationalized banks in the pretext of socialism and to provide loans to poor people for self employment. The real purpose behind nationalization of banks was to divert bank deposits to their favorite industrialists. Most of them when express inability to pay their loans the government waive their loans and pay bank loans from the taxpayer's money. Many are even helped to abscond the country to seek safe haven. In this process corrupt politicians receive huge commissions. Such is not the case for poor peasants and self employers who obtain little loan from the banks. They are treated very ruthlessly. Recovery agents of banks threaten them physically, their property is seized, crops are destroyed. In rare cases when there is a huge pressure through political agitations, from fear of losing election, the governments may waive peasant's loan.

Behind every welfare ruse there is evil intention of the exploiter class to benefit themselves. In the process governments benefit exploiter class while people receive very little. When governments gather enough control over masses, it always exploits masses unbound.

All states tend to move towards dictatorship. But the rate of such development will vary according to factors such as demography, culture and politics. Finally, states tend toward warfare against other states.

It might be thought that the referendum, in which people directly make laws, would be an advance upon the idea of representative democracy. It is not workable because, firstly, the people are not in a position to make decisions on the basis of full knowledge of all the issues involved. Laws may be a complex, abstract, and specialized in nature. In order to vote for them in a serious way, the people need to be fully educated and have available the time and facilities to reflect upon and discuss the implications involved.

The referendums are used by full-time politicians to gain legitimacy for essentially exploiter issues. Switzerland, which has used the referendum frequently, remains one of the most conservative countries in Europe. With referendum, the people are guided by politicians, who set the terms of the debate. Thus despite popular input, the people still remain under exploiter's control.

To grant political sovereignty to others, whether under the mantle of democracy, republicanism, the people's state, or whatever, is to give others control and domination over our lives.

The State by its very nature, tends to have a life of its own. It is a parasitic institution living at the expense of society. State means dominion, and all dominion involves the subjugation of the masses and consequently their exploitation for the sake of some ruling minority. State cannot be sure of its own self-preservation without an armed force to defend it against its own internal enemies, against the discontent of its people.

All forms of government are unjust and that true democracy could not simply be instilled by degrees or by putting the right people in charge, but required a total transformation of society.

Is a Marxist State Different ?

Those who believe that they can achieve economic equality and justice in any other way except by freedom are under illusion. Equality without freedom is a terrible fiction, created by swindlers to mislead fools.

Socialism without liberty, is the worst form of tyranny. Marx advocates a very powerful and highly centralized state.

A people's administration, according to Marx, must mean a people's administration by virtue of a small number of representatives chosen by the people. It means the role of government will be taken out of the hands of the industrial workers by the party bureaucrats claiming to be vanguard of workers. This minority, say the Marxists, will consist of workers. Well, perhaps former workers, who would stop being workers the moment they became rulers or representatives, and would then come to regard the whole blue-collared world from governmental heights, and would not represent the people but themselves. This is very part of human nature.

Marxist workers dictatorship means State centralization. A centralized government as owner, organizer, director, financier, and distributor of labor and economy would necessarily have to act in an authoritarian manner in its operations. The inevitable result will be military dictatorship under a new master. It will administer and supervise agriculture by means of its appointed managers, who will command armies of rural workers organized and disciplined for that purpose. The party bureaucrats did not even allow the workers to bargain or form their own organizations. According to Marx, workers' unions are not necessary since the workers' interests would not differ from those of the management. It means everything will be decided by party bureaucrats on behalf of workers. Therefore, after a brief flash of orgiastic revolution, the citizens will wake up as slaves and victims.

The International, as we have conceived it, is the negation of patriotism and consequently the negation of the State. Marx and his friends by introducing the principle of the State into Communist Manifesto have killed the International logically. The Marxists realize the contradiction in this, and say that this state dictatorship will be temporary and short-lived. Its only purpose will be to educate and raise the people, both economically and politically, to the stage at which all administration will soon become unnecessary, and the State, having lost all of its political, that is sovereign, character, will itself turn into a completely free organization of economic interests and communes.

If their State is really going to be a people's government, then why should it abolish itself, and if its abolition is essential for the real emancipation of the people, then how dare they call it a people's government? Any State, including their people's State, is a yoke, as it gives birth to despotism on the one side and slavery on the other. They say that this sort of governmental yoke, this dictatorship, is an essential step leading to the attainment of complete freedom for the people. Therefore in order to emancipate the masses they must first be enslaved. This is cunning argument. Dictatorship can not have any other aim except to perpetuate itself. It instills and fosters only slavery in the masses that endure it. It will be the reign of the most aristocratic, despotic, arrogant and contemptuous of all regimes. The socialist state is necessarily a police state. This would be a barracks regime for the proletariat, in which a standardized mass of men and women workers would wake, sleep, work and live by rote.

Communist Manifesto considers only industrial workers, as a revolutionary class rather than all the toiling masses. This means nothing more or less than a new aristocracy, that of the urban and industrial workers, to the exclusion of the millions who make up the rural proletariat who, will become subjects of this great so-called workers' State.

Communist revolution does not abolish private property but simply transfers it into the hands of party bureaucrats. Party bureaucrats then are free to plunder the country and appropriate this property the way they like.

Marx's so called People's State not content with governing and administering the masses politically will administer them economically, by taking over the production and fair sharing of wealth, agriculture, the establishment and development of factories, the organization and control of trade, and lastly the injection of capital into production by a single banker, the State. At the same time party bureaucracy will set up a single bank on the ruins of all existing banks, as the sleeping partner of all labor and national trade. Everything in the interest of Jewish Bankers.

Marx described that under socialism everybody would be rewarded according to his contribution. What does it mean to be rewarded according to one's contribution ? Who would determine what one's services are worth ? Under communism everybody would be rewarded according to his need. Who would determine one's needs ?

Marx left these questions unanswered because Marx was simply duping the masses with empty slogans. He knew well that purpose of communist revolution is to plunder the resources of the country and brutally oppress and exploit masses in the interest of Jewish world Bankers. Therefore, the withering away of the state was just Marx's attempt to avoid answering the question about what would happen under socialism.

The gulf in income and power of the governmental bureaucrats and that of workers of socialist countries is drastically wide. Polish workers are exploited by the bureaucrats who run the factories. In communist Poland, the workers went on strike against the management of the socialized industries.

Thus, if there is a State, then there is inevitably supremacy, and therefore slavery. A State without open or veiled slavery is inconceivable.

Alternative of the State

Alternative of the state is an "Enlightened Society". Basic features of an enlightened society are as under :-

1. Horizontal Wave Structure :-

Social structure of wave pattern is the result of destruction of pyramidal social structure of a state. Maximum possible decentralization results in an efficient wave pattern. Wave Pattern consist of small area units who are self sufficient with respect to the production of essential needs including self-defense.

Everybody has right to keep arms. Power lies in the masses of the area unit.

Higher structures simply are coordinating structures between the basic area units to accomplish big projects such as railway, national highways, canals, exchange of surplus produce of area unit, big industry, high technology articles and so on which requires pooling resources of many basic area units.

Each of the above production or service units shall be controlled by concerning basic area units only.

Those assigned higher responsibilities return to the level of masses in a short duration such as of two years, can not be elected consecutively twice and in whole life can not get elected more than three times. Masses have direct control over the persons they assign higher responsibilities, hence they can call them back any time.

2. Work Culture of Aware Masses based on Social-Justice :-

The Success of enlightened society depends upon :

1) the morally sound masses who have realized the vanity of laziness, greed, jealousy and envy. They value importance of physical work, believe in human rights and social justice and live a socially useful and meaningful life through which they derive happiness.

2) There should be active participation of masses who have well educated themselves politically. Know how to control their representatives and how to perform their role and responsibilities.

Without fulfilling above mentioned two conditions an enlightened society can not exist.

It should ensure representation of each and every caste and community in every field such as all levels of jobs, political, social-cultural, recreational and sports in proportion to size of community's population. This ensures no community, caste or race dominate others.

Education and Employment for everybody and social care for old and disables is responsibility of basic area unit.

Ideologies that promote exploitation and oppression of masses shall be contested on the basis of their social use while those which promote human rights, equality and social justice shall be promoted with all vigor.

3. Abolition of Usury / Interest and unjustified profiteering :-

Usury or interest is completely banned. Basic area units decide values of produce, various type of labor and services and issue inflation-deflation free local currency. Price of produce remain fixed. There is no unjustified profit because what to be produced and how much to be produced is decided by the area units considering people's needs. Everybody gets his share according to his individual input value.

4. Private Property and inheritance :-

Nobody is allowed to make others his personal servants. Therefore, every person is allowed to own the property such as house, farm which he can use and maintain with his or his family's own labor. How much a person or a family can maintain with his own labor shall be decided by the area units unanimously. Heirs can acquire property by inheritance provided total property owned does not exceed the property one can maintain with his own labor.

Remaining property will be surrendered to area units to be allotted to others through objective measures.

A person can acquire wealth which satisfies his needs in a manner that does not create social disparity and a privileged section.

Production units which can not be run by the efforts of single individual shall be owned and run collectively by the concerned persons and share profit in a fair way as decided by the basic area units.

5. Civil-Duties and Defense :-

Basic units make themselves capable to perform all civil duties, peace keeping, defense and deliverance of justice in totally transparent manner. Condition of poverty, oppression and exploitation are the causes of crime. When these conditions are controlled crime gets automatically controlled. Whatever remains is exceptional cases which society can deal without the need of permanent institutions such as police, jail and judiciary.

Historical Materialism of Marx

Communist Manifesto declares that "the history of all hitherto existing society is the history of class struggles". This can be proved completely wrong from the following examples :-

The literature of the 10th to the 16th Centuries reveals how little part the class war played as compared to religious and racial factors. How little the class war figured in the conquest of Sicily and almost all of Italy, Flanders and part of France by the Spanish armies. In the international religious wars between Christians and Mohammedans; or the conquest of Latin America by Spain — the people of Spain sided with the kings...”(La Falacia del Marxismo, pp 121-2)

We ought not single out certain phenomena and describe them as causes and other phenomena as effects. They are continuously interacting. Many economic facts are just as much effects as they are causes. Changes in artistic tastes, Changes in political institutions, Changes in social traditions and even Changes in religious doctrines influence consumption of commodities and thereby become determinants of production. Thus, causes and effects are continuously interacting and replacing themselves. Causes become effects. Effects, in turn, become causes. Marx's theories have not been sustained by events. There are no “laws of history” and progress from one stage of development to another is not inevitable. (A Critique of Marxism by Sam Dolgoff)

The greatest flaw in Marx's vision was his certainty that economic forces controlled history and flowed in only one inevitable direction.

Theory of Historical Materialism is Counter-Revolutionary

Doctrine of Economic Determinism saps the revolutionary vitality of the masses, conditions them to accept capitalism and to cooperate with their rulers in their own enslavement. Communist Manifesto says the bourgeoisie is the bearer of large-scale industry, it is in the interests of the workers to help the bourgeoisie to seize power and when the industrial development reaches to its peak then only overthrow the bourgeoisie. (In his later stage of life he talked of peaceful transition of capitalism into socialism in countries reached peak of industrial development such as England) It means till then workers and other exploited and oppressed masses should calmly accept their suffering as their scientific-fate.

The Neue Rheinische Zeitung (Feb. 14 1849,-edited by Marx) declared that “no Slavic people has a future for the simple reason that they lack the indispensable political and industrial conditions for independence... the stubborn Czechs and the Slovaks should be grateful to the Germans who have taken the trouble to civilize them by introducing them to commerce, industry, agricultural science and education... What would Texas or California have gained if it would be in the hands of the lazy Mexicans ?”

It follows from the above quotation that militants who fight against slavery and for racial equality, people who refuse to help the bourgeoisie bosses, people who are against war and militarism, people who are for the freedom and independence of small nations against imperialist domination, are, according to Marxist theory, “dialectically” counter-revolutionists against their oppressors who are indirectly preparing the road for socialism.

Engels defend the institution of slavery : "The introduction of slavery in Greece under the conditions of that time, was a great step forward..., it was slavery that first made possible the development of agriculture and industry and with it the flower of the ancient world, Hellenism. Without slavery, no Greek State, no Greek art and science; without slavery no Roman Empire; without Hellenism and the Roman Empire as a basis, no Europe... without the slavery of antiquity no modern socialism..." ( Anti-Duliring , p. 203)

Marx maintained that slavery in America was still an economic necessity, arguing that “slavery is an economic category, like any other. Slavery is just as much the pivot of bourgeois industry as machinery or credit..., without slavery you have no cotton, without cotton, you have no modern industry..., without slavery, North America, the most progressive of countries would be turned into a primitive country. Abolish slavery and you will have wiped America off the map of nations."

The question is how progressive is a country whose very existence depends on slavery ? The Marxist argument according to economic determinism will say that "since the shortage of labor power was removed by converting prisoners-of-war into slaves, therefore, wars were necessary and ultimately beneficial.

Marx predicted both the inevitable collapse of capitalism and the dictatorship of the proletariat. But capitalism has not only been able to survive, it has actually become more entrenched.

Sidney Hook states flatly that "the existence of the Soviet Union refutes the theory of historical materialism ... since the basic economic changes were achieved through political action [the State]." (Marx and the Marxists, p. 124)

Ideas shaped history. Marx didn't realize that the material factors of production, i.e., the tools and machines, are actually products of the human mind. It is ideas that distinguish men from animals. This is the human quality of man. But according to the ideas of the socialists the opportunity to have ideas should be reserved to the Politburo only; all the other people should only carry out what the Politburo tells them to do.

Marx being an agent of Banking cartel Marx's dialectical materialism and stages of economical development were in fact devised to hide the truth that the Illuminati Jewish banking cartel controls the politics and resources of many countries of the world and they are responsible to foment all the wars, enslave nations and cause of all sorts of exploitation and oppression of the masses.

The Family

According to Engels within the family husband is the bourgeois and the wife represents the proletariat. The first condition for the liberation of the wife is to bring the whole female sex back into public industry, and that this in turn demands the abolition of the monogamous family as the economic unit of society. (p.39) The emancipation of woman will only be possible when woman can take part in production on a large, social scale, and domestic work no longer claims anything but an insignificant amount of her time. (Origin of the Family, Private Property, and the State by Friedrich Engels)

The above statement in reality has nothing to do with women's liberation since real intention of Marx and Engels is to serve capitalists. The capitalists had to pay relatively higher salary and wages due to insufficient labor supply. If the women in general are thrown into industries, the immediate result will be reduction of the wages and salaries due to abundant labor supply. Thus Marx and Engels in fact want to serve the capitalists by convincing women in the name of liberation to join the industries as Slave-laborers.

The promised liberation of women is not immediate but it will be possible only after communist revolution when domestic work such as cooking washing etc will be converted in to a social industry. Until then women may suffer in double duties in industry as well as in home.

Because religion and society values family as a sacred institution, Marx and Engels knew that women will not easily join industry unless family institution itself is destroyed. Therefore, they attacked family as causes of every evil and monogamy as unscientific and oppressive. To destroy family Marxists developed movements such as feminism and homosexuality. If two men marry with each other or two females marry each other the result in both cases is destruction of family and added work force to industry.

According to Engels if there were any real love affairs between free men and free women, these occurred only in the course of adultery. (Origin of the Family, Private Property, and the State by Friedrich Engels)

Thus adultery is promoted to break family and to benefit the capitalists.

Marx did not dissolve his marriage. Marx's relationship with his children is not consistent with a desire to communally raise children. Marx the father intervened in his daughters' lives in ways that seem to contradict his role as revolutionary abolisher of families and liberator of children. When Paul Lafargue was courting his daughter, Laura, he warned him to keep his distance for a time and demanded that he prove that he could financially support a wife. He effectively blocked Eleanor's relationship with Prosper Lissagaray and refused to recognize their engagement, despite her pleading. He certainly was not prepared to allow his own daughters to live in complete sexual liberty.

Neither Marx and Engels made free sex communes by merging communist families where everybody is free to make sex with everybody. Do such communes of communists exist anywhere in the globe ?

Class, and Class-Characteristics

In 35 years Marx published many volumes, but in not one of them Marx said what a “class” was. If the proletarians must think according to the “interests” of their class, what does it mean if there are disagreements and dissent among them ? Marxian theory that the class membership is decisive in determining most and particularly political actions is totally wrong. Class membership is no more decisive than race membership in determining one's political views. There often are conflicts among objective economic interests within a Marxian class—e.g., among workers. Conflicts occur over migration, international trade, religion or race. Workers often have objective interests in common with capitalists and in conflict with the interests of other groups of workers. Class membership is no more decisive than race and caste membership in determining one's political and social views.

Marx's theory of class character is completely wrong since the core of every exploitation system is man's laziness, greed, jealousy and envy. These feelings and emotions are found among every strata of the society. Rich or poor capitalists or the workers, nobody is exempted from them. In every social strata you find selfish and wicked persons full of laziness, greed and envy.

Theory of Surplus Value

It is agreed that there should be fair distribution of profit. But the claim of Marx that total profit is created due to laborers alone is not correct. If laborer is the source of all profit, then laborer has a valid moral claim to have all profit. Other people such as technicians, supervisors, managers including the capitalist have no share in profit at all. Does it sound fair? Here lies the falsity of theory of surplus value as presented by Marx.

According to Marx, the value of a product is based on the labor used to manufacture it. But the things obviously do not sell on the market in proportion to the labor embodied in them. Can frequent changes in the price of oil, wheat, cotton or diamonds be correlated to changes in the quantity of labor needed to produce them? Obviously not. Diamond is too much costlier than the cotton in spite of similar labor strain. The value of the product and the value of what went into it are each independently determined by relative scarcity. If the product becomes out of fashion its cost drops drastically.

The Marxist argument that machines themselves can not produce without labor input is also wrong. Marx can be questioned in the same manner - Can laborers themselves produce goods without raw materials and machines? Capital, technical intelligence, laborers and capitalist himself everybody plays their respective role. All factors are operative in production.

Today in many industries certain items are produced by robots themselves without the intervention of human laborers. In this case who should get profit? The Robots?

Marx's theory of surplus value was created and blown out of proportions to pose that capitalist alone is the real villain. Behind this smokescreen the real exploiters and oppressors who are Jewish Banking Cartel hide themselves comfortably. Marxism was created to unleash exploitation and oppression of Jewish bankers unbound.

Internationalism

Marx was serving Jewish bankers who wanted to create "one-world government". That is the aim of Talmudic Bankers. Internationalism is essential to form one world government. Therefore, Marx deliberately ignored that people were fighting, not for the interests of the proletariat, but for the principles of nationality. The principle of nationality asked that every linguistic group form an independent state. The principle of nationalism caused the European conflicts, led to the complete destruction of the European system, and created the chaos in Europe.

In the Communist Manifesto in 1848, Marx declared that capitalism was destroying all national peculiarities and unifying them into one economic system. Marx is wrong because in 1848, the average person didn't know anything about Asia or Africa. Marx was even less informed than the average English businessman who knew something about business relations with China and India. Marx saw no distinction between various nations.

Marx and Engels believed that "modern industrial labor subjection to capitalism, in England, France, America and Germany, has stripped the proletariat of every trace of national character. Law, morality, religion, are to the proletariat so many bourgeois prejudices." ( Communist Manifesto) Marx is wrong because workers still nurse these prejudices and act accordingly.

The Proletariat Class and Revolution

Marx was only concerned with industrial workers because they were the only objects to be manipulated to create labor unrest selectively in industries to benefit the Bankers. Bankers have fomented labor unrest through union leaders to bankrupt industries and put them under their debt. Bankers kept those industries free of labor unrest which were controlled by them. Marx therefore, deliberately excluded unorganized laborers from his theory.

According to Marx the urban proletariat being the primary revolutionary force in society will overthrow the capitalist state when poverty of workers becomes severe at the peak of industrial development.

Exploitation and poverty do not guarantee revolution. Extreme poverty is likely to lead to resignation if the people see no possible alternative. Marx attached slight importance to psychological factors in revolution, Contrary to Marx, revolution was impossible for people who had lost the habit of freedom.

To bring genuine revolution we need 1. Participation of all sections of toiling masses whether organized or unorganized, urban or rural, 2. Sheer hatred for the conditions in which the masses find themselves, 3. The belief that alternate change is a possible 4. A clear vision of the society that has to be made. 5. Direct control of masses over the revolution. Without above five factors being present no rule of people can come from any revolution. Such a revolution will be a replacement of present exploiters by more brute exploiters.

The bourgeois-minded workers in the industrialized countries do not make revolutions. Proletarian revolution that Marx expected never happened in any advanced industrialized country.

Marx never wanted workers to throw capitalists since he was working for the capitalists. His uncle himself was an industrialist. Marx talked of revolution only to topple aristocracy with the help of workers in the interest of capitalists. Which is why in later part of his life he spoke of peaceful transition from capitalism into socialism by parliamentary measures. Hence, he led workers towards parliamentarism abandoning theory of revolution.

Chapter VI

Marx Engels were agents of Jewish Bankers !

Marx Worked as a Spy

Neither Engels nor Marx was of the proletariat. Engels was very wealthy. Marx was not a proletarian; he was the son of a well-to-do lawyer. Karl Marx Was Rothschilds' Third Cousin. His wife, Mrs. Karl Marx [Jenny von Westphalen, 1814–1881], was the daughter of a high Prussian Junker (Member of the Prussian aristocracy noted especially for militarism.). Her brother Ferdinand von Westphalen, was the head of the Prussian police. Ferdinand ran a vast spy network which kept tabs on dissidents. Wolfgang Waldner, suggests that initially Marx worked as a police spy for the Prussian regime.

Before Marx ever wrote a word, the socialist movement already existed in Germany, France, Britain and elsewhere. Critics have suggested that Marx's mission was to co opt and subvert the nascent socialist movement. Marx collected information about his political rivals and opponents. According to Paul

Johnson Marx delivered the notes he made to the police, believing it to be of advantage to him. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina)

The German newspaper Reichsruf (January 9, 1960) published the fact that the Austrian chancellor Julius Raab donated to Nikita Khrushchev, then director of Soviet Russia, an original letter of Karl Marx. Khrushchev did not enjoy it, because it was proof that Marx had been a paid informer of the Austrian police, spying on revolutionaries. The letter had been found accidentally in a secret archive. It indicated that Marx, as an informer, reported on his comrades during his exile in London. He received $25 for each bit of information he turned up. His notes were about the revolutionary exiles in London, Paris, and Switzerland. One of those against whom he informed was Ruge, who considered himself an intimate friend of Marx. Cordial letters between the two still exist. (Marx and Satan By Richard Wurmbrand)

It looks like Marx was sent to Paris as an agent, specifically to follow Arnold Ruge : to spy on him and undermine him.

How could Jenny, the wife of the communist leader expelled from Prussia, obtain a passport for a journey to Trier on his Majesty's special order ? Her half-brother Ferdinand saw that she gets it immediately. In April 1856, Marx informed Engels that 'my wife has received a passport on his Majesty's special order. She is going to Trier with the whole family for 3 to 4 months. (p.113-14- RED JENNY A Life with Karl Marx, by H.F. Peters) Unless Marx was their agent how his Majesty will by special order provide a passport ?

Vogt published a 200-page pamphlet entitled 'My Suit Against the 'Allgemeine Zeitung'. It contained extensive descriptions by his lawyer of the activities of the 'gang of rowdies', a secret communist conspiracy of German refugees in London, who under the leadership of Karl Marx proclaimed the dictatorship of the proletariat, but in reality were blackmailing their members in Germany into sending protection money, threatening denunciation to the police. (p.123-24-RED JENNY A Life with Karl Marx, by H.F. Peters, St. Martin's Press New York , ISBN 0-312-00005-7)

Marx was an Agent of Bankers

Most likely Marx was likely as an agent of his cousin Rothschild. Best known work of Marx is said to be the book Das Kapital, which fails to mention that money is printed out of thin air and by his cousins, the Rothschilds. How could be Marx ignorant that president of America and other big persons spoke against the banker as biggest enemy of their country. Presidents of America were murdered for their opposition to the bankers ? In spite of that Marx presented capitalists as the only villain. It was an attempt to hide bankers behind this smokescreen of surplus value which made capitalists main villain.

The idea of Marx as a Rothschild shill was raised as a concern by his contemporary rival in the First International, Mikhail Bakunin in 1869 who was not even aware of the fact that Marx and Rothschild were cousins. Bakunin wrote presciently : "This world is now, at least for the most part, at the disposal of Marx on the one hand, and of Rothschild on the other. This may seem strange. What can there be in common between socialism and a leading bank ? The point is that authoritarian socialism, Marxist communism, demands a strong centralization of the state. And where there is centralization of the state, there must necessarily be a central bank, and where such a bank exists, the parasitic Jewish nation, speculating with the Labor of the people, will be found."

Rothschild connection becomes more evident when one knows that the 'Bund der Gerechten' (League of the Just), later known as the 'Bund der Kommunisten' (League of the Communists), which paid Marx to write the Communist Manifesto and was the predecessor to the Communist party, was actually financed by the Rothschilds. (https://www.henrymakow.com/Karl Marx Was Rothschilds' Third Cousin - henrymakow.com.html)

Marx's mission was to Misguide and disrupt Labor Movement

The growing socialist movements were seen as a danger to the rich. By that time Marx was already arguing that the proletariat was a revolutionary force. Marx's Uncle Benny the banker was underwriting this project, for the express purpose of preventing revolution from happening. Marx in 1848, pressed that the bourgeoisie must overthrow the feudal monarchy and aristocracy before the proletariat could overthrow the bourgeoisie. That is Marx's misdirection, since his rich uncle Benny was neither monarchy nor aristocracy. Marx's relatives the Philips family was composed of bankers and industrialists, not aristocrats. In fact, these industrialists wanted to supplant the existing aristocracy. Thus Marx was saving capitalists and directing workers against the aristocracy in the interest of the capitalists.

The task of Marx was to see that the bourgeoisie overthrow the aristocracy using workers as their tools. Marx had to also ensure that the workers do not harm bourgeoisie any way. For that purpose Marx has developed cunning theory that capitalists will be overthrown only when capitalism develops to its peak, not earlier than that.

The goal was for the aristocracy to be replaced by the industrialists. This is why Marx was advising that the aristocracy needed to be overthrown first. After which the proletariat could all go get hanged. Marx and his handlers knew that the proletariat would never gain the ability to overthrow anyone. Workers had fewest resources, intellectual and tangible.

Rothschilds and Marx both hated Russia

In spite of little developed industry, Russia was self-dependent with its vast territory. Therefore, it was impossible for the bankers to enslave Russia by the means which bankers had succeeded in Western Europe. Secondly, the bankers never forgave the Czars of Russia who continually opposed their request to set up a central bank in Russia. Similarly Czar had supported President Lincoln during the Civil War and subverted the Rothschilds' plan to divide America into two opposing nations which the bankers could perpetually pit against one another, as they had done to the nations of Europe.

Russia was the only country in the world in which the directing class opposed an organized resistance to universal Judaism. Russia did not permit any secret political societies which usually were Jewish on her territory. Therefore, Czars and their officers were killed by terrorist attacks engineered by the secret societies. Russia was a big obstacle which bankers wanted to destroy.

Therefore the most pronounced aspect of Marx was his extreme hatred of Russia. He and Engels regarded Russians and Slavs as subhuman (völkerabfall) barbarians. Marx used the newspaper Neue Rheinische Zeitung to incite a war against Russia. The Soviets tried to cover up this fact about Marx.

Marx sabotaged Labor movements

Marx was trained and sent in to splinter and disorient ongoing movements. Marx and Engels in their theory, claimed that the proletarian mind was different from the mind of the bourgeoisie, in spite of that they were claiming to be the vanguards of laborers. On this pretext Marxists have tried to monopolize socialism and insisted that unless you follow Marx's theories, you cannot be a socialist. At every juncture, Marx created factions rather than alliances. He deftly prevented any real action by turning the socialists against themselves.

1. Marx and Engels tried to monopolize the international. Marx was inserted as a mole : a creator of dissension, a confuser, and a giver of bad advice. This was a clear fraud and usurpation. Afraid that Bakunin's group might actually do something, Marx came in and took over the First International. Marx's takeover of international with the help of Jews, led to the decline of the International. That is what takeover was meant to do. They let International die so that laborers have no united common platform.

2. He kept them arguing over philosophical fine-points rather than encouraging direct and immediate action. According to Wikipedia In Vorwärts !, Marx refined his views on socialism based upon Hegelian and Feuerbachian ideas of dialectical materialism, at the same time criticizing liberals and other socialists operating in Europe. See, he is not creating alliances, he is criticizing liberals and other socialists. He is encouraging infighting. And at the same time he is weighing the movement down with a big bag of useless and imprecise terms like dialectical materialism. This is perfect legal misdirection, which he learned from his father.

3. Bruno Bauer had been writing the most anti-Christian pamphlets ever seen in Germany, Marx and Engels accused him of only being a Christian reformer. They even called him Saint Bruno. The leaders of the progressive movement in Germany had already harmed themselves by focusing on religion instead of politics. These attacks on Christianity only turned most of the workers off. But the leaders of the progressive movements like Bauer were too ensconced in their ivory towers to see that. So Marx and Engels cleverly goaded them into thinking they had failed because they hadn't gone far enough in their attacks on religion.

4. In 1849 August Willich and Karl Schapper recommended an immediate uprising. Marx and Engels did everything to stop it, warning that it would be crushed by the police. Marx argued, changes in society are not achieved overnight through the efforts and will power of "a handful of men." They are brought through a scientific analysis of economic conditions of society and by moving toward revolution through different stages of social development.

This was Marxist misdirection. It also refutes itself for at least two reasons :- 1) Willich and Schapper weren't calling for action by a handful of men, they were calling for action by millions of men and women simultaneously across Europe—the very thing the industrialists feared most. 2) The industrialists had changed society in a matter of decades, and they were in fact “a handful of men.” A few powerful people working together can achieve incredible things, and history is full of examples of that. Similarly, the French Revolution happened with no scientific analysis of economic conditions and no moving through stages of social development. The 17th century overthrow of Charles by Cromwell didn't happen that way, either. Both real history and human nature are the opposite of Marxist claims.

5. New York Tribune had been publishing Marx before the Civil War. Wikipedia on Marx writings in tribune says : Marx sought to communicate with the public by writing articles for the New York Tribune and other bourgeois newspapers. It should be strange to see Marx published in a “bourgeois” paper. It makes sense only when you realize Marx was trying to prevent an alliance of the middle class with the lower class. He was diverting the (semi) literate workers who read the Tribune away from any alliance with the factory workers, mine workers, and farm workers who probably weren't reading newspapers at all. When Intelligence lost control of the paper in 1861 and had to switch their man Dana over to the New York Sun. Marx left at that time, too.

6. The industrialists had loosened the vise a turn or two in response to the revolutions of 1848. The industrialists made a few minor concessions in that time, for the purpose of defusing the uprisings. The concessions should have been read as an indication of weakness of the upper class. If they had really been as strong as they wished to appear, they wouldn't have needed to make any concessions. The revolutions of 1848 had weakened them, and a second round of revolutions in the 1850's may have led to even greater success by the Republicans. But infiltration by Marx and others defused that possibility. Marx and Engels were arguing in 1851 that since conditions had bettered somewhat after the revolutions of 1848, so it wasn't the time for another uprising. Another economic downturn is necessary for another revolution. They advised the leaders to wait for another recession. It was then Marx's job to be sure the socialist leaders responded in the right way, by putting the revolution on hold.

7. The most important event in these years was the Paris Commune of 1871, for which Marx wrote Der Burgerkrieg in Frankreich. Although it was sold as support of the Communards, in fact Marx did everything possible to undercut them. He said : One thing especially was proved by the Commune, viz., that the working class cannot simply lay hold of ready-made state machinery, and wield it for its own purposes. Marx is just manufacturing problems. He is trying make the revolutionaries think that revolution is so complex and requires so much intricate planning it is nigh impossible. He advises that it requires years of study and detailed maps of all actions during the transition. (http://www.mileswmathis.com/Reading the Signs, by Miles Mathis).

Thus Marx wanted workers to rely completely on intellectuals because workers have no intellectual capacity to analyze complexities of revolution. He was conditioning workers to accept intellectuals as their vanguard and deliver them all rights of when and how to launch revolution and to rule by proxy.

8. Marxism has shown itself to be morally, politically, and economically bankrupt : it justified the gulag, it provided the foundation of totalitarianism, the decimation of the peasantry, the denial of civil rights to its working class and oppressed nations, armed invasions of its colonies in Eastern Europe; through its advocacy of planning it promoted proverbial inefficiency, waste, shortages and low standards of living. (Marxism Is Dead, Long Live Marxism ! by Michael Burawoy) Marx died in London on the 14th of March 1883.

1st May was not "Workers Martyr Day"

From 1890, communists started celebrating 1st of May, the foundation date of Illuminati under the garb of "Workers' Day". Which is why a provocation was arranged in Chicago in 1886. They hoped that in a serious conflict with police causing a few martyrs whose memory they could celebrate on 1st May. Only on the 3rd of May did the police open fire on a group of workers attacking some strike-breakers. One worker was killed immediately and another three died later in hospital. They had their martyrs, but it was on the wrong day ! In spite of that 1st may is fraudulently celebrated as "Workers day" in the memory of killed workers.

Marxism was Hyped by Bankers to establish Talmudic world order !

Most people think Communism is an ideology dedicated to championing workers and the poor. This was an incredibly successful ruse which manipulated millions. Behind this artifice, "Communism" is devoted to concentrating all wealth and power in the hands of the central banking cartel by disguising it as State power. Therefore, from the 1880's on, the International Jewish apparatus really took hold of Marx's theories to build parties of major importance especially in Germany, France, and Italy. By 1889 they formed an international coordinating committee called the "Second International." The goal of International Communism was never to "free the workers" from capitalist oppression, but to further enslave them to the Jewish elite vanguards who ruled their subjects with an iron fist. From its inception, Communism was a Jewish endeavor to usurp the remaining Gentile nations free from Jewish control, plunder their wealth, and enslave and murder the best of their people ! Zionism and Communism are but two tentacles of the same Talmudic monster. Therefore, it is not an accident that Judaism gave birth to Marxism, and it is not an accident that the Jews readily took up Marxism.

Chapter VII

Communist Revolution in Russia

Revolution and international finance are not at all inconsistent if the revolution is to establish a centralized authority. International finance prefers to deal with central governments. They wanted markets that could be exploited with monopoly without fear of competition from anybody.

Revolution In 1905

Jewish bankers had long been sabotaging Russia's ability to secure Western loans and by financing Russia's enemies to weaken Russia economically and physically, thus making it ripe for revolution. They manufactured a war between Russia and Japan to create first communist-Talmudic takeover of Christian Russia for communist subversion and Jewish plundering. Jacob Henry Schiff financed the Japanese war effort against Russia by floating them a loan of $200,000,000 USD thus making possible the Japanese victory over Russia. He used his financial influence to keep Russia out from the money market of the United States.

Jacob Schiff also financed the distribution of revolutionary propaganda to Russian prisoners of war being held in Japanese prison camps during the 1904-1905 Japanese-Russo war. He had hoped that as a result of this propaganda, upon their return to Russia at the war's end, they would commit mutiny and help install the Jewish communists into power. Although the attempted revolution of 1905 failed to bring down the Russian Czarist government, the Marxist Jews had caused a great deal of carnage.

Revolution in 1917

Leon Trotsky, played chess with Baron Rothschild, in Vienna. In 1916, Trotsky was summoned to the United States by Jacob Schiff. He was given the task of recruiting and training Russian-Jewish immigrants from the Lower East Side of New York City as Marxist radicals for the Bolshevik revolution.

Alexander Parvus began preparing the Bolsheviks' take-over of power in 1916. He made sure that Lenin had all the money he needed. As many extremist Jews as possible were recruited into the "revolutionary" movement. The Zionist banker Max Warburg funded the Communist propaganda in Russia. He saw to it that the industrialist Hugo Stinnes agreed to give two million rubles to the Bolsheviks' publishing activity on the 12th of August 1916. Max Warburg was the richest and most powerful banker in Germany.

In December 1916, the Freemasons began making intense propaganda to have the Czar deposed. All this cost a lot of money, which mostly came from the United States. The Freemasons exploited the food shortage. The "revolutionaries" provoked people to come out on political strikes.

Trotsky was sent from New York with an American passport. On March 27, 1917, Trotsky and his 300 well-trained Jewish communists from Manhattan's Lower East Side, boarded the Norwegian steamer for a journey that would bring them to St. Petersburg in Russia. Jacob Schiff gave Trotsky $20,000,000. Rockefeller had obtained a special passport for Trotsky from Woodrow Wilson and sent Lincoln Steffens with him to make sure he returns safely to Russia. Rockefeller placed a purse containing $10,000 in Trotsky's pocket.

On April 13, 1917, when the ship stopped in Halifax, Canadian Secret Service officers arrested Trotsky and interned him in Nova Scotia. The Secret Service had been tipped off that Trotsky was on his way to take Russia out of the war, freeing more German armies to attack Canadian troops. Prime Minister Lloyd George hurriedly cabled orders from London to the Canadian Secret Service to free Trotsky at once. Canada ignored him. Trotsky was finally freed by the intervention of one of Rockefeller's most faithful stooges, Canadian Minister Mackenzie King. King personally obtained Trotsky's release.

Simultaneously, Lenin and his Jewish comrades boarded a sealed train car which took them from Scandinavia to Petrograd, sitting on ten million dollars in gold supplied by Germany's richest Jewish banker, Max Warburg whose brother Paul was the chief architect of the Federal Reserve System, the Rothschild- controlled central bank of the United States. According to the author Hans Bjoerkgren, the carriage in which Lenin and his 32 companions traveled was not sealed. Two German officers, who went under the Russian names Rybakov and Yegorov, accompanied them. Lenin's company was to join together with Trotsky in Petrograd and eventually begin a take-over of power from the Provisional Government together with other leading forces to introduce the Communist Talmudic dictatorship.

The Germans' motive was to obtain a separate peace treaty and later advantages in trade with Russia. Lenin's traveling companions were mostly Jewish extremists. Three new conspirators joined Lenin's group in Stockholm. Parvus had also traveled to Stockholm to meet Lenin, according to one source. Lenin was allowed to use Sweden as their most important base for the planned state terrorism in Russia, thanks to the socialist leader Hjalmar Branting and the helpful attitude of the Swedish Social Democrats.

The German government paid for the tickets for Lenin's group's journey from Bern to Stockholm. The Russian Provisional Government paid for the tickets for the journey from Stockholm to Haparanda and from there to Petrograd. Lenin later claimed that he was not welcome in Russia and that he lacked a visa. He even asserted that the Provisional Government would have imprisoned him, since he traveled without permission. This is Soviet propaganda. The whole company was given a group visa by the Russian Consulate General in Stockholm except for Fritz Platten, since he was not a Russian citizen. This visa is still preserved in the Helsinki City Archives, where it can be seen that it was first issued on the 13th of April 1917. Lenin and his 29 traveling companions are all on the list. A second class ticket from Stockholm to Haparanda for all of them was paid by the Russian government !

In Finland, Lenin continued his journey to Petrograd, but now were traveling third class so that the Russians receiving him would see how poor he was. That was the way Lenin's journey to Russia was organized. He arrived at Petrograd's Finland station at 11:10 in the evening of the 16th of April. Lenin was welcomed at the Winter Palace by a representative of the Provisional Government, the Minister for Employment Mikhail Skobelev.

In May, another still larger group of 200 "revolutionaries", led by the Menshevik L. Martov and Pavel Axelrod, arrived from Switzerland. Many others followed after. Thousands of Jewish conspirators came also from the United States. A total of 25,000 international "revolutionaries" arrived in Russia. Lenin began publishing a large number of newspapers and periodicals, a total of 41, including 17 daily newspapers. The circulation of Pravda increased from 3000 copies to 300,000 in May 1917. It was given out free, also among the soldiers at the German front. The newspaper, which was financed by the Germans, propagated a separate peace with Germany. The Bolsheviks even bought a printing office for 260,000 rubles. Bolsheviks remained unpopular despite their vast propaganda machine.

In January 1917 it was decided that the first shots were to be fired on the very Purim day - the 23 rd of February (8th of March) (Under the sign of scorpion by Juri Lina). The Talmudic revolution was successful.

Bankers and Bolsheviks got Immense Wealth by Enslaving Russia

The Jew bankers got a great return on their investment. The banker Jacob Schiff had given Leon Trotsky 20 million dollars to organize a Bolshevik take-over. 600 million rubles in gold were transferred to the United States of America between 1918 and 1922, according to the historian Gary Allen. In the first half of 1921 alone, the banking house of Kuhn, Loeb and Co. made a profit of 102290000 dollars on the wealth the Bolsheviks had robbed, according to the New York Times, August 23rd, 1921. Multiply that sum by one hundred and you have the present-day value of that money.

In October 1918, Jewish bankers in Berlin received 47 cases of gold from Russia, containing 3125 kilos of gold, 191 bars. 50000 German marks and 300 000 Czar-rubles were also handed over. In autumn of 1917, Jewish banker Mendelssohn in Berlin received 50 676 kilos of stolen Russian gold, 113636 rubles equivalent to 48819 kilos of gold. Mendelssohn's signature in the Communist party archives is witness to the fact that he received these riches.

Later, 93.5 tons of gold were to be transferred to Germany in connection with the Brest-Litovsk peace agreement. It was 245.5 tons, according to Oleg Platonov, This "affair" was also concealed from the people.

The Russian historian Dmitri Volkogonov revealed after findings in the Communist Party archives that "just the Tsarina's private reserves amounted to 475 million rubles in gold plus 7 million for the crown jewels". (Dagens Nyheter, 31st of August 1992.) The Bolshevik financial department Goskhran confiscated all of this. According to the historian Igor Bunich, Lenin and Trotsky took care of this money personally. The gold, meanwhile, was smuggled out of Russia and deposited into personal bank accounts around the world. 30 tons of gold per year were produced in the Czarist era in Russia. (Under the Sign of the Scorpion, p. 237)

In 1920, the Czar's gold was exported to the United States of America under the control of professor Lomonosov and by the aid of Jacob Schiff's banking corporation Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and the Jewish banker Olof Aschberg (Nya Banken) in Sweden. Three shiploads with a total of 540 packing-cases of gold were sent away from the harbor of Tallinn in the Republic of Estonia. (U.S. State Department Decimal File, 861.51/837, 4th of October 1920.) Each case was worth 60000 rubles in gold. The total value was thus 32.4 million. The Bolsheviks also used the Harju Bank in Estonia to transfer money. Eventually, all of the Bolsheviks' gold reserves ended up in the United States, according to the Russian historian Igor Bunich. Over 600000 miners died under forced labor in the gold mines of Kolyma alone. (Gary Allen, "Say 'NO!' to the New World Order", California, 1987, p. 22.)

Armand Hammer brought the Czars' and the aristocrats' jewels and art to America where it was sold to other rich Jews. (Everything according to Svenska Dagbladet, 30th of March 1987.) Hammer began his "business" with Lenin by exchanging gems and furs for foodstuffs. In this way, the Faberge eggs, the diamond-topped tiaras and the icons, which had been plundered from the churches, ended up in the hands of Armand and his brother Victor Hammer. When their supplies were finished, new stolen goods were brought in from the Soviet Union. When Hammer later landed in Moscow with his private aircraft, he never needed to go through the passport or customs control.

The New York Herald Tribune wrote : "It seems as if the Bolshevik revolution in Russia is actually an enormous financial operation, the goal of which is to transfer the control of vast sums of money from the Russians to European and American banks." The Bolsheviks plundered riches amounting to 7.5 billion rubles in gold just from the churches.

The Bolsheviks had already set up revolutionary tribunals, had begun plundering private property through "nationalization". At the beginning of April 1919, The aim of Bolshevism is to gain complete power in the non-Jewish areas, so that no wealth remains in non-Jewish hands. The Bolsheviks began confiscating as much private property as they could. They also prohibited private commerce.

Jewish bureaucracy lived in luxury

Out of 388 members of the new Russian government 371, were Jews. Of these 371 Jewish Bolshevik leaders, no less than 265 of them were from the Lower East Side of New York City. All were "Russian Hebrews" who had lived in America from 3 to 12 years. Although Jews comprised a tiny 1.25 to 1.75 percent of the Soviet population, they constituted over 50 percent of the staff of various governmental departments.

Lenin himself had said that only because of well-trained Jews they were able to succeed in taking over the state apparatus and thoroughly remaking it. Lenin decried antisemitism was punishable by death. Even antisemitic speech constituted the death penalty, or life imprisonment. Jews terrorized the population because they had a monopoly over both arms and food supplies.

Bolshevik leaders immediately took over stately homes to live in. Lenin became the "owner" of Grand Duke Sergei Alexandrov's estate in Gorky near Moscow. All the villagers were forced to leave their homes to make room for Lenin's bodyguards. Trotsky got hold of Prince Felix Yusupov's castle. The Bolsheviks were especially interested in items of gold. The leading Chekists, for example, used only golden plates for their meals.

Soviet Jewry lived in a lap of luxury: "Slezkine describes the life of the largely Jewish elite in Moscow and Leningrad, where they attended the theater, sent their children to the best schools, had peasant women for nannies, spent weekends at pleasant dachas, and vacationed at the Black Sea." The communist bosses in Russia, practically all of which are Jews, have accumulated unto themselves all the riches of the countryside.

Jewish bosses have opulent palaces spread all over the countryside. They drive the best of cars, chauffeur driven, of course, and eat the best of foods. Not only that, but they have the best of planes at their disposal to fly wherever they see fit to govern their slave laborers. These Jewish communist bosses usually also have at their disposal imported clothes and tailors and a galaxy of servants. When they need a rest from running their slave empire, they have private villas on the Black Sea or other choice vacation spots at their beck and call.

Not one single synagogue was destroyed or converted into a public toilet or storehouse, as happened to the churches. Not a single rabbi was crucified. Many churches in Moscow were torn down in 1922 and instead a synagogue with space for two thousand people was built. A total of 60000 churches were destroyed. Streets, squares and even cities were eventually named after the Jews in power. Even the leadership of the other parties consisted of Jews. A considerable part of the Jews in the other parties left to join the Bolsheviks

The Jews also controlled all the newspapers. The Jewish functionaries even began to publish Pravda in Yiddish (Varhait) on the 3rd of March 1918, and from August 1918, the same newspaper was also published in Hebrew (Emet). (The Greater Soviet Encyclopaedia, Moscow, 1932, Vol. 24, p. 120.) The Jews, also dominated the film industry. Jewish authors produced combat literature. Jewish composers composed all kinds of marches and myth songs.

Jews had preferential treatment, as they were allowed to engage in illicit trading, while all other trade was at a standstill. Members of this class are allowed complete license, and commit crime against other sections of society. Jews became the possessors of most of the business houses.

All business became paralyzed, shops were closed and horrible scenes of starvation became common in the country districts. The Jews in the agencies responsible for the food supply only speak the Russian language badly. The people over whom they had seized power was strange to them, and they behaved like conquerors in a defeated country. ... Jews were every where in the Soviet republics in every committee and commissariat. Often they changed their Jewish names into Russian ones. But this masquerade could not deceive anybody. [Vol. II, Jews in the Soviet Union, p. 111] This band of extraordinary personalities from the underground of the great cities of Europe and America has gripped the Russian people by the hair of their heads and has become practically the undisputed master of that enormous Russian empire.

The subjects were regarded as the property of the state i.e. of the Jewish leadership. The communist slave laborer is toiling away twelve hours a day and then comes home to a dingy, dirty, filthy, crowded little apartment shared with other families. Deaths by hunger and disease carry off hundreds of thousands of innocent Russians, but the Jews do not die of hunger and disease.

According to top anarchist leader Alexander Berkman, who had been deported to Russia by American government cooperated Lenin and other top Bolshevik leaders. He concluded that the 500,000 Communists have by the same methods enslaved the whole of Russia with its population of more than 100,000,000. In consequence there is crying inequality of the new social groups, instead of the proclaimed equality; the stifling of every popular opinion instead of the promised freedom; violence and terror instead of the expected reign of brotherhood and love. The present situation is the inevitable result of Bolshevik dictatorship. The Communists have discredited the ideas and slogans of the Revolution. The strength of the Bolsheviks is in reality insignificant. They remain in power only because of the weakness of their political opponents and the exhaustion of the masses. Today they are the worst enemies of the Revolution, Russia has never before lived under such absolute despotism. In its concrete expression today Bolshevism is a system of the most ruthless despotism. It has organized a socialistic slavery. (The Bolshevik Myth (Diary 1920–22) by Alexander Berkman) The same view was expressed by other anarchist leaders such as Emma Goldman and others who had been in the Russia to help top communist leaders. Communist Party later became a real Mafia and its head was the boss of all mafia bosses.

People defeat Bolsheviks in Elections

The Bolsheviks failed to win the elections for the Constituent Assembly on the 25th (12th) of November 1917. Of 707 seats, the Bolsheviks won only 175 seats. The Social Revolutionaries won 410 and thereby secured a majority, the Liberals 105, the Mensheviks won only 16, the Bourgeois Cadets 17, the United People's Movements 86.

Bolsheviks only got 24.7 per cent of the votes, despite the fact that they had manipulated the electorate as much as they could. Lenin had even abolished the freedom of the press by a decree on the 9th of November. Trotsky had ordered a demonstrative burning of the bourgeois newspaper Rech's entire edition one day earlier. According to Lenin, free speech is a bourgeois notion. There can be no free speech in a revolutionary period. Lenin banned all bourgeois parties at the end of December.

The Constituent Assembly met on the 5th (18th) of January 1918 and rejected the Bolshevik government with 237 votes against 136. On the following day, Lenin had the "Latvian riflemen" i.e. the German troops dissolve the parliament. German soldiers opened fire on the crowd who tried to defend the Constituent Assembly. Thus Bolsheviks actually performed their coup. They had no intention of leaving power. There was too much left to plunder.

Bankers Saved Communist Rule in Russia

The Bolsheviks were not a visible political force at the time the Czar abdicated, On May 1st, 1918, when the Bolsheviks controlled only a small fraction of Russia and were to come near to losing even that fraction in the summer of 1918, the American League to Aid and Cooperate with Russia was organized in Washington, D.C. to support the Bolsheviks. It was a committee created by Wall Street with George P. Whalen of Vacuum Oil Company as Treasurer and Coffin and Oudin of General Electric, along with Thompson of the Federal Reserve System, Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. They helped communists in following ways.

Blockade and so called Intervention by West :- The blockade had helped to strengthen the power of the Communist regime because communists could easily blame blockade as the cause of people's suffering and compel people to join red army on the pretext of saving Russia from foreign intervention. Intervention and blockade created chaos and prevented the people from understanding the real nature of the Bolshevik regime. It also allowed communist to use all terrorism on the pretext of suppressing enemy spies.

Trotsky instituted mandatory conscription of the peasantry into the Red Army. Families were tortured and killed to force the compliance. The Bolshevik leader had given orders to draw up lists of people who absolutely had to be executed. Lenin declared that an entire social class (the bourgeoisie) would have to be eliminated. The Red Jews' aim was to subdue the Russians as quickly as possible. In the beginning they managed, with the help of German troops and American financial support, to eliminate or force into exile nearly all the honest and independently thinking people in Russia.

Allied Forces helped Bolsheviks :- The Western financial elites supported the Bolsheviks in December 1917. The Bolsheviks received all they needed primarily weapons and tin from the Western industrialists.

The historian Louis Fischer stressed that the foreign troops played a very small role for the outcome of the civil war. Rulers of America and their allies under the dictates of bankers, were not at all interested in deposing the Bolsheviks. It would not have been difficult to crush the Bolsheviks, if there had been any real wish to do so. State Department telegraphed to the American ambassador, David Francis, on the 15th of February 1918, to maintain close unofficial contact with the Bolsheviks, so that there would be no need to recognize the Soviet regime officially. In July 1918, the Germans and the Chinese helping communists crushed the Social Revolutionaries' revolt and saved communist rule. The Finnish General Carl Gustaf Mannerheim believed that his well-disciplined troops were capable of conquering Eastern Karelia and deposing Lenin in Petrograd. The Germans prohibited that action. London even considered a declaration of war against Finland if the Finns really threatened the Bolsheviks. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina)

The Allies began to withdraw and their equipment was left to the Bolsheviks. As early as in March 1918, five American officers had begun to train Red Army units. The Americans also sent some war equipment to the Bolsheviks, according to Antony Sutton ("The National Suicide", Melbourne, 1973, p. 76). Sutton refers to another important document, which proves that Trotsky asked the American ambassador, David R. Francis, for official aid to train the Red Army in 1919. The United States, being a mighty military power, made certain that the Japanese did not threaten the establishment of the Soviet regime. The United States occupied the Far East until the Red Army could stand on its own feet and control the Soviet territory.

President Woodrow Wilson had given corresponding secret instructions to the commander of the American troops in the Far East, William S. Graves. Antony Sutton referred to those documents. The Americans controlled the Trans-Siberian Railway, so it was easy for them to drive Kolchak's White forces out of Vladivostok. They could eventually ceremoniously handed the entire area over to the Bolsheviks. The Associated Press related in a telegram that street meetings and celebration parades were held in Vladivostok after admiral Alexander Kolchak's troops had been forced to leave. In ceremonious speeches the Americans were called real friends who had saved the situation.

When the Russian front became superfluous, they simply left the scene of operations. British navy deserted General Nikolai Yudenich's White forces in 1919. They were no longer given any support.

It was revealed that the English were allowed to supply the Whites only with foodstuffs and that the French had received orders to remain completely passive. They were entirely withdrawn from Russia on the 5-6 th of April 1919. Neither did the Allies ever co-ordinate their activities. This sabotaged the operations of the White Army, which was comprised of nationalist volunteers. The Allies thwarted the Whites at all times, and in the beginning they even fought against them. Meanwhile, the Bolsheviks received all kind of help, money and information from the West. Britain sent rifles and ammunition for 250000 men to Soviet Russia, according to The Manchester Guardian (2nd of May 1919). The Whites received an insignificant portion of this shipment. The Frenchmen only gave tiny sums of money to the Whites. The Allies even gave the Bolsheviks direct aid when they conquered the Ukraine, whereas the Ukrainian nationalist leader Simon Petlyura's freedom fighters received no aid at all ("Ukraine & Ukrainians" by Dr Ivan Owechko, p. 114).

United States of America and their allies were not at all interested in deposing the Bolsheviks. The Allies made a complete withdrawal from Northern Russia in order to seriously damage the morale of the White troops after General Anton Denikin had managed to conquer Kiev on the 31 st of August 1919 and had begun marching on Moscow. This was revealed in Paul Johnson's book "Modern Times" (Stockholm, 1987, p. 109). The Polish socialist General Jozef Pilsudski defeated the Bolsheviks at the battle of the Wisla. Being a Freemason, he was immediately thereafter forced to agree to peace with Lenin. Lenin later admitted that if Pilsudski had continued the war for just one more week, it would have meant the end of the Bolsheviks' power, since Wrangel's forces were approaching and the Reds were unable to counter them. The Polish Jews, meanwhile, helped Lenin's troops very actively when the Red Army attacked Poland in 1918-19. Bolsheviks received enough rifles and ammunition from the West to crush the Whites. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina)

According to Igor Bunich, there were also German and other foreign elite soldiers among the Bolshevik Chekist Special Forces. A total of 280,000 so-called internationalists protected the Bolshevik regime. The Germans declared that they would immediately send troops if any threat to the Soviet regime appeared. Lenin's bodyguards were also primarily Germans; among them was Friedrich von Platten from Switzerland. The Germans also continued to give the Bolsheviks financial aid. In November 1917 they received 11.5 million marks, a sum which was the equivalent of 130 million dollars in 1975. Lenin was forced to keep his promise. On December 15th he made separate peace with Germany. After the signing of the peace agreement in Brest-Litovsk on the 3rd of March 1918, he received 40 million rubles in gold to fight against the Whites. On the 20th of August 1918, Lenin, in return, wrote an open letter to the American workers and asked them not to fight against Germany.

Lloyd George was in favor of active contributions to aid the Soviet government. A trade agreement between the Soviet Union and Great Britain was signed on the 16th of March 1921. On the 14th of February 1919, President Wilson demanded a withdrawal of the foreign forces in Russia.

The Holodomor

The Holodomor means death by hunger in Ukraine. Lenin knew he could break the back of the Whites by starving peasants. The systematic confiscation of agricultural produce led to a terrible famine which, in turn, caused epidemics of typhus and other severe illnesses. The confiscated grain was sold abroad. In this way Lenin used the famine as a weapon against his enemies. Famine was means to establish the Bolshevik regime and to reduce the Russian population ("In the Light of Day", Moscow, 1992, p. 52). The situation deteriorated drastically. Therefore, the Bolsheviks had to stop confiscating grain in 1921. Ten million people were starving in July 1921. During the winter of 1921-22, 35 million were without food. (Vladimir Berelovich's article "The Diplomacy of Starvation" in the weekly newspaper Russkaya Mysl, Paris, 27th of September 1985.) Lenin set up food-traps.

The another Holodomor was a man-made famine in the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic in 1932 and 1933. The famine in 1932-1933 caused the deaths of over 6 million people, and the soviet regime tried to deny it. Anyone who tried to bring attention to it were silenced by soviet propaganda. The great famine for a long time was only known through small circulation pamphlets published by Ukrainian organizations and were not widely comprehended until the latter half of 1980's. Novels of the Ukraine famine were censored and anyone who tried to talk about it were subject to arrest.

Collective farming defined as especially in the Soviet Union a farm, or a number of farms organized as a unit, worked by a community under the supervision of the state. The state takes everything from you. Despite large grain reserves, the hunger-stricken population was punished by execution even if little grain was collected from them.

According to a Ukrainian communist leader "A ruthless struggle went on between the peasantry and our regime. It was a struggle to the death. This year was a test of our strength and their endurance. It took a famine to show them who is master here. It has cost millions of lives, but the collective farm system is here to stay.” - M. M. Khatayevich, Ukrainian communist leader (Victor A. Kravchenko, I Chose Freedom [Transaction Publishers, 1989], p. 130).

Communist Russia a Terrorist State

Arrests were a matter of quotas and state goals. And anyone who spoke publicly against them was seized. The number of the prisoners that passed over the course of 35 years until 1953 through the archipelago or died there amounts to roughly 40-50 million. Solzhenitsyn himself estimated the toll at 60 million. Fifteen million declared non-citizens as “enemies of the state,” were prevented to study, the right to obtain a doctorate, or eligibility to work for the state. Their farms were ruined and they were shoved together like cattle and deported to their destruction in the taiga which is the inhospitable area below the Russian Arctic tree line containing mostly coniferous forests, and the tundra which is a very cold Arctic region unable to support forests due to freezing temperatures and short growing season.

Within a few years, from 1928 to 1931, 138,000 civil servants were removed from public service. Of them, 23,000 were classified under “Category I,” “enemies of Soviet power,” and lost their civil rights. From January 1930 to June 1931, 48% of the engineers in the Donets region were dismissed or arrested. In the transportation sector alone, 4,500 “sabotage specialists” were “exposed.” A decree of December 12, 1930 enumerated more than 30 categories of people from whom citizenship rights were withdrawn : “former landowners, former traders, former nobles, former policemen, officials who worked under the czars, former kulaks, former lessors or owners of private enterprises, former officers of the White Army, clergymen, monks and nuns, former members of the political parties” etc. Including their family members, about 7 million human beings were affected by this, losing not only the right to vote but also their right to an apartment, to medications, to food rations and, after passage of a new “internal passport” law, the right to move to another place.

After the law of August 7, 1932 was issued, “for each theft or waste of socialist property”—such as the gathering of ears of corn from already harvested fields—merely between August 1932 and December 1933, more than 125,000 humans were convicted, and of them 5,400 were condemned to death. According to official investigations which Nikita Khrushchev successfully urged at the XXIIInd Party Congress in 1958, just in 1937-1938 the NKVD arrested 15,75,000 persons.

Slave Labor System in Communist Russia

Lenin and Trotsky wanted militarization of labor. They converted the country into a camp of forced labor. "It is essential to safeguard the Soviet Republic from its class enemies by isolating them in concentration camps." - Bolshevik order (George Leggett, The Cheka: Lenin's Political Police [Clarendon Press, 1981], p. 179)

On June 15, 1929 : The Soviet Supreme Council of National Economy decreed an "uninterrupted workweek" 360 workdays and 5 holidays. (Writings of Leon Trotsky, 1929) Gulags were not "work forever" camps. They were "work to death" camps, designed to liquidate the occupants. Millions were sent to die in them. "The mortality rate stayed enormous in the 80 big concentration camp complexes and the "hundreds of single camps." Just in the concentration camp of Kolyma [in far northeastern Siberia], at least 3 million human beings perished from the terrible living conditions and temperatures as low as -60 degrees C." A sum total of 40 million Bolshevik terror victims 1917-1941 is now generally considered realistic. Solzhenitsyn tells, "by the computations of the emigrated statistics professor Kurganov, this 'relatively light' suppression that ran from the beginning of the October Revolution through 1950 cost Russians about 66 million human lives." [GULAGArchipelago, p. 37]

Foreigners were also made Slave-Laborers

After the Second World War Soviet Union needed millions of new slaves to work in the projects of Jewish industrialists who were given most lucrative contracts. Communists used hundreds of thousands of foreign slaves for various such rebuilding projects. New slave camps for foreigners were built with the silent approval of Western rulers. A revealing film about these slaves was released in France in 1995 "Foreign Slaves in the GULAG". Whilst the West celebrated the victory, an order came from Moscow to the Soviet zone in Germany, commanding the NKVD and Smersh (Death to the spies!) to imprison any foreigners in the zone. Among those arrested were Italians, Frenchmen, Poles and others who had worked in the German war industry, and foreign (including many Russian) refugees. Many allied prisoners of war, who had been held in German prison camps, also became Soviet slaves. Many German prisoners of war were also enslaved. In this way, hundreds of thousands of innocent foreigners were captured during a short period of time. Western governments declared those people "missing" or "deserted". They wanted to conceal the real circumstances from the public. Lenin laid down the slaves' work averages and food rations. His amazing order stated that all "useless" foreigners were to be sent to the concentration camps. He had even decided how many victims were to die. (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina)

Mass Killings in Communist Russia

Communists had founded the political police named as the Cheka.

The torture of the political victims in the prisons of Russia, in the concentration camps of the frozen North and in Siberian exile was common practice. Executions took place daily. The Jewish executioners used to shout: "Long live the red terror ! Death to the bourgeois ! "The doomed were piled into automobile trucks, face downward, and driven to the outskirts of the city. The long line of the death-vehicles is escorted by mounted men firing into the air — a warning to close the windows. At the appointed place the procession halts. The victims are made to undress and to take their places at the edge of the already prepared common grave. Shots resound — the bodies, some lifeless, some merely wounded, fall into the hole and are hastily covered with sod.

Bolsheviks' cold-blooded mass-murders amounted to 66 million in the beginning and later reached a total of 143 million, according to the English researcher Philipp van der Est. Even the Bolsheviks called their own purge "the Red Terror". The following are numbers of victims in the first four years of the glorious Russian Revolution: 28 bishops of the Church, 1,215 priests and 6,000 monks. Next come 8,800 [Christian] doctors and their aides. 54,650 army and naval officers, 10,500 police officers (lieutenant-rank and above) and 48,500 lower-ranking policemen. 260,000 flag-loyal soldiers, of the old army, all now executed. Then came the intelligentsia : teachers; professors, engineers, building contractors, writers and judges — especially judges, lawyers, district attorneys and all the college-educated occupations together to reach the number of 361,825. They also annihilated large-landholding class, consisting of 12,950 persons. The tiny remainder of intellectuals left over has suffered such a blood-letting and deliberate and systematic humiliation that they have forfeited every last bit of self-esteem and personal honor. Workers and peasants executed amount to only 192,350 workers and 815,000 peasants.

All these figures are official statistics published by the Cheka the forerunner of the KGB and printed in easily obtainable Bolshevik newspapers during the period of what was then called “war communism” when the anti-communist “White” forces were fighting Trotsky and the Red Army, 1917-1921. Since then, of course, these figures have risen, because the murders continue. (A Sea of Blood The Truth about Bolshevik Russia By Dr. Gregor, First Edition published in 1926 by the German Folk Publishing House, Munich, Germany, Dr. E. Boepple)

The American press had painted a monstrous picture of the Czar Nicholas II. That was why the American public was so happy with his deposition. The unfair propaganda continues to this day. A mere five rebels were hanged and others banned to Siberia for this the Czar has been labeled for the last hundred years as “the policeman of Europe” and “the bloodthirsty hangman.”

Every true historian knows that a total of 467 murderers were executed in Russia between 1826 and 1904. (Professor Vittorio Strada's article "Death Penalties and the Russian Revolutions", Obozreniye, No. 14, p. 25, Paris, 1984.) This comes to 6 death sentences per year. Was this really terror ? How many were killed during the same period in the United States of America ? How many Indians were eliminated during the same period ? The massacre at Wounded Knee where government soldiers murdered three hundred unarmed Indians, including women and children, on the 29th of December 1890.

Communist atrocities and mass murder have been trivialized, downplayed and downright soft-peddled in Western media, film, television and academia. It's hardly even mentioned in high school or college history classes. The reason is simple : Jews dominate and control the Western press, mass media, television, publishing houses & Hollywood and Jews were behind Communism. Finding the truth is always difficult, especially when documents are forged and changed, books burned, people and eyewitnesses are assassinated, and real history is changed and replaced with Jewish lies.

Jew Communists control the masses with fatal doses of propaganda and a completely falsified history.

The New Economic Policy (NEP)

Lenin called his New Economic Policy (NEP) of 1921 as state capitalism because it explicitly bowed to foreign investment. Lenin permitted foreigners to start concession companies, where the Westerners owned 51 per cent. These industrialists were already active in Russia before 1921, but in that year Lenin removed the cloak and simply admitted it. Companies took their profits out of the Soviet Union. Those businessmen included Armand Hammer and W. Averell Harriman, who became the American ambassador in Moscow in 1943. On October 28, 1921, Armand Hammer represented 38 American companies including Ford in Moscow.

Lenin, was more interested in appropriating the property and riches of the Russians than in practicing Utopian socialism. The Swedish socialists, too, in the name of "fair distribution", have transformed their subjects into tax-slaves. In this situation, the plundering escalated.

Stalin's First Five-Year Plan viciously pushed industrialization for the benefit of the western industrialists. It moved money out of Russia and into the pockets of foreign investors. This industrialization didn't help Russia at all.

In 1923 Soviets formed their first international bank, Ruskombank. Morgan associate Olof Aschberg became its nominal head. Max May, a vice president of Guaranty Trust, became a director of Ruskombank, and the Ruskombank promptly appointed Guaranty Trust Company its U.S. agent.

On the one hand, Jewish Communists had to attack all gentile landowners, factory operators and bankers as "enemies of the people". On the other hand, they had to exempt Jewish landowners, factory owners and bankers from these attacks. In the entire Communist literature, one finds not a single criticism of the Rothschilds or the Jewish bankers.

Fake-Show before foreign Delegates

The well-kept schools were for creating fair image before the foreign missions and delegates who were visiting Russia. Every-thing was lavished on these show schools at the cost of the others. (Emma Goldman : My Disillusionment in Russia, 1923, The Anarchist Library) According to Alexander Berkman, some schools for show were in splendid condition, the children well fed and well clad, enjoying concerts, theatricals, dances, and other amusements. But the majority of the school children's homes were squalid, dirty, and neglected. Those in charge of the preferred schools had over-supply. But the caretakers of the common schools would waste their time and energies by the week going about from one department to another, discouraged and faint with endless waiting before they could obtain the merest necessities. It was found that the children were dirty, full of vermin, sleeping on filthy mattresses, fed on miserable food, punished by being locked in dark rooms for the night, forced to go without their suppers, and even beaten. The number of officials and employees in the schools was nothing less than criminal. In one school, for instance, there were 138 of them to 125 children. In another, 40 to 25 children. All these parasites were taking the bread from the very mouths of the unfortunate children.

Human Rights only means Jewish Rights

Human rights only means "Jewish rights", because, according to Talmudic law, gentiles are not humans and therefore have no rights. Jewish dictatorship, extended over the gentiles, is called Communism. They deny people private property, a voice in the government, or the right to question the authority. Under Talmudic law, gentiles are beasts who cannot be allowed to own anything, neither homes, nor land, nor personal property. Therefore in carrying out the seizure of private property from the gentiles, the Jews are simply following a basic principle of their religion decreed in Talmud.

When Communists take over a country, the first thing they do is to murder all of the gentile leaders — the professors, doctors, government officials, and any other gentiles who might lead opposition against them. This follows the basic Jewish command, "The best of the gentiles — kill !"

Without this complete dictatorship over the gentile, the Jew can never feel fully secure. First comes the financial power, then the government dictatorship of Communism. Under Communism, the Jews do not have to bribe gentile officials. They merely sign their order of execution. Weak gentiles are sent to concentration camps; those who might present a threat to the rabbinical theocracy are tortured and murdered. After a few years of Jewish Communist rule, there are no gentile leaders left, and the gentile survivors sink into a state of hopeless apathy. The gentiles exist in a zombie half-world of fear and poverty. The spark of life has been extinguished.

Their first official act was to pass a law that antisemitism, or criticism of the Jews, was the worst crime one could commit in Communist Russia. It was punishable by death, and might be as insignificant as telling an anti-Jewish joke. Even the possession of books about the Jews, such as the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion, was a crime punishable by death.

Everything that happened in Russia under the cover of Communism was actually strongly connected with the religion of the Jews. Old Testament was the textbook of Bolshevism. In Genesis, chapter 47, verses 13-26, it is described how Joseph cunningly exploited a famine to enslave the Egyptians. He had gathered in huge amounts of grain (Gen. 41:29-57) in order to sell it to the Egyptians, in years of dearth, for cattle, land and their own freedom. In the same way Russian peasants were enslaved and forced into Kibbutzes by means of an artificial famine in 1932-33. It was a pious act of Joseph to withhold enormous profits, made in the Pharaoh's name, for the enrichment of his own family as Jehovah's later command in Exodus 3:22: says "Ye shall despoil the Egyptians !" (Source: Robert Graves and Raphael Patai, Hebrew Myths, "The book of Genesis", London, 1964, pp. 266-267.) (Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina)

Chapter VIII

Shaping the Global Government

The Jewish banking cartel had started devising global institutions that would bring world countries under their financial control by enforcing financial rules. Their ultimate aim is to establish Jewish world government.

Formation of BIS, WB and IMF

Bankers wanted to create a world system of their financial control to dominate the political system and economy of each country.

In 1930 The Bank for International Settlements (BIS) was established. BIS deals only with other central banks. Its meetings are held in secret and involve the top central bankers from around the world.

The BIS has the status of a sovereign power and is immune from governmental control. It includes : Diplomatic immunity for persons and what they carry with them (i.e., diplomatic pouches). No taxation on any transactions, including salaries paid to employees. Embassy-type immunity for all buildings and /or offices operated by the BIS worldwide including China and Mexico. No oversight or knowledge of operations by any government authority, they are not to be audited. Freedom from immigration restrictions. Freedom to encrypt any and all communications of any sort. Freedom from any legal jurisdiction, they even have their own police force.

In 1944 in Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, the International Monetary Fund (IMF), and the World Bank (WB) were approved with full United States participation. The IMF is controlled by its board of governors, which are either the heads of different central banks, or the heads of the various national treasury departments dominated by their central banks. The voting power in the IMF gives the Federal Reserve and the Bank of England, effective control of it. The IMF has been given the authority to issue a world fiat money called, "Special Drawing Rights," or SDR's. Member nations were subsequently pressured into making their currencies fully exchangeable for SDR's.

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank deals with world governments.

Dollar as an International Currency

In July 1944, an international conference met at Bretton Woods in the USA to decide post-war international money system. The Americans enforced the US dollar as the main international currency. The other countries, bankrupted by the costs of the 2nd world war, had to agree. They ratified Bretton Woods on two conditions : 1) the Federal Reserve would not over-print the dollar to loot real products and produce from other nations. 2) the US dollar would always be convertible to gold at $35 per ounce.

Formation of United Nations

In 1945 "United Nations" was approved with the sole aim to create world government. James Paul Warburg before the Senate on 7th February stated, "We shall have World Government, whether or not we like it. The only question is whether World Government will be achieved by conquest or consent."

The Jewish central banking cartel has an almost global monopoly over government credit. They want monopoly over everything - political, cultural, economic and spiritual. The New World Order creates a false reality to mentally enslave people. Government, education, entertainment and the news media are in the hands of the central banking cartel. Intelligence agencies serve the central bankers. Society is helpless to address its real problems. Who expose bankers are stymied by the bogus charge of "antisemitism". There is no shortage of lackeys, often Freemasons and Masonic Jews, willing to share the spoils of the bankers' fraud. This defines "success" today. (<https://www.henrymakow.com/How to Make Sense of Current Events - henrymakow.com.htm>)

America becomes a Jewish Colony ?

The center of Jewish world power has been transferred to New York. That is the meaning of the heavy migration of Jews all over the world towards New York. It is to them what Rome is to the devout Catholic and what Mecca is to the Mohammedan. And by that same token, immigrant Jews are more freely admitted to the United States than they are to Israel and Palestine.

Jews form a nation within the nations with their powerful organizations. Many of them are secret. All work in unison. Today, the New York Kehillah is the largest and most powerful union of Jews in the world. They influence every aspect of American life through their tentacles. Through B'nai B'rith and ADL bankers control political and social life of America. ADL will harass any politician going against Jewish interest to such an extent that he is defeated in election. He has to either submit or get retired.

Bankers through their front organizations contribute money to all political parties and movements, a basic technique of the Jews for exercising control over its every activity. Bankers finance all the groups such as white supremest groups, Black organizations, feminist groups, various religious and other cults including satanism. Bankers even fund Anti-Jewish groups.

Many anti-Jewish groups in the United States are financed secretly by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. The ADL constantly stir fear by publicizing the anti-Jewish groups out of all proportion. It spends four hundred thousand dollars a year for this purpose, but it annually collects from the Jewish people five million dollars ! This also enables the ADL to maintain a tight control over the Jewish community, and over the anti-Jewish groups. They know the extent of anti-Jewish feeling are in the United States.

Pluralism is the technique of the Jew for maintaining power over the gentiles. Therefore, Jews promote emigration of all kinds of people to America and make America as heterogeneous as possible so that solidly organized Jews can decide fate of every politician in Election.

Jews support heterogeneous Society in America to stir them against each other but wants Israel to remain totally made up of the Jews. Jews want to enter into every organization but prevent others from entering theirs. Jews demand to be admitted to all societies, but they prohibit non-Jews from entering theirs. There are dozens of such paradoxes shamelessly followed.

The former Malaysian Prime Minister, Dr. Mahathir Mohamed, explained: “The Jews rule this world by proxy, they get others to fight and die for them... They have now gained control of the most powerful countries ... This tiny community have become a world power.” Jewish power is supremely epitomized by the fact that criticism of Christianity, Islam, or any other major religion or ethnic group is fully permissible in our societies, but criticism of Jews and Judaism, on the other hand, is taboo, off-limits as well as socially and politically dangerous. Those who name Jews as the prime mover behind the New World Order — which is the “Jew World Order” — are ruthlessly suppressed, censored, harassed, terrorized, arrested, imprisoned, and in some extreme cases even killed. (The Jew World Order Unmasked by ZionCrime-Factory <http://zioncrimefactory.com/>)

Chapter IX

Communist Revolution in China

Communism was spearheaded by Jews not only in Russia, but everywhere in the world where Jews lived including Western & Eastern Europe, America, Canada, Australia and South Africa. The communist regimes imposed on Eastern and Western Europe during and following the Second World War — principally in Ukraine, Poland, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, East Germany, and the Baltic States — were just as Jewish-dominated as the Soviet Union. Now they wanted to take China for plunder.

Jewish Population in China

There has been a major Jewish population in China for over several thousand years such as the Jews of Kaifeng. Jews have never experienced discrimination or prejudice in China. The first Jews from what is now Iraq settled in China during the Tang dynasty (618-907 AD). A Jesuit missionary found a considerable Synagogue in the city of Kaifeng in province of Honan. They were told that Jews' ancestors, who were rich and numerous came to this land from the northwest nearly three thousand years ago. They built a fine synagogue on the land presented to them by the Emperor Tai-tsi. The synagogue, was destroyed by flood in Yellow River.

Jews came from a variety of places and by whatever routes seemed most expedient. They traveled to China by land and by sea. Some went back and forth. Others stayed and eventually settled down there. Inevitably, some fair-size Jewish communities appeared in the cities where they had business and resided. Other Jews were brought to China as captives taken by the Mongols during their march of conquest through Central Asia and Eastern Europe in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. Thus many Jewish communities in China were established across the whole country.

Those Jews who came before 1840 became part of Chinese society without distinct features.

After the first Opium War, Jews were brought from various countries and they were established in Hong Kong, Shanghai, Tianjin, Harbin and in other cities in Manchuria. Starting from the late 19th century, Jews fleeing czarist Russia's persecution flooded into Harbin, their population peaking at some 25,000 in the 1920s. The emigrants turned the city into the largest Jewish political, economic and cultural center in the Far East.

Jews came in several waves during Modern China (since 1840), when China was forced to open her doors to Western powers. First came Sephardic Jews, originally from Baghdad and Bombay, to look for business opportunities in newly-opened Chinese cities such as Shanghai and Hong Kong in the second half of the 19th century. By the beginning of the 20th century they had built up solid Jewish communities in those cities.

The second wave was the arrival of Ashkenazi Jews from Russia and other East European countries. Most of them first arrived in Harbin and in North-east China. Later many of them moved to southern regions of China.

The third wave was the arrival of European Jewish refugees. During 1937-1940 about 20,000 European Jewish refugees swarmed into Shanghai, fleeing from countries under Nazi control.

The last wave was the arrival of some 1,000 Jews from Poland and other Eastern European countries in the early 1940s. In 1941, about 1,000 Jews mostly from Poland arrived in Shanghai from Japan. Zerah Wahrhafting, who was an influential leader of the Mizrahi Movement came to Shanghai in 1941 and paved the way for Polish Jews to resettle in Shanghai through many talks with the Japanese authorities. Zerah Wahrhafting later became a member of the Israeli Cabinet from 1962 to 1974.

The Jewish community in Hong Kong was founded in the mid-19th century by Iraqi Jews, the descendants of those expelled from Spain and Portugal.

During the Second World War, tens of thousands of European Jews took refuge in Shanghai. Coming to Shanghai didn't require any visa. During World War Two, 25,000-30,000 Jews from Europe took refuge in Shanghai. The authorities of the international and French concessions opened the doors and allowed them to live in the city. Thousands received visas from Asian diplomats – Ho Feng-shan, Chinese consul general in Vienna; Chiune Sugihara, Japanese consul in Kaunas, Lithuania to come to China. According to Wang Ti-fu, a diplomat of the Manchukuo embassy in Berlin. They issued the visas despite orders from their superiors not to do so.

Wide Jewish Network in China

The Jewish Community of Harbin besides synagogues, ran a school, a library, a hospital, two Jewish banks, a home for the aged, and numerous charitable organizations. The Talmud Torah (Jewish religious school) was established in Harbin in 1919. The Community had many publications in Russian and in Yiddish. Among them, Yevreskaya Zhizn was published from 1920 to 1940. Cultural and social activities such as theatrical performances and musical offerings were conducted.

In 1937, the Far Eastern Jewish Council was established. The Conference of Jewish Communities in the Far East were organized three times from 1937-1939 in Harbin. Each conference was attended by several hundred of Jewish representatives from Tianjin, Shanghai, and other Chinese cities; and from Kobe, Japan. A decision was reached at the 1937 Conference that all the Jewish communities in China would be combined into a single overall autonomous association. It would cover all religious, educational, cultural, social, and economic activities; care for refugees from Central Europe; and register all Jews and all the Jewish organizations in the Far East.

Beside Harbin, there were a number of small Jewish communities established in various cities in the early 20th century in Northeast China and Inner Mongolia, such as Hailar, Manchuli, Dalian, Mukden etc. All were connected with the Harbin Jewish Community either economically or socially.

Matthew Nathan had become Jewish governor of Hong Kong during 1904 to 1907. He was a soldier and an engineer and had been born in London.

Jewish Opium Business Network in China

The Jew David Sassoon had to leave Baghdad in 1832. He established himself in Bombay (now Mumbai). He placed his eight sons in charge of the major opium exchanges in China in every port. He had offices in Hong Kong, Singapore, Burma, Canton, and even as far as Japan and Indonesia. Sassoon expanded his opium trade into China and Japan. He employed only Jews in his business. He imported whole families of Jews to work. Part of the opium business profits went to Queen Victoria and the British government.

Opium Wars began with the British Army fighting as mercenaries of the Sassoon family. In 1839 "The Treaty of Nanking" was signed. It included 1) Full legalization of the opium trade in China, 2) Compensation of 2 million pounds for opium confiscated, and 3) Territorial sovereignty for the British Crown over two hundred offshore islands. China also had to pay Sassoon and England the sum of 21 million pounds for the cost of the war.

This established Sassoon's monopoly to distribute opium in port cities. This did not satisfy him and Sassoon demanded the right to sell opium throughout the nation. The Manchus resisted and the British Army again attacked in the "Second Opium War" fought during 1858 – 1860. In the new "Peace Treaty" of October 25, 1860, the British were assigned rights to trade opium covering 87.5% of China. It brought over 20 million pounds in 1864 alone. Sassoon family thus became the richest Jews in the world.

England was given the Hong Kong peninsula as a colony and large sections of Amoy, Canton, Foochow, Ningpo and Shanghai. The Sassoon family were now licensing opium dens in each British occupied area with large fees being collected by their Jewish agents.

Jewish Business Empire in China

Elias David Sassoon expanded the Sassoon interests in China. In 1867 he left his father's firm and opened his own branches in Shanghai and Hongkong under the name of E.D. Sassoon & Co. The company grew to such an extent that it soon far surpassed the senior's undertakings. The name of E.D. Sassoon & Co. became as a synonym for mercantile and banking power in China.

One of David's sons, Arthur, was on the provisional committee that founded the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation in 1864. Another son, Frederick, was elected to the Legislative Council in 1884.

Elly Kadoorie was the Iraqi Jew, first member of the Jewish Kadoories dynasty, to arrive in Hong Kong in 1880. He joined the Sassoon family company. Elly subsequently moved to Shanghai while his brother Ellis concentrated his efforts in Hong Kong. They amassed a fortune by investing in rubber plantations, banking, docks and real estate. In 1914, Ellis made a major investment in Hongkong and Shanghai Hotels, which now operates 10 properties under the Peninsula brand across Asia, Europe and the United States. He bought into China Light and Power (now CLP Holdings), the largest electricity-generation company in Hong Kong. In 1993, the Kadoorie had stakes in the Star Ferry, the Peak Tram, the Cross Harbour Tunnel and the Daya Bay nuclear power station, in Shenzhen. In 1981, Lawrence was named Baron Kadoorie of Kowloon and Westminster in the House of Lords.

Jew Emanuel Belilios, was contemporary of the Sassoon family and another opium millionaire. He was appointed to the Legislative Council in 1881.

The flamboyant Harry Odell, known as Hong Kong's first impresario, arrived here in 1921. He started a film business, persuaded famous performers to visit and successfully lobbied the government to support the foundation of the City Hall theatre complex.

Most Jews in Tianjin engaged in commercial activities, especially the fur trade. There were more than 100 fur firms owned by Jews in the city. Furs were obtained in Northeast China but sorted and processed in Tianjin. Fur products were chiefly shipped to America and Europe. Tianjin Jews were also involved other export business.

Sassoon family also invested in shipping, hotels and property business. Sir Albert Sassoon constructed huge textile mills in Bombay. This expansion continued after World War One, putting England's mills in Lancashire out of business. Thousands lost their jobs. Even then Queen Victoria knighted Albert Sassoon in 1872. Sassoon family members intermarried with aristocrats. Some became Baronets and one became a Minister of the Government. Sassoon married Aline Caroline de Rothschild in 1887, linking their fortunes. The Queen also knighted Edward.

Later, the entire family moved to England to live in their luxurious estates in London. Through modern telecommunication techniques they operated their financial empire and socialized with the British royalty.

Criminal Mafia in China

It is no hidden fact that business empires use politics as well as criminal mafia to promote their business interests. Therefore, it is worth considering criminal mafia in china.

The Chinese criminal mafia is known as the Triads who controls Chinese organized crime. They were active since 18th century among Hung Society. They worked with foreign traders to bring opium into China. This means that they were working with Sassoon family and the British government in spreading opium business throughout the China and the far east.

In the 19th century, they operated as secret societies opposed to the harsh rule of the Manchu Qing dynasty. Some historians believe that the Triads may have played a role in the toppling of the last emperor in 1911. The Triads thrived in the warlord era in the 1920s, 1930s and 1940s, and particularly in Shanghai. The Shanghai-based Green Gang had 100,000 members.

Chinese Triad societies are some of the world's largest crime organizations. They are believed to have more than 250,000 members, with 100,000 in Hong Kong alone and control an empire worth many billions of dollars.

The largest and most powerful Triad, Sun Yee On, is believed to have 40,000 members. Sun Yee On, was named on Asia week's list of the 50 most powerful people in Asia. Sun Yee On is believed to be particularly well connected with the Hong Kong tycoons and Communist party elite.

The Triads have been active in Hong Kong almost since its inception. They were engaged in the local opium trade and helped and were assisted by the British police force. It is estimated that there are 50 or so Triad gangs in Hong Kong.

Triad members take many forms. In addition to being gangsters, are also respected judges, civil servants and politicians. Members of the Big Circle Triad allegedly include former commandos of the People's Liberation Army armed with AK-47 assault rifles and Red Star pistols.

Brief History of Foreign Banks In China

Banking is traditional Jewish Business. The first foreign bank in China was the Bombay-based British Oriental Bank. It opened branches in Hong Kong, Guangzhou and Shanghai in the 1840s. Other British banks also set up their branches in China. The British bankers enjoyed a monopoly on modern banking for forty years. The Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation established in 1865 in Hong Kong, later became the largest foreign bank in China. In the early 1890s, Germany's Deutsch-Asiatische Bank, Japan's Yokohama Specie Bank, France's Banque de l'Indo-Chine, and Russia's Russo-Asiatic Bank opened branches in China. By the end of the nineteenth century there were nine foreign banks with forty-five branches in China's treaty ports.

Foreign banks enjoyed extraterritorial rights. They enjoyed complete control over China's international remittance and foreign trade financing. Unregulated by the Chinese government, they were free to issue banknotes, accept deposits from Chinese citizens, and make loans to the local banks.

After a series of military defeats, the Qing government was forced to borrow from foreign banks to finance its indemnity payments to foreign powers. Qing government was persuaded to undertake large industrial projects which required large amounts of capital. China had to depend upon foreign banks for large scale and long term finance.

China's first central bank was established in 1905 and later renamed as the Great Qing Government Bank. The Da Qing Bank's note was granted exclusive privilege to be used in all public and private fund transfers, including tax payments and debt settlements. Da Qing Bank was also given exclusive privilege to run the state treasury. The Board of Revenue that controlled most the central government's revenue, transferred most of its tax remittance through the bank and its branches. The government entrusted the bank with the transfer of the Salt Surplus Tax, diplomatic expenditures, the management of foreign loans, the payment of foreign indemnities, and the deposit and transfer of the customs tax in many treaty ports.

Following the Xinhai Revolution of 1911, Da Qing Bank was renamed as the Bank of China. This bank continues to exist today. The decade from the Northern Expedition to the Second Sino-Japanese War in 1937 has been described as a "golden decade" for China's banking industry.

From the following excerpt from the conversation between Stalin and Mao proves that even in communist China foreign banks were untouched :-

Stalin : ..... Are there foreign banks operating in Shanghai?

Comrade Mao Zedong : Yes.

Comrade Stalin : And whom are they serving?

Comrade Mao Zedong : The Chinese national bourgeoisie and foreign enterprises which so far we have not touched. As for the foreigners' spheres of influence, the British predominate in investments in the economic and commercial sectors, while the Americans lead in the sector of cultural-educational organizations. (Conversation between the Soviet Union's Joseph Stalin and China's Mao Zedong December 16, 1949 (<http://international.ucla.edu/asia/mao491216.htm>))

Formation of Communist Party of China

The Communist Party in China was created in 1921 by the Jewish Communist International during a meeting in Shanghai between Jews from Russia and Chinese Jews as Shanghai has always had a large Chinese-Jewish population. Jewish Lenin and Trotsky sent Jew Gregory Voitinsky to China to make contact with leftist intellectuals, like Jew Chen Duxiu.

The Chinese Communist Party was little more than a puppet of the Soviet Union. In 1933, the Chinese Communist Party sent this message to Joseph Stalin : “Lead us on, O our pilot, from victory to victory !”

During 1923 to 1927 the Comintern agent and Jew Mikhail Gruzenberg alias Mikhail Borodin was sent to China. He managed to persuade the national government (the KMT) to allow communists into the government bureaucracy. Other Jews involved are Israel Epstein, member of the CCP Parliament. Several Jews had ended up in Shanghai and then later in Hong Kong to aid a Communist take over. They wanted to ship as many Jews into China from the West to advance Jewish Communism. Dr. Ho Feng-Shan, was planted by Rothschild as the Chinese consul-general in Vienna from May 1938 to May 1940 who before and during the Second World War issued more than 21,000 visas to white Jews.

In 1937 the communist agent Edgar Snow published Red Star Over China, a Rockefeller-sponsored apologetic for the Chinese Communist Party (CCP). Snow's remains are buried today at Beijing University. During 1930s to 1949 several foreigners had helped to impose the CCP dictatorship upon China. JEW Manfred Stern, Comintern agent in China was during 1932 to 1935. JEW Otto Braun (alias: Li De), Comintern agent in China was from 1932 to 1939). Common Chinese Communists believed that these foreigners have arrived to help, when in fact they intend to foist a slave regime of Jews upon China. Since China had little industry, Chinese communists made farmers their main focus.

Kuomintang the Chinese Nationalist Party

Dr. Sun Yat-sen, began his revolutionary movement at Canton. The Jew Morris Cohen, a British subject, became his aide-de-camp. Dr. Sun Yat Sen sent him around the globe to get military experts for his revolutionary army.

The Soviet Jew, Jacob Borodin was sent by the Kremlin with the Jew Joffe, in 1923, to bolshevizize Sun Yat-sen and to become Chief Political Adviser to the Kuomintang (the KMT). His wife, a Jewess, spied in China for the Soviets.

China had been ruled by emperors until 1911, until the Qing Dynasty was overthrown. Xinhai Revolution in 1911 overthrew the Qing Dynasty and established the Republic of China. The revolution is largely attributed to Dr. Sun Yat-sen, who sought to make China a constitutional republic. After the emperors' fall, China was largely ruled by local warlords. Dr. Sun encountered extreme difficulties in unifying the enormous nation under a constitutional government. Following Dr. Sun's death in 1925, the task of unifying China fell to Kuomintang leader Chiang Kai-shek.

Jew Morris Cohen was employed as liaison officer between the Canton Government and all foreign Consulates-General. Cohen became known in China as Moi-Sha, and was made Military Counselor to the Cantonese Forces, and a General, although still he was a British subject.

Jew, A. Joffe, head of the Soviet Mission to Sun Yat-sen, became Political Adviser to Chiang Kai-shek in 1926. He organized the Red Section of the Kuomintang. In the Political Department of the Red Army in China were two Jews, W. N. Levitshev and J. B. Gamarnik, who in 1936 was its head.

When Chiang Kai-shek eventually saw through their schemes, by 1928 deported many USSR agents. In 1927 a raid was made on the Soviet Embassy at Peking. It revealed the scope and extent of the Soviet plot to communist takeover of China. Consequently, Borodin and his agents were imprisoned.

The Nanking Ministry of Finance has always been dominated by Jews, viz: Kann, L. Rajchman and R. Haas. In England, the Jew Billmeir helped, with his merchant fleet, to take Soviet arms to China in 1938. Jew Ben Kizer [USA] was appointed head of Unrra in China.

The Rockefeller-funded "China Hands" in the U.S. infiltrated and sabotaged the KMT while doing pro-CCP work.

Yale University was founded by Eli Yale. He had made his fortune working for the opium smuggling of British East India Company. In 1903, Yale Divinity School established a number of schools and hospitals throughout China that were collectively known as 'Yale in China.' It has since been shown that 'Yale in China' was an intelligence network.

Yale in China loved the Chinese communists because they were committed to the production of drugs. According to Dr. Antony Sutton in his book 'The Patriot Review', the Skulls and Bones helped to build up the Communist movement in China.

During World War II, 'Yale in China' was a primary instrument used by the U.S. Establishment and its Office of Strategic Services (OSS) to install the Communists into power.

Mao Zedong (Mao Tse Tung)

One of 'Yale in China's' most important students was Mao Zedong. Due to his family's relative wealth, Mao's father was able to send him to school and later to Changsha for more advanced schooling. Mao was a Chinese peasant who was schooled by Skull and Bones men and initiated into the internationalist Masonic Lodge by socialist Jews from the United States. This was done with the tacit permission of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a 32nd degree Mason and, later, President Harry S. Truman a 33rd degree Mason. Mao was picked up to play puppet leader with resourced funneled through Yale University. Mao was a completely controllable, blackmailable puppet for their purposes.

Mao married Yang Kaihui, Professor Yang's daughter who was his fellow student. Chen Duxiu was the Dean of Peking University. Chen had participated in the Xinhai Revolution.

Jews also held high-ranking positions in Communist Army and were given high titles. Jakob Rosenfeld, a Viennese physician turned hero of the Chinese revolution. Norman Bethune, a Canadian doctor whose services during the Sino-Japanese war inspired Mao to write an essay on him. The Jewish doctor, General Luo, was into the upper echelons of the revolutionary army. "He was named health minister in the Communist army's provisional government in 1947. During 1930s two Jewish generals took control of the Chinese Communist Party army from Mao Zedong but later control was restored to Mao.

During 1934 to October 1935 the Long March began on October 16 after KMT armies crushed the "Jianxi Soviet" inflicting history's most humiliating defeat upon the communists. Mao's decisions during the Long March were not heroic and ingenious. Chiang Kai-shek deliberately did not pursue and capture the Red Army because his son was being held hostage in Moscow and he feared he would be killed if the Communists failed. Chiang Kai-shek therefore, allowed the Communists to proceed without significant hindrance.

Areas under Communist control during the Second United Front and Chinese Civil War, such as the Jiangxi and Yan'an soviets, were ruled through terror and financed by opium. Mao not just tolerated the production of opium in regions that the Communists controlled during the Chinese Civil War but also participated in the trade of it, in order to provide funding for his soldiers. At the time the trade generated around $60 million a year for the Communists. This was stopped only due to overproduction driving down the price and Communist officials other than Mao deciding that the practice was immoral.

Pro-Communist Lobby in US Government

American Govt. under the dictates of Jewish Bankers, was full of communists agents. Dean Acheson represented Soviet interests in America, had become Assistant Secretary of State in 1941. He ensured the State Department's Far Eastern Division was dominated by communists and pro-communists. Alger Hiss was later proved as a Soviet spy. John Carter Vincent became director of the Office of Far Eastern Affairs, later was identified as a communist. John Stewart Service, Foreign Service Officer in China use to deliver State Department information over to the Chinese communists, and was arrested by the FBI in the Amerasia spy case. Foreign Service Officer John P. Davies consistently lobbied for the communists. Owen Lattimore was appointed as U.S. adviser to Chiang Kai-shek later identified as a communist. Proven Soviet agents within the U.S. government were Harry Dexter White, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; and Alger Hiss, a leading State Department figure.

The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee eventually found IPR included 54 persons connected with the communist world conspiracy. Among them were such communists or pro-communists as Alger Hiss, Frederick Vanderbilt Field, Owen Lattimore, and John Stewart Service.

Moles in the FDR administration continued to act on the behalf of Mao and Stalin by slandering Chiang Kai-shek and exulting Mao. Foreigners in charge portrayed Chiang Kai-shek and the Nationalists as “fascists,” “reactionary,” and “corrupt.” Between 1943 and 1949, 22 pro-communist books appeared in the U.S. press. Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR) was the recipient of grants from the Rockefeller and Carnegie foundations. The institute published hundreds of thousands of pamphlets on China for U.S. public schools and the military. These pamphlets extended the myth that the communists were “agrarian reformers” and the Nationalists “fascists.”

Both the Soviet Union (officially) and the American establishment (unofficially) supported communists of China.

In China, Ambassador Hurley was surrounded by a State Department clique favoring a Chinese communist takeover. Hurley was shocked by the maneuvering of those under him. Hurley was compelled to dismiss 11 State Department members. Upon return from China he came to know that they were not only mysteriously promoted, but some became Hurley’s superiors. Therefore, Hurley resigned from his post.

Stalin's Policy against Nationalists of China

Mao had full support of Stalin and covert support of planted Jewish agents among the nationalists. Stalin encouraged the overthrow of Chiang Kai-shek’s Nationalist government. As a result armed conflict between nationalists and communists intensified.

Stalin, though an ally against Germany during World War II, maintained a nonaggression pact with Japan. This suited Stalin, as he wished the Japanese to wear down China’s Nationalist forces.

When Japanese troops arrived in Manchuria in 1937, Stalin ordered Chinese communists to ease their attacks on the Nationalists because the nationalists were repelling the Japanese. This order was amplified after June 22, 1941, when Germany and its European allies invaded the Soviet Union, and began decimating the Red Army. Stalin feared that Japan would invade Russia from the East and destroy Russia which was center of world communism.

Stalin ordered the Chinese communists to help nationalists against the Japanese in a very limited capacity. Mao Tse-tung told red army that Our determined policy is 70 percent self-development, 20 percent compromise, and 10 percent fight against the Japanese. Therefore, communists spent little energy against the Japanese, mostly attacking the Nationalists, whom they planned to overthrow at the war's conclusion.

According to Chang and Halliday in comparison to official history provided by the Chinese authorities that Communist forces waged a tough guerilla war against the Imperial Japanese Army, in truth they rarely fought the Japanese. Mao was more interested in saving his forces for fighting against the Chinese Nationalists. On the few occasions when the Communists did fight the Japanese, Mao was very angry.

Communist propaganda that Mao was fighting the Japanese, while Chiang was not doing any fighting in completely false. The opposite was the truth. Except for one military campaign fought in 1940 by the Red Army Commander Peng Dehuai, who contravened Mao's order not to engage the Japanese, the Red Army had done little against the Japanese. One of Mao's orders to his army was "retreat when the enemy advances," which they did on almost all occasions. On the other hand, Chiang's Nationalist Army fought all the major engagements of World War II, while the Reds retreated and only occupied territories left behind by the advancing Japanese. Chang and Halliday write: "In Burma, the Nationalists put more Japanese out of action in one campaign than the entire Communist army had in eight years in the whole of China."

For Mao, supreme power was always paramount in all of his decisions. In the process, Mao had betrayed whole communist armies, when they happened to be led by military rivals. Red soldiers were led to their deaths by irresponsible decisions or deliberately to be decimated based only on Mao's maintenance of power and the elimination of competitors. Mao sacrificed thousands of troops simply in order to get rid of party rivals, such as Chang Kuo-tao.

According to Jung Chang and historian Jon Halliday, from his earliest years Mao was motivated by a lust for power and that Mao had many political opponents arrested and murdered, regardless of their relationship with him. During the 1920s and 1930s, they argue, Mao could not have gained control of the party without Stalin's patronage.

Covert American Support for Communist Takeover

American government under Jewish dictates was determined to help communists against the Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists. Because Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists were fighting against the Japanese, the official U.S. policy was also to support them against the Japanese. According to Robert Welch, in Shantung in 1943, the communists attacked from the south an army of twenty thousand Nationalists, simultaneously with a Japanese attack from the north, and helped to slaughter the whole force."

At the Teheran (late 1943) and Yalta (February 1945) at wartime conferences, Roosevelt asked Stalin if he would break his pact with Japan and enter the Far East war. Stalin agreed, but attached conditions. He demanded that America completely equip his Far Eastern Army for the expedition, with 3,000 tanks, 5,000 planes, plus all the other munitions, food, and fuel required for a 12,50,000-man army. Roosevelt accepted this demand, and 600 shiploads of Lend-Lease material were convoyed to the USSR for the venture. Stalin's Far Eastern Army swiftly received more than twice the supplies Americans had given to Chiang Kai-shek during four years as American ally.

Stalin also demanded control of the Manchurian seaports of Dairen and Port Arthur which would give him an unbreakable foothold in China as well as joint control, with the Chinese, of Manchuria's railroads. Roosevelt made these concessions without consulting the nationalists. Thus, without authority, he ceded to Stalin another nation's sovereign territory. The American president made these pledges without the knowledge or consent of Congress or the American people. The State Department official representing the United States in drawing up the Yalta agreement was Alger Hiss later exposed as a Soviet spy.

Stalin's divisions entered China to fight the already-beaten Japanese on August 9, 1945 — five days before Japan's surrender. The atom bomb had already pounded Hiroshima. After barely firing a shot, the Soviets received surrender of Japan's huge arsenals in Manchuria. Stalin handed these arsenals with their American Lend-Lease supplies, over to Mao Tse-tung's communists to overthrow the Nationalist government.

Because Japan controlled China's ports, the Nationalists had to receive supplies by air lift from India. U.S. personnel assigned to China was Stilwell. Stilwell oversaw a campaign of Chinese troops against the Japanese in Burma. Stilwell demanded the operation against the Japanese be launched using 30 Nationalist divisions. Chiang refused since diverting 30 divisions south into Burma would facilitate further conquest of China both by the Japanese and the Chinese communists. Significantly, Stilwell did not request Stalin the use of communist forces against the Japanese for his Burma campaign.

President Roosevelt directed Chiang to place Stilwell in “unrestricted command” of all Chinese forces, and send troops to Burma. Chiang refused the directive and asked Roosevelt to replace Stilwell. Otherwise he would go it alone against the Japanese. Roosevelt was forced to concede. According to Chiang Kai-shek Stilwell was in a conspiracy with the Communists to overthrow the Nationalist Government.

Chang government offices displaced by Japan’s invasion, the Nationalists had to rely on paper currency. Inflation threatened China’s economy. To stabilize the situation, Chiang Kai-shek requested a loan of U.S. gold. President Roosevelt approved, but the gold shipments were delayed and withheld by Soviet agent Assistant Treasury Secretary Harry Dexter White. This collapsed China’s currency. One can understand why some Chinese officials, forced to accept salaries paid in devalued money, turned to corruption.

President Truman had designated George Marshall his special representative to China. When Marshall first arrived in China, the Nationalists outnumbered the communists 5-1 in both troops and rifles, and were successfully driving them back. Regardless of where Marshall served, his actions fortified communism and sabotaged Nationalists.

When Chiang's Nationalist forces were on the verge of defeating Mao's Communist forces, Marshall intervened on three occasions by imposing a Cease-Fire. On each occasion, the Cease-Fire bought Mao much needed time to regroup and re-arm. Marshall also ordered all shipments of arms to Chiang be stopped. This expanded communist control from 57 Chinese counties to 310. Marshall’s disastrous 15-month China mission ended in January 1947. Upon his return to the United States, President Truman rewarded his failures by appointing him as a Secretary of State.

Marshall imposed a weapons embargo on the Nationalists, while the communists continued receiving a steady weapons supply from the USSR. By 1948, due to Marshall’s weapons embargo, the Nationalist government faced nearly inevitable defeat by the communists, who continued receiving unlimited weapons from Russia.

Dean Acheson deceptively told Congress that the Nationalists had received over $2 billion in U.S. aid. In reality most was non-military or unusable. When China had become an issue in the 1948 elections, in April 1948, Congress granted $125 million in military assistance to save Chiang’s government. The first of this aid did not reach the Nationalists until seven months later. The first shipload reached the Nationalists in late 1948 :- Of the total number, 480 of the machine guns lacked spare parts, tripod mounts, etc. Thompson machine guns had no magazines or clips. There were no loading machines for the loading of ammunition belts. Only a thousand of the light machine guns had mounts, and there were only a thousand clips for the 2,280 light machine guns.

Stalin ordered red army to continue to advance for several weeks after Japan's surrender, helping Mao take control and giving him territories and large caches of arms left by the Japanese. These bases and supplies boosted Mao in the ensuing Civil War against Chiang Kai-shek. The occupied territories in northern China, inner Mongolia, and Manchuria were larger than those occupied by the Soviets in Eastern Europe.

Mao received the help he needed, even from the U.S., while Chiang Kai-shek was sidelined and betrayed. Little is known also about several top generals in Chiang's Nationalist Army, whose treachery helped Mao. These officers had been recruited by the CCP while receiving officers' training at the Whampoa Military Academy near Canton; they had become sleeper agents and during the Civil War of 1946-1949, betrayed the Chiang Kai-shek, supplying vital military information, having whole armies massacred deliberately, or surrendering them to Mao.

Western journalists and historians are prohibited from writing about concerns the Jewish origins of Mao Tse Tung's Red Chinese revolution.

Due to the embargo and subsequent sabotaging of aid to the Nationalists spelled their doom. In 1949, the communists completed conquest of China. Chiang Kai-shek with his two million followers escaped to Formosa (now called Taiwan), where they maintained the Republic of China's government. On October 1 in 1949. Mao Zedong declared the founding of the People's Republic Of China in Tiananmen Square, Beijing.

Handlers of Chinese Communist Government

Jews were behind communist takeover of China. He was funded by the Rothschild created Communist Soviet Union. Mao has been a closely-controlled puppet of Jews like Israel Epstein and Sidney Shapiro, who lived in China and had the reins of power over two key areas of Beijing's Communist Government—the treasury (money) and the media (propaganda).

Virginius Frank Coe was a United States government official who was an underground member of the Communist Party and belonged to the Soviet spy group known as the Silvermaster ring. On July 1, 1946, Coe had become the first Secretary of the Rothschild controlled International Monetary Fund (IMF). In 1950, Frank Coe arrived in China. Mao relied on this foreign spy on economical matters. In the year 1958 is Frank Coe was relocated to China full time. Coe eventually died in Beijing, China on June 2, 1980.

In 1950, the spy Jew Solomon Adler also had arrived in China. He served as advisor to the leadership, in the foreign affairs department. Solomon Adler had worked in the U. S. Treasury Department, serving as Rothschild's Treasury representative in China from 1938 to 1941. In 1944, Solomon Adler was a Treasury official in Chungking who was also a member of a NKVD espionage ring known as the Silvermaster group. Adler reported from China to Treasury Secretary Jew Henry Morgenthau, Jr. during the war years, while serving as Treasury attaché in China in 1944. He returned to China in the 1950s and remained there until his death. He worked as a translator, economic advisor, and possibly with the Central External Liaison Department, a Chinese intelligence agency. Adler eventually died in China on August 4, 1994.

Israel Epstein became the minister of appropriations, an extremely powerful position in a practically cashless era. Epstein's cover was journalism. His parents were Russian Jews who were imprisoned in Siberia for espionage.

Robert Lawrence Kuhn, another Jewish investment banker was "consultant" to the Chinese Communist Party.

Sidney Rittenberg was an American interpreter and scholar who lived in China from 1944 to 1979. He worked closely with Mao Zedong, military leader Zhu De, statesman Zhou Enlai, and other leaders of the Communist party during the war, and was with these central Communist leaders at Yanan. Under Mao, Rittenberg became chief of China's foreign intelligence department. He was the first American citizen to join the Chinese Communist Party (CCP). Sidney Shapiro was a politburo member. Mao had high-level meetings with Frank Coe, Israel Epstein, Elsie Fairfax-Cholmely, and Solomon Adler and others.

Brutal Repression

Mao with subterfuge, propaganda, and American moles in the FDR administration had eventually come to rule all of Mainland China. Mao's first political campaigns after founding the People's Republic were land reform and the suppression of counter-revolutionaries, which centered on mass executions, often before organized crowds. These campaigns of mass repression targeted former KMT officials, businessmen, former employees of Western companies, intellectuals whose loyalty was suspect, and significant numbers of rural gentry.

The U.S. State department in 1976 estimated that there may have been a million killed in the land reform, 800,000 killed in the counterrevolutionary campaign. Mao himself claimed a total of 700,000 killed during the years 1949–53. Because there was a policy to select "at least one landlord, and usually several, in virtually every village for public execution", 1 million deaths seems to be an absolute minimum, and many authors agree on a figure of between 2 million and 5 million dead. In addition, at least 1.5 million people were sent to labor" camps. Mao's personal role in ordering mass executions is undeniable. He defended these killings as necessary for the securing of power.

The Great Leap Forward

In January 1958, Mao launched the second Five-Year Plan known as the Great Leap Forward. Mao Zedong wanted to take control of agriculture, thereby establishing a monopoly over grain distribution and supply. This would allow the State to buy at a low price and sell much higher, thus raising the state capital. Coe was one of the Jews responsible for the Great Leap Foreword.

Peasants were brought under Party control by the establishment of agricultural collectives. All private food production was banned; livestock and farm implements were brought under collective ownership.

Internal passports were introduced in 1956 forbidding travel without appropriate authorization. The first phase of collectivization was not a great success and there was widespread famine in 1956, though the Party's propaganda machine announced progressively higher harvests.

Under the Great Leap Forward, Mao and other party leaders ordered the implementation of a variety of unproven and unscientific new agricultural techniques by the new communes. These techniques were as under.

Mao's Kill Sparrows Campaign :- Kill a sparrow campaign was launched in the Great Leap Forward from 1958 to 1962. It was decided that all the peasants in China should bang pots and pans and run around to make the sparrows fly away in fear. Sparrow nests were torn down, eggs were broken, their nestlings were also killed. By April 1960 the National Academy of Science found that sparrows ate insects more than seeds. As a result Mao ordered the end of the campaign against sparrows. However, it was too late. With no sparrows to eat them, the locust populations ballooned, swarming the country and compounding the problems already caused by the Great Leap Forward policies and adverse weather conditions, leading to the famine. From 1959 to 1961, an estimated 38 million people died of starvation.

Construction Projects Without Expertise :- Construction projects, such as irrigation works were often built without input from trained engineers. Moreover, most of the dams, canals and other infrastructure projects, which millions of peasants and prisoners had been forced to toil on and in many cases die for, proved useless as they had been built without the input of trained engineers, whom Mao had rejected on ideological grounds.

Deep Seeding :- A number of controversial agricultural innovations were promoted at the behest of Mao. In close cropping, seeds were sown far more densely than normal on the incorrect assumption that seeds of the same class would not compete with each other. Deep plowing was encouraged on the mistaken belief that this would yield plants with extra large root systems. It was argued that a proportion of fields should be left fallow.

Backyard Steel Furnaces :- In the August 1958 Politburo meetings, it was decided that steel production would be set to double within the year, mostly through backyard steel furnaces. Huge efforts on the part of peasants and other workers were made to produce steel out of scrap metal.

To fuel the furnaces the trees were cut and wood taken from the old doors and furniture of peasants' houses. Pots, pans, and other metal artifacts were requisitioned to supply the "scrap" for the furnaces so that the wildly optimistic production targets could be met. Many of the male agricultural workers were diverted from the harvest to help the iron production as were the workers at many factories, schools and even hospitals.

Mao's deep distrust of intellectuals led him to order this massive countrywide effort without consulting expert opinion. Without any experience of steel production or basic knowledge of metallurgy, the output consisted of low quality lumps of pig iron which was of negligible economic worth. Those aware of the folly of such a plan did not dare to voice criticism. Although the steel quotas were officially reached, almost all of it made in the countryside was useless lumps of iron, as it had been made from assorted scrap metal in home made furnaces.

The Result of Great Leap

In an effort to win favor with their superiors and avoid being purged, each layer in the party hierarchy exaggerated the amount of grain produced under them and based on the fabricated success. Party cadres were ordered to requisition a disproportionately high amount of the true harvest for state.

In fact, the diversion of labor to steel production and infrastructure projects and the reduced personal incentives under a commune system led successive drop in grain production. The net result, which was compounded in some areas by drought and in others by floods, was that the rural peasants were not left enough to eat and many millions starved to death in what is thought to be the largest famine in human history. This famine was a direct cause of the death of tens of millions of Chinese peasants between 1959 and 1962.

During 1958-1960 China continued to be a substantial net exporter of grain, despite the widespread famine in the countryside, as Mao sought to maintain face and convince the outside world the success of his plans.

Further, many children who became emaciated and malnourished during years of hardship and struggle for survival, died shortly after the Great Leap Forward came which ended in 1962.

The Hundred Flowers Campaign

As a result of failure of Great Leap Forward, Mao lost esteem among many of the top party cadres and was eventually forced to abandon the policy in 1962, also losing some political power to moderate leaders, notably Liu Shaoqi and Deng Xiaoping. However Mao was able to remain Chairman of the Communist Party, with the Presidency transferred to Liu Shaoqi.

The Hundred Flowers Campaign was launched by Mao, in which Mao indicated his willingness to consider different opinions about how China should be governed. Given the freedom to express themselves, liberal and intellectual Chinese began opposing the Communist Party and questioning its leadership. This was initially tolerated and encouraged.

Mao was surprised by the extent of criticism and the fact that it began to be directed at his own leadership. Therefore, after a few months, Mao reversed his policy and started persecuting those critical of his government. This led to the condemnation, silencing, and death of many citizens. Mao also started Anti-Rightist Movement, with death tolls possibly in the millions. At least half a million were purged under the Anti-Rightist campaign organized by Deng Xiaoping, which effectively silenced any opposition from within the Party or from agricultural experts to the changes which would be implemented under the Great Leap Forward.

Authors such as Jung Chang have alleged that the Hundred Flowers Campaign was merely a ruse to root out "dangerous" thinking. This was a ploy to allow critics of the regime, primarily intellectuals but also low ranking members of the party critical of the agricultural policies, to identify themselves.

In the Party Congress at Lushan in July/August 1959, several leaders expressed concern that the Great Leap Forward was not as successful as planned. The most direct of these was Minister of Defence and Korean War General Peng Dehuai. Mao, fearing loss of his position, orchestrated a purge of Peng and his supporters, stifling criticism of the Great Leap policies. Banister concluded that the official data implied that around 15 million excess deaths incurred in China during 1958-61 and that based on her modeling of Chinese demographics during the period and taking account of assumed underreporting during the famine years, the figure was around 30 million. The official statistic is 20 million deaths, as given by Hu Yaobang. Various other sources have put the figure between 20 and 72 million.

Cultural Revolution

Liu Shaoqi and Deng Xiaoping's prominence gradually became a challenge to Mao's position of power. Facing the prospect of losing his place on the political stage, Mao responded to Liu and Deng's movements by launching the Cultural Revolution in 1966. It was declared that liberal bourgeois (class enemies), continue to threaten the existing dictatorship of the proletariat therefore a Cultural Revolution must continue.

This allowed Mao to bypass the Communist hierarchy. He gave power directly to the Red Guards who were groups of young people, often teenagers, who set up their own tribunals. During the Cultural Revolution, Mao closed the schools in China and the young intellectuals living in cities were ordered to the countryside. They were forced to manufacture weapons for the Red Army.

In October 1966, Mao's Quotations From Chairman Mao Tse-Tung, which was known as the Little Red Book was published. Party members were encouraged to carry a copy with them and its possession was almost mandatory as a criterion for membership. Over the years, Mao's image became displayed almost everywhere, present in homes, offices and shops. His quotations were typographically emphasized by putting them in boldface or red type in even the most obscure writings. Music from the period emphasized Mao's stature, as did children's rhymes. The phrase Long Live Chairman Mao for ten thousand years was commonly heard during the era, which was traditionally a phrase reserved for the reigning Emperor.

The Revolution led to the destruction of much of China's cultural heritage and the imprisonment of a huge number of Chinese citizens, as well as creating general economic and social chaos in the country. Chaos reigned over the country, and millions were prosecuted, including a famous philosopher, Chen Yuen. Millions of lives were ruined during this period, as the Cultural Revolution pierced into every part of Chinese life, depicted by such Chinese films as To Live, The Blue Kite and Farewell My Concubine. It is estimated that hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, perished in the violence of the Cultural Revolution.

In 1965 onward Sidney Rittenberg, Solomon Adler, and other Jews had hijacked China Radio International, published editorials in People's Daily to incite the Cultural Revolution. Israel Epstein was a member of the Communist party of China. He was the Jew responsible for the Cultural Revolution. He wrote Mao's little book.

It was during this period that Mao had chosen Lin Biao, who seemed to echo all of Mao's ideas, to become his successor. Mao and Lin Biao formed an alliance leading up to the Cultural Revolution in order for the purges to succeed. Mao needed Lin's clout for his plan to work. In return, Lin was made Mao's successor. By 1971, however, because of Lin's grip over the military and Mao's own paranoia, a divide between the two men became clear, and it was unclear whether Lin was planning a military coup or an assassination attempt. Lin Biao died trying to flee China, probably anticipating his arrest, in a suspicious plane crash over Mongolia. It was declared that Lin was planning to depose Mao, and he was posthumously expelled from the CPC.

At this time, Mao lost trust in many of the top CPC figures. In 1969, Mao declared the Cultural Revolution to be over, although the official history of the People's Republic of China marks the end of the Cultural Revolution in 1976 with Mao's death.

Chapter X

The Jewish New World Order

Kennedy was Killed Like Abraham Lincoln

In 1963 President Kennedy issued dollar bills carrying a red seal called United States Note. On June 4, President Kennedy signed Executive Order No. 11110 that returned to the United States government the power to issue currency, without going through the Federal Reserve. This order gave the Treasury the power to issue silver certificates against any silver bullion, silver, or standard silver dollars in the Treasury. This meant that for every ounce of silver in the United States Treasury's vault, the government could introduce new debt free money into circulation. Some four and one half billion dollars went into public circulation, eroding interest payments to the Federal Reserve and loosening their control over the nation.

Five months later John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas Texas, and the United States Notes pulled out from circulation and destroyed.

In 1987 Edmond de Rothschild to transfer debts from third world countries created World Conservation Bank. In return these countries would give land to this bank. Rothschilds gains control of the third world which represents 30% of the land surface of the Earth. The world's bankers required to raise their capital and reserves to 8% of their liabilities by 1992. To raise the money, the world's bankers had to sell stocks which depressed their individual stock markets and began depressions in those countries. In Japan, the value of its stock market crashed by 50%, and its commercial real estate crashed by 60%, within two years.

They want to create more and more SDR's backed by nothing, to be borrowed by struggling nations. These nations will gradually come under the control of the IMF as they struggle to pay the interest, and have to again borrow. The IMF will then decide which nations can borrow more and which will starve. They can also use this as leverage to take state owned assets like utilities as payment against the debt until they eventually own the nation states.

A leaked out World Bank document called as Master Plan for Brazil spells out five requirements. These are : Reduce Salary/Benefits, Reduce Pensions, Increase Work Hours, Reduce Job Stability, Reduce Employment.

Real Meaning of Globalization

The term 'globalization' is a gross distortion. Labor remains as trapped in national boundaries. Capital is armed with freedom of entry and exit worldwide allowing it to maximize its exploitation of labor worldwide. Continued extraction of debt payments of the third world; depression of the prices of raw materials exported by third world countries; removal of tariff protection for their vulnerable productive sectors; removal of restraints on foreign direct investment, allowing giant foreign corporations to grab larger sectors of the third world's economies; removal of restraints on the entry and exit of massive flows of speculative international capital; reduction of State spending on productive activity, development and welfare; privatization of activities, assets and natural resources; sharp increases in the cost of essential services and goods such as electricity, fuel, health care, education, transport, and food; withdrawal of subsidized credit earlier directed to starved sectors; dismantling of workers' security of employment; reduction of the share of wages in the social product; suppression of domestic industry in the third world and closures of manufacturing firms on a massive scale; ruination of independent small industries; ruination of the handicraft/hand-loom sector; replacement of subsistence crops with cash crops; destruction of food security; removal of ceilings on landholdings; dispossession of tribal lands and the handing over of forests to corporate interests; developing dependence of peasants on profoundly hazardous products of biotechnology; dumping of hazardous wastes in, and the shifting of harmful processes to the third world; use of women as factory labor; growth of prostitution amid large-scale unemployment; invasion of images aimed at making women consumers of the beauty industry; entry of multinational media corporations and their cultural products; and systematic development of islands of consumerism amid a vast sea of poverty. (<http://www.rupe-india.org/35/globalisation.html> Introduction 'Globalisation')

Central bankers planned global government in three steps. These steps are : 1) Central Bank domination of national economies worldwide. 2) Centralized regional economies through super states such as the European Union, and regional trade unions such as NAFTA. 3) Centralize the World Economy through a World Central Bank, a world money, and ending national independence through the abolition of all tariffs by treaties like GATT.

The Dollar Crisis

In 1970, France notified the United States government that they would exercise their option under Bretton Woods to return the paper notes for gold at the $35 per ounce exchange rate. The United States was unable to pay gold, so on August 15th, 1971, Richard Nixon "temporarily" suspended the gold convertibility of the US Federal Reserve Notes. This move effectively ended Bretton Woods and many global currencies started to delink from the US dollar.

The German government asked for the return of some of their gold bullion from the Bank of France and the New York Federal Reserve. France has said it will take 5 years to return Germany's gold. The United States has said they will need 8 years to return Germany's gold. Bank of France and the NY Federal Reserve seems to have used the gold for other purposes, Mexico demanded a physical audit of their gold bullion stored at the Bank of England.

Foreign nations began to get very nervous about their loans to the US and were reluctant to loan any additional money to the United States without some form of collateral. So Richard Nixon started the environmental movement, with its various programs such as "wilderness zones", "Road less areas", "Heritage rivers", "Wetlands", all of which took vast areas of public lands and made them off limits to the American people. The real purpose of this land grab under the guise of the environment was to pledge those pristine lands and their vast mineral resources as collateral on the national debt. Land almost 25% of the nation itself.

The Petrodollar

With open lands for collateral already in short supply, the US Government embarked on a new program to shore up sagging international demand for the dollar. The United States approached the world's oil producing nations, mostly in the Middle East, and offered them a deal. In exchange for only selling their oil for dollars, the United States would guarantee the military safety of those oil-rich nations. Saudi Arabia receive such protection. The concept was labeled as the "petrodollar".

But as America's manufacturing and agriculture has declined, the oil producing nations faced a dilemma. Those piles of US Federal Reserve notes were not able to purchase much from the United States because the United States had little other than real estate anyone wanted to buy. Europe's cars and aircraft were superior and less costly, while experiments with GMO food crops led to nations refusing to buy US food exports. Israel's constant belligerence against its neighbors caused them to wonder if the US could actually keep their petrodollar arrangement.

Oil producing nations wanted selling their oil for other currency. Iraq, demanded the right to sell their oil for Euros in 2000 and in 2002, the United Nations agreed to allow it under the "Oil for food" program instituted following Desert Storm. One year later the United States re-invaded Iraq under the lie of Saddam's nuclear weapons, lynched Saddam Hussein, and placed Iraq's oil back on the world market only for US dollars.

The European Union

The EU Commission was founded in 1993. The EU Parliament is simply an advisory organ with no legislative powers. The EU Council (the government) is dependent upon propositions from the EU Commission in order to make its decisions. The EU Commission has the real power and can make decisions with 8 out of 17 members present. The deliberations are not public and the minutes are classified. Their deliberations were likewise kept secret. When the EU was founded on the 1st November 1993, the chairman of the EU Commission, Jacques Delors, was given more power than the governments of the member states. (Under the sign of scorpion by Juri Lina)

The European Union had been courting the government of the Ukraine to merge with the EU, and more to the point, entangle their economy with the private-owned European Central Bank. The government of the Ukraine had made no commitments. Part of their concern lay with the conditions in other EU nations enslaved to the European Central Bank, notably Cyprus, Greece, Spain, and Italy. So they were very cautious. Then Russia stepped in with a better deal and the Ukraine dropped the EU and announced they were going to go with Russia's offer.

It was at that point that agents provocateurs flooded into the Ukraine, covertly funded by intelligence agency fronts like CANVAS and USAID, stirring up trouble, while the western media proclaimed this was a popular revolution. Snipers shot at people and this violence was blamed on then-President Yanukovich. A leaked recording of a phone call between the European Union's Catherine Ashton and Estonia's Foreign Minister Urmas Paet confirmed the snipers were working for the overthrow plotters, not the Ukrainian government. Urmas Paet has confirmed the authenticity of that phone call.

This is a classic pattern of covert overthrow. Since the end of WW2, the US has covertly tried to overthrow the governments of 56 nations, succeeding 25 times. Examples include the 1953 overthrow of Iran's elected government of Mohammed Mossadegh and the imposition of the Shah, the 1973 overthrow of Chile's elected government of Salvador Allende and the imposition of the Pinochet dictatorship, and of course, the current overthrow of Ukraine's elected government of Yanukovich and the imposition of the current unelected government, which is handing Ukraine's wealth to the western bankers.

Clash of Civilization : World War III Agenda

In Libya, Muammar Gaddafi had a state-owned central bank and Gold Dinar as a value based trade currency. Gaddafi announced that Libya's oil was for sale, but only for the Gold Dinar. Other African nations, seeing the rise of the Gold Dinar and the Euro, flocked to the new Libyan currency for trade. This move had the potential to seriously undermine the global hegemony of the dollar. United States invaded Libya, brutally murdered Qaddafi, imposed a private central bank, and returned Libya's oil output to dollars only.

The private central bankers allow rulers to rule only on the condition that the people of a nation be enslaved to the private central banks. Failing that, their nation will be invaded by nations enslaved to private central banks. The so-called "clash of civilizations" is a war between banking systems. The constant hate mongering against Muslims lies in a simple fact that like the ancient Christians, Muslims forbid usury, or the lending of money at interest.

They refuse to submit to currencies issued at interest. They refuse to be debt slaves. Therefore, bankers insist they must be killed or converted.

The war agenda is, to force Iran's oil to be sold only for dollars and to force them to accept a privately owned central bank. Venezuela's vast oil reserves are larger than Saudi Arabia, Because of Venezuela's gold mines Venezuela is their target.

Formation of BRICS

Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa have formed a parallel financial system called BRICS. Some 80 nations are ready to trade with BRICS in transactions that do not involve the US dollar. Despite US economic warfare against both Russia and China, the Ruble and Yuan are seen as more attractive for international trade and banking than the US dollar. Therefore the US is attempting to fan the Ukraine crisis into war with Russia, and attempting to provoke other countries to war with China.

China an Agent of Jewish New World Order

The Jews in the West established Communism in China by working with the Jews within Asia. A well known Communist Agent in Manchuria was Abrams, an Asian Jew. Today the Jews still run China. The higher in rank and power to the top of the Communist Party, the more Asian Jewish names appear. This is no different from the former Soviet Union.

Today the International Jews have systematically built up Red China into a major economic and military power, as was done with their former Soviet Union. China has been built up into the biggest global superpower by the Jewish financial elite and every valuable Western technology has been shipped there. This was identical to what the Jews did with their USSR, turning it into a massive super state of military superpower, to wage conquest upon the rest of the earth, which they did.

This does not mean that the people of China are benefiting from this so called progress as the this progress only implies progress of multi-national companies in the respective area of so called development. They control the financial reins of the government. China's growing debt to financial agencies indicates that Rothschild is working efficiently in China, forcing that country into the Rothschild NWO finance submission.

Thanks to Jewish control over American government, thousands of factories have left the United States and moved to China obviously to exploit cheap Chinese labor leading them to become more rich. They control the Chinese leaders and consequently Chinese government from behind the curtain.

In America millions upon millions of manufacturing jobs have been lost. The Economic Policy Institute in Washington, D.C., estimates that America lost 2.7 million jobs as a result of the U.S.-China trade deficit between 2001 and 2011, 2.1 million of them in manufacturing. Wages of American workers have also suffered due to the competition with cheap Chinese labor. A typical two-earner household loses around $2,500 per year from this dynamic. In 2011, the total U.S. trade deficit with China was $301.6 billion. The United States has become a nation that consumes everything in sight and yet produces increasingly little.

The American economy is declining, unemployment is at record levels, the nation's infrastructure is crumbling, and its military is overextended. American corporations are moving headquarters to foreign countries, and the nation's budget deficit is humongous. As the U.S. government goes deeper into debt and loses influence around the world Beijing is rising. China's military has modern missiles, nuclear bombs, and nuclear submarines and is globally capable.

Red China now has the world's second largest economy and by 2020 will topple the U.S.A. China's steel, aluminum, and copper companies are thriving. PetroChina is fifth among petroleum conglomerates and by 2015 will replace Exxon-Mobil as the world's largest. China's HSBC bank is rising fast and now controls the world gold markets. Even traditional U.S. allies are rushing to join a controversial Communist Chinese-led international bank advancing globalization and so-called "global governance." The Shanghai-based Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB) already includes many of the world's most powerful governments, with its list of prospective founding members growing to almost 50.

The Rothschilds have huge interests in China. The Rothschild dynasty own 500 trillion dollars – more than half of the money of the world – and control the rest through their central banks, incl. The Peoples' Bank of China, the FED and the ECB, the World Bank, the IMF is owned by Rothschild and 30-40 of the world's richest families. They are the loaners to governments and minor banks. They own / control Corporations.

Rothschild's presence in China dates back to 1838. They were one of the first business institutions from the Western world to re-establish relations after 1953. China's new Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB) is also a Rothschild bank to get the countries of the world into Rothschild pockets. The IMF, the World Bank and the Asian Development Bank have expressed their support for the China-led international bank and the US now proposes to work in partnership Beijing is fully on-board with the globalist agenda. Despite efforts to paint the AIIB as a potential 'rival' to existing globalist institutions such as the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank, the Beijing-led bank will fit nicely with what the Communist Chinese regime and Western globalists all regularly refer to as the emerging 'New World Order. Therefore, World Bank and the Communist Party of China-controlled AIIB are going to be proud partners in globalism. As per its first official joint financing agreement with the globalist World Bank, the two transnational mega-banks agreed to a "co-financing framework" that will facilitate joint AIIB-World Bank projects. World Bank, infamous for financing brutality, mass displacements, globalism, and even killings, will take the lead on joint projects.

Soon the whole world will come under the slavery of Rothschild financial Empire. George Soros, billionaire Rothschild associate, says that, "China will lead the New World Order." Soros also warned Americans against resisting the new global financial system.

According to Talmud, king of the Jews must rule from Israel and they conqueror and destroy all the Goyim nations and destroy their gods, races and, nations and cultures. When this happens the Jewish world will be united under their Messiah to rule the Goyim with a Rod of Iron as their holy texts state. They will then initiate by their texts a total planetary holocaust of billions of human beings. The holiest days in Judaism celebrate military victories and the mass slaughter of Jewish enemies such as Passover, Purim, Hanukkah.

Bankers are determined to bring their Jewish New World Order based on the teachings of Talmud. They have already destroyed everything that came in their way. They have destroyed whole cities to please themselves sadistically. Fire bombing of German city Dresden where US and British planes dropped 3300 tons of incendiary bombs burning 3-5 lacks people to death. On the night of March 9-10, 1945, an air attack on Tokyo by American heavy bombers, using incendiary and high explosive bombs, caused the death of 83,793 people. Deaths by dropping nuclear bombs on Hiroshime, Nagassaki and killing innocent people of Iraq through their economical blockade, in Vietnam and other countries number of deaths is several millions and are eye-opening examples.

They have armies of debt-slave countries of the world at their disposal. They have CIA, Mossad etc and control most of the secret services of the nations to crush anything that comes in their way.

Their Torah predicted total planetary holocaust would leave only a few hundred million, micro chipped Goyim (non-Jews) who will exist as cattle property in a brutal Orwellian system to serve and be raped by the Jews night and day as the Torah states the Goyim are for. The Jews will become God. This is meaning of the Jewish religion and the instructions for this is in their Torah. The Rothschild's believe this. They own and created Israel to rule the world from and have been pushing this Messianic agenda which others Jews have done for centuries before the Rothschild's. The Rothschild's will rule as the Messianic Jewish Kings from Israel thus fulfilling the Messianic mission of Judaism by actualizing it into reality.

Chapter XI

Communist Parties of India and of other Countries

Communist parties to serve the interest of world Jewish banking Cartel, should always remain in the hands of elite and privileged communities and castes of the respective countries. Under no circumstances communists parties should come under the control of exploited and oppressed masses.

To meet above objective following measures are undertaken :-

2) Principle of Dictatorship :- In history of mankind a dictatorship always belonged to few privileged persons and there always has been a super dictator known by various names such as king, monarch and so on.

Because "Dictatorship is always opposite of Liberty, there can be no liberty and democracy under any dictatorship.

It is impossible that common masses who are uneducated, illiterate, economically broken and physically straining themselves for more than 8 hours to survive to even become leader of a small organization.

Therefore, the slogan of "Dictatorship of Workers in reality simply means dictatorship of party leaders belonging to elite and privileged ethnic or racial sections. In India, leadership of communist parties from top to bottom belongs to Brahmins and other so called Savarna castes. In other countries they belong to Jews and other privileged ethnic sections of the respective area or region.

These privileged sections resist by every possible means to anything that threaten their caste leadership.

2) Principle of Central Democracy :- This principle in itself is paradox since democracy and centralism can never coexist. Centralism is a form of dictatorship in itself. According to this principle, party members must obey the decisions and commands of the central leadership. The ruse is, these decisions are taken democratically by the central leadership.

The control of common masses over an organization can only be achieved through applying the "Principle of Decentralization" where masses directly control the persons chosen to implements decisions taken by people at grass root levels.

3) Economic factors as Ultimate Criteria :- Factors such as caste, religion, personal instincts, socio-cultural values etc are considered of no importance. This ensures that a vast majority of masses can never voice exploitation and oppression resulting from caste, religion, nationality, language, region and so on. It is used to sabotage movements against such exploitation and oppressions because the perpetrators always belong to elite ethnic sections.

Economic principle is deliberately chosen to manipulate labor unions to profit or destroy certain economical units or putting state apparatus stand still in the interest of the Jewish Banking Cartel.

4) Utopia of Communism :- So called Communism is nothing but an attractive bait to entrap workers in communist parties and trade unions which are created to serve the Interests of Jewish Banking Cartel and also the interests of elite castes and communities of various countries who have become their natural allies. In reality communism is a worst state of exploitation ever existed in the history of mankind.

5) Cultivated Hypocrisy :- Communist leadership has reduced their cadres into hypocrites. Behind the propaganda of being progressive, in reality communists are worst kind of conservatives and orthodox. They consider non-communist literature including science as reactionary and of bourgeois. Thus they do not want to know different views and stick to what is preached by Marx, Engels, Lenin and Mao. Even those who try to apply communist principles as their material conditions permit are considered as revisionist.

In India, you will find most conservatives Brahmin led parties such as BJP etc recognize Phule, Shahu, Ambedkar etc social revolutionaries and display their photographs in their party offices (of course to fool Bahujan Masses). Communist parties on the other hand denounce these social revolutionaries, on the pretext that their struggle was not on Marxist lines.

6) Hatred For Oppressed Communities :- Like Marx, Brahmin Communist Leadership of India hates exploited and oppressed communities of India. Therefore Brahmin communist leadership of India has always sabotaged struggles of Dalits and OBCs.

Communist leadership hate Non-Brahmin revolutionaries. For example, in India, Narayan Meghaji Lokhande was first to form a trade union. He had launched first labor strike in India. In spite of that Communist parties of India has completely boycotted Narayaan Meghaji Lokhande because he belonged to backward OBC caste category.

Similarly, The first peasant strike in India was carried for more than a year by Dalit Social revolutionary Ayyankali. During this period Landlords applied every brutal tactics including violent attacks and economic blockade of peasants. Ayyankali with the help of his social engineering and inter-community cooperation not only sustained their evil tactics and attacks but ultimately caused landlords to surrender and accept demands of peasants.

Like Narayaan Meghaji Lokhande, communist leadership has completely boycotted Ayyankali. Such is the height of hatred of Brahmin communist leadership for Dalits and OBCs of India.

In west Bengal communists ruled for several decades. Brahmin Communist leadership ensured that constitutionally approved reservations for SC, ST and OBC in jobs and education is not implemented. Brahmin communist leadership openly denounce reservation.

Brahmin leadership of communist parties of India has committed vengeance against Bengali Dalits by deliberately handing over non-Muslim dalit majority districts to Pakistan to divide dalit population of Bengal. When Bengali Dalits had to flee from East Pakistan and later from Bangla Desh as a result of atrocities on Dalits committed by Brahmins converted to Islam, Brahmin communist leadership of India persecuted Bengali Dalits in every manner. Their Genocides were committed such as in Morichzapi.

Bengali Dalit refugees living over several decades in India are banned of citizenship and are being hunted for their forced deportation.

7) Present Status of Communist Parties of India :- Communist parties are exposed and proved to be anti-masses. Therefore, their mass support is drastically eroded. A very small portion of people are still under their illusion. Since communist leadership has nothing to do with masses, they do not attempt to organize masses. Doing so will also endanger Brahmin leadership.

Because there are communist party office buildings all over India, there are so called communist leaders who enjoy various benefits from these buildings and therefore give little flesh to skeletons of the communist parties.

All ruling parties to serve the interests of industrialists take measures that cause economical and other disadvantages to working people. To ensure that workers' anger do not cause them any harm they have raised their own trade unions. These unions after little fake struggle give little exemption from the anti-worker measures implemented.

Communist trade union leaders gather into their camps the workers who are still disgruntled and are ready go for further struggle such as strikes and so on. It is alleged that from behind the curtain communist leaders betray laborers and earn commissions from the industrialists. The communists trade union leaders mislead their struggle in such a way that many workers loose their jobs, and most of them suffer starvation.

Communist leaders in general exploit workers by means of membership fees, commission for any work done, vote for party and so on.

The above reality sometimes becomes obscured if the workers are more cautious or some trade union leaders are really honest in their struggle. Under such situations the workers may really win. Such wins ultimately adds to the credit of Communist party and their top Arya-Brahminist Leaders enabling them to further dupe the workers and masses.

Communist leadership in India is simply a community of parasites feeding itself upon the exploited and oppressed masses.

Chapter XII

Is There Any Escape ?

If you want to establish Social Justice for exploited and oppressed masses where every section of people receives its share in every field of life according to their population proportion, you will have to keep in mind brutal character of the exploiters and oppressors and prepare yourselves accordingly by choosing appropriate form of organization that meets the above purpose.

All formal organizations are made up of pyramid structure and essentially yield all powers in the hands of few elites from the privileged sections, castes, communities or race.

Leaders of such formal organizations are always those who do not need to labor for their survival and have full time to lead the organization. Such leaders being power mongers can be easily corrupted.

Bankers are happy with formal organizations because they can easily buy their leaders, can easily blackmail them, can easily infiltrate and distract and even split any formal organization. If needed they can dump the whole organization into jails and in concentration camps.

Organizations for Social Justice

Therefore, we need really strong men free from laziness, greed and envy and who are completely dedicated to social Justice. We need dedication to social justice and not to the organization itself since no single organization can fight at all fronts such as economical, educational, religious, legal, peasants, students, womens etc and also face armed terrorists organizations of the exploiters. Therefore, everybody of us need to support all missionary activities no matter which organizations are carrying them, while everybody of us working for the activity one has chosen considering his own potentials, liabilities and responsibilities.

Every activity is missionary activity if it weakens the exploiters and their exploitation system and strengthens and empowers the masses in progression.

Such activities can be carried at individual level, family level and social level with almost no risk involved with assured positive results. These activities are described as "genuine struggle" at our website :

<https://www.bahujanmarch.org>

These activities fall under 1) Individual empowerment 2) Family Empowerment and 3) Social Empowerment. First two are of at most importance since they are almost immune to direct interference of exploiters and empowers the individuals or their families in progression.

Any activity that does not fulfill this criterion is not a missionary activity. They are meant to deceive people. Such activities are described as "Fake Struggle" at our website - <https://www.bahujanmarch.org>

To conduct activities at "socio-political level", small informal groups of 1-5 persons having self-chosen level of discipline (needed for the tasks undertaken), will work for chosen missionary activity / activities by taking unanimous decisions. Unanimity of decision is basic criteria for implementing any activity and will be implemented only by those who decide proposed activity unanimously. Members differing should secede and form their own informal group to carryout an activity in their own way.

These small informal unconnected groups, expressing the very essence of popular instincts, work among the masses. It does not threaten the freedom of the people, because they lack official position all times. They influence the people exclusively through the natural, personal influence of its members. They would suggest actions in a given situation and with the approval of people implement it as one of the common element of the people.

Everybody assumes different responsibilities in different situations and nobody in masses is post holder because there are no such posts at all. There are only different responsibilities in different situations. These invisible groups should be scattered in an unseen web throughout the regions, districts and localities to direct the spontaneous movements of the people arising out of situations, towards the Social Justice as a natural development of each movement.

The informal groups must not attempt to take over and lead the movement but clarify goals, put forward propaganda, and work out ideas in correspondence with the instincts of the masses. They should ensure that people do not undertake any self-harming activities. Rather their every activity should harm and weaken the exploiters and their exploitation system. To go beyond this would undermine the whole self-liberating purpose of the Social Justice.

The informal groups should act as a catalysts to the movements of exploited and oppressed people and is expected to fully immerse itself in the movement. We need universal striving for Social Justice to make it a success.

References

Books and PDF Documents

A Critique of Marxism by Sam Dolgoff, First published by Soil of Liberty, Minneapolis, 1983. www.zabalazabooks.net

A Sea of Blood The Truth about Bolshevik Russia By Dr. Gregor, First Edition published in 1926 by the German Folk Publishing House, Munich, Germany, Dr. E. Boepple

Emma Goldman : My Disillusionment in Russia, 1923, The Anarchist Library

Marxism Unmasked: From Delusion to Destruction By Ludwig Von Mises, Foundation For Economic Education Irvington-on-Hudson, NY 10533

Mullins' New History of the Jews by Eustace Mullins published by The International Institute of Jewish Studies, 126 Madison Place Staunton, Virginia 24401

The History of Money From Its Origins to Our Time

N.W.O. Forbidden History

Under the sign of Scorpion by Juri Lina

All Wars Are Bankers' Wars! by Michael Rivero

Marx and Satan By Richard Wurmbrand

Red Jenny A Life with Karl Marx, by H.F. Peters, St. Martin's Press New York , ISBN 0-312-00005-7

Marx and Anarchism by Rudolf Rocker, 1925, The Anarchist Library Anti-Copyright

Karl Marx Debunked by Leon Hamilton, Social Justice

Socialism Study Guide, AP European History by Mr. Mercado

Origin of the Family, Private Property, and the State by Friedrich Engels, Written: March-May, 1884; First Published : October 1884, in Hottingen-Zurich; Source: Marx/Engels Selected Works, Volume Three

Marx, Engels, and the Abolition of the family by Richard Weikart, History of European Ideas, Vol. 18, No. 5, pp. 657-672, 1994 0191-6599 (93) E0194-6 _ . Copyright c 1994 Elsevier Science Ltd Printed in Great Britain

Marxism as Pseudo Science by Ernest Van Den Haag Fordham University

Karl Marx : The almost Capitalist By Louis O. Kelso, American Bar Association Journal, March 1957

Karl Marx: A Failed Vision of History

Statism and Anarchy

Edward Jenks, The State and the Nation, 1919

Michael Bakunin Selected Writings, , Edited and Introduced by Arthur Lehning, Jonathan Cape Thirty Bedford Square London

The French Revolution and the Idea of the Nation

The Bolshevik Myth (Diary 1920–22) by Alexander Berkman, The Anarchist Library

The Secret Powers Behind Revolution Freemasonry and Judaism, By Vi-compte Leon De Poncix, Omni /Christian Book Club P.O. Box 900566, Palm-dale , CA 93590

Writings of Leon Trotsky [1929], PATHFINDER PRESS, INC. NEW YORK, First Edition, 1975

The Chronology of the Jews of Shanghai from 1832 to the Present Day

Web Pages

<http://www.mileswmathis.com/Reading the Signs, by Miles Mathis First published November 23, 2014>

[http://transmissionsmedia.com/Wall Street Funded Both Communists and Nazis \_ Transmissions.html](http://transmissionsmedia.com/Wall Street Funded Both Communists and Nazis _ Transmissions.html)

[http://www.thedailydigest.org/Rothschild World Government Take Over Timeline \_ The Daily Digest.html](http://www.thedailydigest.org/Rothschild World Government Take Over Timeline _ The Daily Digest.html)

<http://www.unique-design.net/Karl Marx, oops! I mean Groucho Marx councils us - Who are you going to believe me or your own two eyes.html>

<https://www.stormfront.org/Jewish Bankers Again Target Russia for Revolution - Stormfront.>

htm

<https://www.henrymakow.com/How to Make Sense of Current Events - henrymakow.com.html>

<http://www.rupe-india.org/35/globalisation.html> Introduction 'Globalisation'

<http://www.biblebelievers.org.au> Murder by Injection Chapter 10 The Rockefeller Syndicate by Eustace Mullins

<http://www.apfn.org/apfn.htm> The Rockefeller Syndicate

[http://www.thedailydigest.org/Rothschild World Government Take Over Timeline \_ The Daily Digest.html](http://www.thedailydigest.org/Rothschild World Government Take Over Timeline _ The Daily Digest.html)

<https://www.henrymakow.com/How to Make Sense of Current Events - henrymakow.com.htm>

<https://www.henrymakow.com/How to Make Sense of Current Events - henrymakow.com.htm>

Death of communism part 2 by <http://www.deathofcommunism.josru.com>

[https://www.psychologytoday.com/How Hunter-Gatherers Maintained Their Egalitarian Ways \_ Psychology Today](https://www.psychologytoday.com/How Hunter-Gatherers Maintained Their Egalitarian Ways _ Psychology Today)

<http://zioncrimefactory.com/> The Jew World Order Unmasked by ZionCrimeFactory

<http://www.mileswmathis.com/Reading the Signs, by Miles Mathis First published November 23, 2014>

[http://transmissionsmedia.com/Wall Street Funded Both Communists and Nazis \_ Transmissions.html](http://transmissionsmedia.com/Wall Street Funded Both Communists and Nazis _ Transmissions.html)

[http://www.thedailydigest.org/Rothschild World Government Take Over Timeline \_ The Daily Digest.html](http://www.thedailydigest.org/Rothschild World Government Take Over Timeline _ The Daily Digest.html)

<http://www.unique-design.net/Karl Marx, oops! I mean Groucho Marx councils us - Who are you going to believe me or your own two eyes.html>

<https://www.henrymakow.com/How to Make Sense of Current Events - henrymakow.com.html>

<http://www.rupe-india.org/35/globalisation.html> Introduction 'Globalisation'

<http://www.biblebelievers.org.au> Murder by Injection Chapter 10 The Rockefeller Syndicate by Eustace Mullins

<http://www.apfn.org/apfn.htm> The Rockefeller Syndicate

<http://international.ucla.edu/asia/mao491216.htm> (Conversation between the Soviet Union's Joseph Stalin and China's Mao Zedong December 16, 1949)

Mao Zedong From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Mao: The Unknown Story From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

<https://lipstick-and-war-crimes.org/> Mao Was a Yale Man - Rothschilds Create People's Republic of China - The Book Lipstick and War Crimes by Ray Songtree.html

Great Leap Forward From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

History of banking in China From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

<http://theinfounderground.com/smf/index.php?PHPSESSID=8c366a111329380f98b355e-6f9e94101&topic=12486.msg48354#msg48354> (Timeline: Jewish Subversion in China)

<https://www.thenewamerican.com/> U.S. Allies Join Communist Chinese-led International Bank.htm

<http://batr.org/forbidden/> Red China is a Creation of Globalists.htm

<http://www.theeuropeangreens.eu/> Are China, Russia and the rest of the world dismantling the Jewish allergy within their nations, or is this another game of Divide and Conquer - THE EUROPEAN GREENS (Eng).htm

<https://www.thenewamerican.com/> China Betrayed Into Communism.htm

written by James Perloff

<http://smoloko.com/> China is owned by the Illuminati Jewish Bankers – do not be fooled – Smoloko.htm

<https://www.thenewamerican.com/> Chinese Mega-bank Partners With World Bank for New World Order.htm

<https://lorddreadnought.livejournal.com/> Communist China was created by the Jews and serves their interests.%20 lorddreadnought.htm

<http://www.biblebelievers.org.au/>Hong Kong, the Land Built on Opium

<http://www.jewsofchina.org/> The Jewish Community of China.htm

<https://www.jpost.com/> Honoring the millennial friendship between Jews and China - Opinion - Jerusalem Post.htm

<http://www.jewwatch.com/>Jewish Faces in the Chinese Government.htm

<https://www.henrymakow.com/>Mao's Monstrous Record Has Been Suppressed - henrymakow.com.htm

<http://www.texemarrs.com/> The Illuminati and Its Triad of Evil.htm

<http://factsanddetails.com/> TRIADS AND ORGANIZED CRIME IN CHINA%20%20 Facts and Details.htm

-----